JEAN ACKER ASKED FACTS OF DIVORCE

Valentino's Recent Marriage to Miss Hudnut Is Being Investigated
PROOF OF BIGAMY SOUGHT
 By the Associated Press
 Los Angeles, May 17.—Jean Ackers, film actress, from whom Rudolph Valentino, film actor, obtained an interlocking divorce a few months ago, was under instructions today to report to the District Attorney's office to tell what she knows of the facts in the court action which gave Valentino a divorce, but left him technically her husband for a year.
 Thomas McClelland, Deputy District Attorney, sent a summons to Miss Ackers and at the same time assigned investigators to learn whether Valentino committed bigamy, according to the California laws, when he married Winifred Hudnut, dancer and film actress, known professionally as Natacha Rambova, at Mexico last Saturday.
 Los Angeles Superior Court Judge has stated informally that such a marriage as that of Valentino and Miss Hudnut is bigamous.
 Miss Hudnut's name was introduced into the divorce trial through the identification of a picture of her and Valentino.
 The first legal action was taken by Miss Ackers. She filed a suit for separate maintenance, alleging Valentino had not supported her. She asserted that when she married him he had nothing; that partly through her efforts he gained fame as an actor and that then he failed to support her.
 On a cross-complaint, Valentino asked for a divorce, declaring Miss Ackers had deserted him. On the witness stand he detailed alleged attempts to persuade her to return to him and made the declaration "she scented her and loved her" and he would take her back if she would go back to him. According to Douglas Gerard, film director and gossip columnist at Valentino's wedding to Miss Hudnut, the actor "went into the ceremony in good faith."
 He said Valentino is at Palm Springs, Calif., and plans to remain there "for the present."

PEERLESS
 Talk to a Peerless Owner Before You Buy Your New Automobile
 We do not know a more thorough or more satisfactory way for you to learn the remarkable investment value of the Peerless than by discussing the car with an owner. Such a discussion will very often result in the owner inviting you to ride in the car, and drive it yourself, so that you may substantiate his enthusiastic claims of the superiority of Peerless performance.
 A Peerless owner will give you a demonstration such as you never had before, and he will have nothing to gain beyond his natural desire to have you share the genuine pleasure which he enjoys from his motoring.
 From this unbiased and impartial source you will discover the marvels of performance which inspire the Peerless owner's eagerness to submit his car to the most exacting comparisons with automobiles in the highest price range.
 You will begin to sense the reasons for the owner's satisfaction, and, if you analyze these reasons you will find that they are the inevitable result of the meticulous care exercised at the Peerless Works—in the purchase of materials, in the precise workmanship and in every detail of the superb finish.
 Let us refer you, at random, to some of the buyers of the present series Peerless, manufactured by R. H. Collins and his associates, and let them tell you why they regard the Peerless as the greatest value on the market today.

BELGIAN GIRL HEROINE BREAKS BAN ON ALIENS

Mlle. Galle Secures Marriage License on Being Admitted to U. S.
 New York, May 17.—Mlle. Laure Galle, twenty-three-year-old Belgian spy and fiancée of Camille Asp, whom she met while she was a nurse in a French hospital, has won her right against deportation by having the Belgian quota increased by six. She left Ellis Island in the company of her fiancé and went directly to the Municipal Building, where a marriage license was taken out.
 Pressure in her behalf was brought upon immigration officials in Washington by members of the diplomatic corps.
 The girl was decorated by King Albert for bravery in concealing a Belgian officer in the attic of the hotel owned by her mother in Lille. She also is known to have thrown a bottle in the face of a German officer who attempted to insult her. She spent two years in German prisons, and only escaped execution through the coming of the armistice.

THRILLING MANHUNT IN N. Y.

Four Alleged Burglars Caught After Nine-Hour Search
 New York, May 17.—(By A. P.)—Four men were arrested in a loft building at Twentieth street and Fifth avenue today after the police had searched more than nine hours for burglars. All traffic was diverted from the block and a solid cordon of officers was maintained about it. It was the most exciting man hunt in New York for years.
 The men were believed to have been seeking $120,000 reported to be stored there Tuesday night in a safe in the building. Penetrating into the building in which the crooks were working against the adjacent wall, the detectives burst into the wall and a complete burglar outfit, including dynamite, nitroglycerin and storage batteries with wires attached for setting off the blast.

PRESTON GIBSON SEEKS REUNION WITH HIS WIFE

Playwright Goes Abroad in Effort to Effect Reconciliation
 New York, May 17.—When Preston Gibson, playwright, failed to appear before Supreme Court Justice Colahan on an order for examination in connection with suit brought against him by the Marine Magazine Company, it developed he had gone abroad in an effort to effect a reconciliation with his wife, Mrs. Beatrice M. Benjamin Pratt Gibson, who has been in Europe since last fall.
 Mrs. Gibson was reported last fall as seeking a divorce following a reconciliation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Benjamin, whom she sued for an accounting seven her father ordered her a divorce from $80,000 to $200,000 a year.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 164—An Instantaneous Knot.
 A handkerchief is held by corners diagonally opposite, between the fingers of each hand. The hands are merely brought together and drawn apart quite rapidly. A knot has appeared in the center of the cloth.
 The trick depends upon a shift of fingers, executed when the hands come together. Hold the handkerchief exactly as shown in the first figure, each corner between the first and second fingers. As the hands come together, the left hand is turned back up, while the right thumb comes up under the handkerchief. (Fig. 2.) As the hands meet, the left end of the handkerchief is clipped between the thumb and second finger of the right hand, and the right end is similarly taken by the left hand. The forefingers are raised, releasing the original hold, and the hands are simply drawn apart. The knot is tied automatically.
