HE'S LIKELY WORSE'N THAT

Girls Doubt Quality of Woodbury Man Questioning for Perfect Mate

A lovelorn youth of Woodbury, N. J., has started questioning for a remarkable girl. She must be proficient in business, a musician, honest, sociable—and, of course, beautiful.

If the girl applicant has all those assets, the youth, who placed an advertisement in a local paper, might consider giving her an opportunity to be his wife.

Girls who read the advertisement are indignant. Several who might nearly meet the specifications of the exacting advertiser declare they wouldn't even consider such a person. "The very fact that he is so particular," one girl said, "shows he must be a crank. And I just wonder what his own accomplishments are."

Little Benny's Notebook

Me and Puds Skinkins was setting on Mary Watkinses front steps talking to her, me trying to seem greater than him and him trying to seem greater than me, and Mary Watkinses sed, I made cake yesterday.

I bet I could of ate the hole thing and asked for more, sed Puds. Me thinking, darn that guy, and Mary Watkinses sed, There's some left. In case you want a piece, but now mind, I didnt say it was good.

Sure, G, gosh, I would say so, you bet I do, of loy, G, sed me and Puds each trying to seem the most anxious, and Mary Watkinses went in and came out agen with 2 big hunks of cake, being sutch big hunks that if we got them that big at home we would of thawt they was big, and I took a bite of mine and it was the fearest cake I ever tasted, and I looked at Puds and he looked as if he was thinking the same thing and trying to look the opposite, Mary Watkinses sed, Well, you're both certenly eating it slow, dont you like it?

Sure certenly, gosh, sure, sed me and Puds. And we started to eat it fast as anything as if we didnt care what happened, with the more I ate the worse it tasted, and by the time I got it all down I had one of the fearest feelings around my stummick I ever had, in-clooding the time I got sick at Skinny Martins party, and I looked at Puds and he looked as if he never felt worse, and I sed, G, that was grate cake all rite, hay, look at Puds, I bet he's got a stummick ache.

Aw, I have not, sed Puds looking as if he had, and Mary Watkinses sed, Puds Skinkins, I think you're terrible. I've got a good mind to send you rite home, I was just going enyways, sed Puds, which he quick did me keeping on about those acting grate but feeding

FIND LIQUOR IN ONE OF SEVEN RAIDED SALOONS

Agents Sweep Down Upon Kensington, but Make Small Haul

Thirty-five Federal prohibition agents and special officers of the police force swooped down on Kensington saloons yesterday afternoon, simultaneously raiding seven establishments. Only one saloon out of the seven yielded the slightest traces of anti-voistead activities.

The solitary seizure was made at Rowan and Westmoreland streets and resulted in the confiscation of four cases of alleged high proof beer and one of supposed moonshine whiskey—small consolation for the agents, who had looked forward to completing one of the most spectacular raids on record, Mary A. Lind is the alleged proprietor.

The six establishments where agents returned from their search empty-

"SHOOR-TREDS" INVIGORATE

Don't Slight Your Child's Feet in Summer Shoes

It has come to our notice in past years that some parents, who ordinarily are quite careful about the kind of shoes their children wear all the rest of the year, will buy "any-old-thing" for summer wear. One wrongly-shaped pair of shoes may badly distort your child's feet. Put "Shoor-Treds" on growing feet—and on adult feet, too. They strengthen the arch, poise the body weight correctly, make for healthful feet and graceful carriage. And look at the prices:—

Sizes 6 to 8	Oxfords, High Shoes	Sizes 4 to 8	Prices
8 1/2 to 11	4.00—4.50	4 to 8 $2.75
11 1/2 to 2	4.50—5.00	8 1/2 to 11 3.25
