TENNIS AT FOUR CLUBS THIS WEEK

Racquet Play Scheduled at Merion, Cynwyd, Philmont and Philadelphia Clubs

CONFLICT IN

From the number of tennis tournaments that are being staged in the suburbs of Philadelphia these days it would appear that the followers of the net game are putting on an unofficial Ten-Week to join the number of "weeks" that already are listed for ob-

Merion Cricket Club, Cynwyd Club, Philmont and the Philadelphia Country Club all are in use this week as centers of tennis attractions. With the ending of the tourney at the Country Club yesterday Merion claims the attention of the feminine racquet wielders, where hampionship is launched today. The Philadelphia championship is still in cruption at Cynwyd, the semi-finals having been reached for the individual title and the final round being carded this afternoon for the doubles Out at Philmont the tennis cracks the Philadelphia championship are going

gh the early stages for the the Eastern Pennsylvania champion-The conflicting dates of these two events, she Philadelphia, held at Cynwyd, and the Eastern Pennsylvania, at Philmont, have resulted in the granting of dispensations by the officials of the latter championship. Several of the are very much in the running for the Philadelphia district leadership. The week represents a high mark in the rising tide of tennis, and the market in tennis balls must be very active. Eastern Title Play

The play for the Eastern Pennsylvania title at Philmont is being somewhat retarded by the Philadelphia event. The big stars will be present and playing as soon as the champion-ship at Cynwyd is finished; this means Bill Tilden and the other finalists.
Young Phil Bettens, the junior titleholder of the Coast, probably will begin his advance to the Eastern event in his Yesterday brought forth some inter-sting matches in the first and second Dr. P. B. Hawk, the vetern champion, repeated his victory over Ellis Gimbel, Jr., by ousting the Philmont player in straight sets by the convincing scores of 6-1, 6-2. This is the d time in successive tourneys that this has happened, for the dean of teneliminated Gimbel in the opening round for the Philadelphia title last Wallace Johnson and Stanley Pear-wan, who hold the title, were only re-tarded by Leonard Beekman and Ted Edwards in the penultimate round to the extent that an extra set was necessary to settle the issue. The loss of essary to settle the issue. The loss of the first set served as a spur to the fitleholders and the match was speedily equared.

The final frame brought out some oltter tilting and the last two games of the afternoon were deadlocked at New York 25 12 .576 .684 .658 deuce four times before Johnson and Pittsburgh 21 15 .583 .684 .658 Pearson ran out set and match and en tered the finals at 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. The chief attraction of the waning Philadelphia championship today will be the semi-final rounds for the singles crown which will feature Bill Tilden against Carl Fischer, and Wallace F. Johnson employing his chop stroke egainst the steady Ted Edwards.

Start at Haverford

Haverford will be the center of attraction so far as the feminine tenn followers are concerned, for the annua-play for the Wonten's Pennsylvani and Eastern States Championship w be gotten under way today. Miss And B. Townsend holds the title in the event and shares honors with Mis Phyllis Walsh for the doubles crown A big entry list has been attracted t Merion by this tourney and the pre-mier players of the section will be busy all week in the quest of the va rious championships on the block.
