

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight; Thursday increasing cloudiness with probably local showers; little change in temperature.
Forecast for 24 hours: Partly sunny.

8	10	11	12	1	2	3	4	5
65	67	70	72	75	76	77

VOL. VIII.—NO. 222

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa., Under the Act of March 3, 1879

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1922

Published Daily Except Sundays. Subscription Price $6 a Year by Mail. Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company

PRICE TWO CENTS

BAUGH WILL SUIT DROPPED BY SON AS TRIAL STARTS
Claimant for Share in $5,000,000 Estate Reaches Agreement With Sister
TERMS ARE KEPT SECRET BY LITIGANT'S COUNSEL
Honeymooner and Bride Are Not Present in Court When Attorneys Confer

The contest over the will of Daniel Baugh, millionaire chemical manufacturer, was settled out of court today after prolonged conference by counsel. The fight against the will disposing of several millions of dollars was made by Paul D. Baugh, who, with his brother, Edwin P. Baugh, now dead, had been each cut off with the income from $200,000.

Called 'Family Affair'
The matter has been settled amicably, said Henry P. Brown, one of counsel for the estate. "It is after all merely an affair within the family. It will not appear in court."

William A. Gray, counsel for the contestant, also said the case would not get into court. Mr. Gray had appeared in the Orphans' Court from the action of Register of Wills Campbell, who admitted the will.

Mr. Baugh, the contestant, who was married several days ago to Miss Anna Janet Martin, of this city, did not appear in court today. It had been understood he would interrupt his honeymoon to testify.

Both Sons Are Cut Off
In the elder Baugh's will it was stated Paul D. Baugh and his brother Edwin were cut off with an allowance, "because of their hostile and unfriendly attitude toward me."

Both Sons Are Cut Off
In the elder Baugh's will it was stated Paul D. Baugh and his brother Edwin were cut off with an allowance, "because of their hostile and unfriendly attitude toward me."

ONE CONTESTANT IS DEAD
Charges of Undue Influence on Rich Man Are Not Aired When Parleys Meet Success

The contest over the will of Daniel Baugh, millionaire chemical manufacturer, was settled out of court today after prolonged conference by counsel. The fight against the will disposing of several millions of dollars was made by Paul D. Baugh, who, with his brother, Edwin P. Baugh, now dead, had been each cut off with the income from $200,000.

Called 'Family Affair'
The matter has been settled amicably, said Henry P. Brown, one of counsel for the estate. "It is after all merely an affair within the family. It will not appear in court."

BEAUTY'S PICTURES TO CAUSE SUIT

Juliette Compton, who, according to Harrison Fisher, has the most beautiful neck and shoulders in the world, is planning to sue for unauthorized use of her photographs by an advertising firm.

ASKS COURT BAR OUSER WEDDING
Mother Appeals to Bench Today to Prevent Mathilde's Marriage
Will Not Oppose Girl's Father as Her Guardian

Statement Prepared by Divorced Wife of Harvester Company Head

By the Associated Press
Chicago, May 31.—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick will ask court action to prevent the marriage of her daughter, Mathilde, to Max Oser, Swiss riding master, in a statement to be presented in court today.

Beautiful Actress to Sue for Use of Her Pictures
Juliette Compton to Demand Cash for Unauthorized Views of 'Most Beautiful Neck and Shoulders in the World'

Miss Juliette Compton, declared by Harrison Fisher to have the most beautiful neck and shoulders in the world, plans to bring suit because photographs of these were used without her permission.

The action, explained Miss Compton, who has been visiting the family of William Folsell, at Merion, will be directed against an advertising firm. Miss Compton returned to this country from London, where she has been on the stage, to make an investigation preparatory to the legal proceedings. Today she went to New York in connection with this.

"Of course," admitted Miss Compton, with a shrug of those cherished shoulders, "I am proud of any distinction of beauty I may have—but to have my pictures spread broadcast as advertisements—without my permission—that is too much."

English Pictures Are Right
Miss Compton, whose home is in Columbus, Ga., has spent two years on the stage in England. Her pictures, mostly in East Indian costume—have appeared in all the leading English journals.

Miss Compton says, modestly, that any success that she, an American girl, may have had on the British stage is due largely to the power of American ideas.

