

MAIN LINE FLOWER SHOW OPENS TODAY

Annual Horticultural Exhibition to Be on View at Ardmore Masonic Hall

MANY PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Today at Masonic Hall in Ardmore, the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society will open its spring exhibition.

The exhibitors have been divided into fifty-nine classes. It is supposed that the keenest competition will be among exhibitors of a species of iris called Germination.

Some of the familiar flowers which will be shown are columbines, primroses and cowslips, lilies of the valley, roses and peonies, Oriental poppies, pansies, tulips and English daisies.

OPEN CITY BATHING BEACHES IN JUNE

Improvements Made at Pleasant Hill Park and League Island

MAY BE USED NIGHTS

Improvements are being made to the three city bathing beaches preparatory to their official opening next month.

The new bathing beaches, costing more than $350,000, on the two large lakes in League Island Park, work on which was started more than fifteen months ago, are among the finest municipal bathing beaches in the world.

Two ornamental brick bathing or locker houses were erected last winter, one for the accommodation of men and boys, and the other for women and children. At the present time 5000 lockers are being installed, and they will be ready for use early next month.
