Hats Sweaters

Women's & Misses' Again Dorothy's Shopping Column Says:

4. Is the tweed hat becoming a bit warm just now? No matter how smart it may be, one does want to be comfortable; but if one can combine smartness and comfort, then one is lucky indeed. But the newest thing in sport hats furnishes both smartness and solid comfort, and for wearing with the new gingham frock it is the most fetching thing one could find. Let me tell you about it. It is the hatted leghorn, which as one shop is showing for $7.50. These hats are really the very prettiest things one could find. The straw is of the best, and the shape most fascinating. The sweaters which the same shop is showing are undoubtedly exceptional value. They are knitted of fine camel's hair in a weave which fits nicely, yet is not too clinging. They are to be had in such pretty shades, and in every style, both open and slip-over, with V-neck or to be worn with the becoming round collar. It's seldom that I can tell you of a sweater that is so well made and altogether chic, but this is all that the shop is asking for them.—May 14.

REFORMED WOMAN CROOK JAILED HERE

'Queen of Bail Jumpers,' Mother of Six, Brought Back From New York Farm

MUST FACE OLD CHARGE

Mrs. Margaret Reilly, known to police of five large cities as 'Queen of the Bail Jumpers,' and an expert shoplifter, accompanied a detective back to Philadelphia today to face a charge of larceny on which she jumped bail in 1920. Eleven times since 1911 Mrs. Reilly has fallen on the hands of the police for larceny, and in almost every instance she succeeded in getting away by jumping bail.

Arrested in New York When arrested in New York Wednesday she said that she had gone there to buy a tractor for her farm. She was recognized by a probation officer. When she was told that unless she returned to face the charge in Philadelphia, she would be returned to Blackwell's Island where she was sent for an indeterminate sentence in 1920, she agreed to return.

While at Blackwell's Island her sixth child was born. She told detectives here that it was love for the child that made her jump bail the last time. Tears glistened in the eyes of some of the detectives here when the woman, who is twenty-nine years old, told her story of her fight to 'come back.' Strength is added to the story of Mrs. Reilly by her attractive appearance. Her police record started in 1911. In 1911 she was arrested in Chicago and Washington, but jumped bail each time. In 1912 in Chicago she paid a fine of $500 and served one hour in jail, while in 1917 she was arrested in New York twice, once the sentence was suspended and in the other case she was sentenced to serve from one to two years in prison.

MYSTERY STILL SHROUDS FATE OF TUCKERTON LAD

Search is Continued When Promising Clues Fall Atlantic City, May 23.—Mayor William Speck, of Tuckerton, and Prosecutor W. H. Jayne, Jr., of Ocean County, admitted today that the recent clues which had looked promising as leading to the solving of the mystery of the disappearance on May 8 of ten-year-old Henry Scheim, son of John Scheim, wealthy farmer, had resulted unsatisfactorily. Prosecutor Jayne today shifted the investigation to Toms River, and Mayor Speck continued to direct several investigators who were going through the ponds in the meadows and dragging the bottoms of ponds in hope of finding the body. Mayor Speck said it would be several days before all the territory had been thoroughly gone over. 'We thought for a short time that we were on the trail of the boy,' said Mr. Speck. 'Hugh Bird, a laborer, who lives near the Scheim home, told us that on the night of the day the lad disappeared he heard a scratching sound on the side of the house after midnight, but he did not get up. We looked into it and came to the conclusion that it was a rat or that a dog or the wind had caused the sounds which he took for scratching or knocking. The father took us into the woods and pointed out as nearly as he could the path the boy had taken when he fled from home, but no footprints were discernible. This was three days after he had disappeared and the tracks may have been washed away. His footprints could be easily recognized because he had a foot deformity.' The father, while keeping in touch with the search, does not appear to be worried. He declares 'Henry will turn up soon.'

CHICAGO'S 'BIG THREE' SEEK RELEASE ON BAIL

Also Plan to Force State to Reveal Evidence Against Them Chicago, May 23.—(By A. P.)—Chicago laborers' 'big three' today planned a renewed effort to obtain their release from jail on bonds, or, failing that, at least to force the city and State authorities to reveal some of the evidence it is insisted connects them with two police murders, bomb plots, beatings and property damage to the extent of approximately $1,000,000. Attorneys for 'Big Tim' Murphy, street sweeper and gas worker union's head; Fred Mader, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council; and 'Cop' Shea, of the Theatre Janitors' Union, announced intention to demand a writ which would require John Miller, alleged confessed driver of the automobile from which the two policemen were shot to death, to make known what information he had given the police. To combat this step, State's Attorney yesterday rushed a dozen more additional witnesses before the Grand Jury and claimed evidence was given to connect the 'big three' with the terrorism, sluggings, bombings and murders. Meanwhile the plea of Charles C. Fitzmorris, chief of police, for 1000 more members for the Chicago police force, gained force with statements from civic leaders, and early today it was claimed sufficient aldermanic votes were assured to put through an emergency measure this afternoon appropriating funds to pay six months' salaries for these additional policemen.

Society Girls Threatened Paducah, Ky., May 23.—(By A. P.)—Society girls here may have to do their auction bridge betting on the sly as a result of the stand taken yesterday by Commissioner Pulliam, who demanded that the police enforce the gambling ordinance against society girls. He said he did not believe in enforcing the law on professional gamblers only.

JOKE STAGED BY SCRIBES THREATENS RIOT AT PISA

Writer From Genoa Poses as Bolshevik—Royal Guards Called Rome, May 23.—(By A. P.)—Newspapermen returning from the Genoa Conference staged a little joke at the railway station at Pisa, which for a time threatened to cause a riot and put their own lives in danger. 'Fretting that a prominent Communist journalist from Berlin was the Bolshevik Foreign Minister, Chicherin, they called for "coffee for his Excellency, M. Chicherin," and grouped themselves around him, posing as secret police. The news spread rapidly, and a crowd of Fascist, Socialist and police gathered around the car, the Fascisti protesting against the presence of the "Bolshevik emissary" and the Socialist railwaymen promising to protect Chicherin with their lives. The station was in an uproar. The prefect of Pisa was awakened and sent reinforcements of royal guards, who forcibly cleared the station. Telegrams were sent to Florence advising that Chicherin was on his way. Pisa is only now slowly realizing that it was hoaxed.

TRIBUTE PAID DESCHANEL

Brief Memorial Service for Former President Held by Deputies Paris, May 23.—(By A. P.)—The Chamber of Deputies, at its opening today, was so anxious to get to work upon the problems raised by the Genoa Conference and the reparations situation that it adjourned for only forty-five minutes in honor of the late President Deschanel. Raoul Peret, president of the chamber, delivered a memorial oration for the late President, describing him as 'one of the men who loved France best and served her with the greatest fervor.' Premier Poincare, in the name of the Government, also eulogized his successor in the Palace of the Elysee.

STATE SENATOR INSLAY

Delaware Legislator's Death Creates Political Problem Laurel, Del., May 23.—State Senator George B. Inslay, fifty-nine years old, one of the most prominent business men and politicians in Delaware, died last night. Senator Inslay's death will necessitate the election of a Senator to serve his unexpired term. He was a Democrat and was elected by the largest majority ever given in the Second District, although he succeeded as a Republican. The political count of Delaware's next Legislature probably depends upon his successor.