"Every costume must have an idea back of it," she declares, "and the women who act in it, must have ideas." "American women dress better and display greater charm than English women, and it was not difficult for me to stand out as unusual."

In 1920 Miss Compton was chosen by Murray Anderson as one of the nine most beautiful girls in America to appear in London in a musical play.

"The English people went wild about our 'shimmy' dance," said Miss Compton. "They are mad about pep. They depend almost entirely upon American dance music and steps."

Likes British Dramas
American musical comedies are much better than English ones, Miss Compton said.

"The English dramas are superb," she added.

"The main trouble a person must have to go on the stage in any country," continued this pretty Georgian, "is nerve to do things to attract attention."

Miss Compton said that when she was in London, every one turned to look at my dress."

And here in Philadelphia, she said, she walks down the street, many, turned to look at this tall girl with the mid-night hair and deep blue eyes.

EX-HOUSEMAN ROBS BALA HOME OF GEMS
Takes $2000 in Jewelry From Mrs. B. B. Prince—Chased by Maid

A former houseman in the employ of Burling B. Prince, 2447 North Fifty-second street, entered the house in the family's absence Monday and stole jewelry belonging to Mrs. Prince valued at $2000.

Ells Steman, the colored maid, was left in charge of the house when the family went away. She was scrubbing when the man entered by a rear door, went to the second floor, and looted Mrs. Prince's dressing table.

The man was sneaking out the way he had done when the maid encountered him. She followed him screaming and chased him several squares.

The thief got away and the maid reported to the Sixty-first and Thompson streets station. The maid and family are unable to remember the name of the man, but gave a good description.

URGES CHURCH PACT TO PENSION CLERGY
Philadelphia at Shore Convention Advocates Reciprocal Agreement

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Atlantic City, May 31.—Dr. Henry B. Laufer, of Philadelphia, general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Relief, today urged a reciprocal agreement between the various Protestant churches to pension the clergy.

The bride has been employed in an address before the annual conference of the Interdenominational Secretaries of Ministerial Relief of Protestant Churches.

He advocated an understanding so that when a clergyman who has passed from one denomination to another applies the pension the amount shall be pro-rated between the two churches or more involved, on a basis of the number of years served in each.

"There is today a friendliness between the various churches which never existed before. There is no clearer sign than the number of ministers who pass from one to another."

The need of adequate salaries and pensions for ministers was stressed by the Rev. J. G. Sculler, of Philadelphia, secretary of Ministerial Relief for the United Presbyterian Church. He declared that the United Presbyterian in the United States receiving less than $800 a year and that with the prospect of an old age spent in poverty, deters young men from entering the ministry.

ARRESTED ATTENDING RECEIVERSHIP HEARING

White he was in the Federal Building this afternoon to attend a hearing regarding the appointment of a receivership of the Black Panther Oil Company, Nineteenth and Race streets, George Eales, South First street, a representative of the company, was arrested charged with obtaining money under false pretence and conspiracy.

AUTO BANDITS GET $15,000 PAYROLL
NEW YORK, May 31.—Seven automobile bandits today held up three men in an automobile at Long Island City and robbed them of a $15,000 payroll belonging to H. B. Mattison & Co., New York silk dealers.

BRITISH COMMONS VOTES WHITSUNTIDE RECESS
LONDON, May 31.—The Government's motion for the Whitsuntide adjournment of the House of Commons until June 13 was carried in the House this afternoon by a vote of 207 to 39.

CHURCHILL BANS IRISH REPUBLIC

Mr. Hoover suggested the immediate appointment of committees representing each political district to advise with him upon a fair price for coal in its respective districts. He also asked that these committees continue in existence and report to him, after the determination of a fair price, cases of unfair prices in their districts, and act at his request as might be necessary to meet such cases.

Mr. Hoover told the several hundred operators assembled at the meeting that the conference had been called by him at the request of President Harding to consult as to what means might properly be taken to restrain runaway coal prices due to the strike. He explained that the conference was not connected with wages or other questions, but solely to the question of price and distribution of coal now being produced.

Present Conditions Outline
Speaking of present conditions throughout the country, said Mr. Hoover, production was about 1,000,000 tons a week and consumption between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000, thus necessitating withdrawals from stock amounting to between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 tons a week. Production will increase slightly as time goes on, he added.

"The time has arrived," Mr. Hoover said, "when the nation's lights, which do not need my recommendations, for stocking up with coal must get into the market to get it."

Mr. Hoover recalled that the last time there was a coal strike the coal rose as high as $12 to $15 a ton at the mine, which he declared, represented millions of dollars a week loss to the nation.

Continued on Page Twenty-eight, Column Two

COAL PRICE TO BE FIXED BY HOOVER

Mr. Hoover suggested the immediate appointment of committees representing each political district to advise with him upon a fair price for coal in its respective districts. He also asked that these committees continue in existence and report to him, after the determination of a fair price, cases of unfair prices in their districts, and act at his request as might be necessary to meet such cases.

Mr. Hoover told the several hundred operators assembled at the meeting that the conference had been called by him at the request of President Harding to consult as to what means might properly be taken to restrain runaway coal prices due to the strike. He explained that the conference was not connected with wages or other questions, but solely to the question of price and distribution of coal now being produced.

Present Conditions Outline
Speaking of present conditions throughout the country, said Mr. Hoover, production was about 1,000,000 tons a week and consumption between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000, thus necessitating withdrawals from stock amounting to between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 tons a week. Production will increase slightly as time goes on, he added.

"The time has arrived," Mr. Hoover said, "when the nation's lights, which do not need my recommendations, for stocking up with coal must get into the market to get it."

Mr. Hoover recalled that the last time there was a coal strike the coal rose as high as $12 to $15 a ton at the mine, which he declared, represented millions of dollars a week loss to the nation.

Continued on Page Twenty-eight, Column Two

LOOT BOULEVARD HOME

Silverware, Fur and Clothing Worth $2000 Taken From John Belver

After smashing a window last night in the home of John Belver, 6129 Roosevelt boulevard, Belver entered the house, drew the shades on "Cannon," a valuable picture, and stole silverware, furs and clothing worth $2000. The family was away.

Among the things stolen are silverware, suits, evening dresses and a fur coat belonging to Mrs. Belver. The coat is valued at $500.

RESCUES SON IN FIRE

Father Heans Cries in Time as N. Tenth Street Home Ignites

Henry Caldwell, three years old, was saved from probable death today by his father, Henry Caldwell, in a slight fire at their home, 723 North Tenth street.

Caldwell heard the boy's cries, and rushing to the second-story room, rescued the child from the flames. The boy received several burns of the face and body. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

SEVEN FIREMEN HURT

Two Brothers May Die as Result of Truck Hitting Pole

Shamokin, May 31.—While the Shamokin company was responding to an alarm, Robert Anderson, a pedestrian stepped in front of the speeding truck, and was struck and killed. The truck was derailed and the seven aboard were thrown out.

David and Richard Anderson, brothers, were seriously injured and are in the Shamokin Hospital in a dying condition. Richard suffered a broken hip, crushed pelvic and internal injuries, while David suffered fractured ribs, crushed forehead and internal injuries.

ROOMS AND BOARDING TO FIT WAVE
Persons in advertising. See page 42, 43.

DROWNS IN HUGE VAT

Stockyard Employee Falls Into Fertilizer-Making Mixture

Thomas Stone, thirty-five years old, 1524 South Twenty-fourth street, an employe of the Consolidated Roof Company, Thirtieth and Race streets, was drowned yesterday when he fell into a large tank at his place of employment.

The body was found by John Coles, 507 Lombard street, as he making his rounds in the stockyard. The tank that Stone died in is used for mixing various ingredients in making fertilizer.

The body was found by John Coles, 507 Lombard street, as he making his rounds in the stockyard. The tank that Stone died in is used for mixing various ingredients in making fertilizer.

ANTHRAX KILLS WORKMAN

First Case in Lower Delaware Reported From Georgetown

Georgetown, Del., May 31.—The first case of anthrax ever known in lower Delaware resulted fatally yesterday when Elwood Idelette, twenty-five years old, died after a short struggle with the disease.

Physicians who were called in at once recognized the disease, although none had ever seen it before in a human person. A test was made and verified by the State Board of Health.

The funeral was immediate and absolutely private, and extraordinary precautions are being taken by quarantine to prevent any spread of the disease. It is supposed the disease was contracted in a fertilizer factory in Baltimore.

MULHLENBERG STUDENTS DROP THIRTY FEET INTO NESHAMING CREEK

Two Muhlenberg College students were injured early today when their automobile crashed through the wall of a bridge over the Nesaming Creek, two miles south of Doylestown. They were on their way home to Allentown after a dance at Beechwood school, Jenkintown.

One of the injured students is Henry Huey, twenty-two years old, who has a fractured spine. His condition is grave. The other is Bruce Crum, twenty-one years old, whose skull is fractured. He is halfback on the college football team. Both are in the Allentown Hospital.

A dense fog, it is said, caused the accident. The car, after going through the wall, fell thirty feet to the roadway below, pinning them to the ground.

Five weeks ago another car crashed through the guard wall at the same point, five Philadelphians being injured.

TAKES BRIDE IN MOSCOW

Moscow, May 31.—(By A. P.—) John G. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., and Mlle. Arghippina Platonovna, daughter of a Moscow university professor, were married here on May 18. The ceremony at the Soviet marriage bureau was followed by a church wedding.

The bride has been employed in the American Relief Administration offices here, where Mr. Anderson is secretary to the executive.

W. PHILA. HOME ROBBED

While the family of W. H. Danenbauer, 4109 Carpenter street, were at the store thieves broke into their home and stole jewelry and other articles valued at $215.

DO YOU NEED A BABY CARRIAGE, OR A Stave or anything else for the house? For best prices use the For Sale column today.

BURGLAR, STARTLED BY MAID, FLEES

Confronted in E. C. Arend Home, 5551 Walnut St., Draws Gun, Runs

A burglar who broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Arend, 5551 Walnut street, yesterday afternoon, thinking the place was empty, was so startled when he found a colored maid evelyn looking in the kitchen that he turned and fled. Mr. Arend is president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Chair Company, 229-31 Church street. Yesterday he and his wife decided to go to a ball game, leaving Kathleen Smith, the maid, alone.

A little later she instinctively felt some one was in the room and, turning, confronted a well-dressed man.

He was startled, drew an automatic, said "Keep quiet!" in a threatening tone, and vanished. The maid ran out and called the police. Nothing was taken.

PROBE REPORT PETERS DEAD IN HOME OF WARD

Another Man Said to Have Been Wounded at the Same Time

TELL OF BLOODSTAINS AND MARKS OF BULLETS

Authorities Take Hasty Trip to Residence of Millionaire Who Confessed Slaying

SECOND MAN IN HOSPITAL

Says There Was Blackmail Plot, but Not Directed Against Rich Baker

White Plains, N. Y., May 31.—Westchester County authorities today took official cognizance of a newspaper report that Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, shot Clarence Peters in Ward's home on the night of May 15, and despite the fact that Ward has resigned his position as chief of the police, and possibly bloodstains would be found there.

District Attorney Weeks went into conference with Sheriff Warren, Police Chief Cody, New Rochelle, and other officials, and later drove to Ward's home at New Rochelle.

According to the published story, another man was slain at the same time as Peters. He is said to be in a hospital.

Not Directed Against Ward
The newspaper report quoted the man alleged to have been wounded by Ward as saying that although there was a blackmailing plot, it was not directed against Ward.

Examination of George S. Ward, father of the confessed slayer of Peters, as to what he knows regarding the events leading up to the shooting, is being deferred by the authorities until they have had a talk with Walter S. Ward.

They hoped to get into contact with the head of the baking company today and ask him what was in the message he received from his son that caused him to hurry back from his European trip.

Believe Father Knows
According to the younger Ward's statement of the killing, the blackmail ring of which he says Peters was a member, began their career in New York City, but he is sure that his father was in the know. He said he would like to see the facts in the case by his son and hope through him to clear up the mystery.

Marine Corps officers at Paris, La., S. C., have had no plan from their reports that Peters could not have arrived in New York until about twelve hours before he was killed. It also is known that Peters, while in the Marine barracks there, boasted he had "his friends up North who would aid him whenever he desired."

Examination of George S. Ward, father of the confessed slayer of Peters, as to what he knows regarding the events leading up to the shooting, is being deferred by the authorities until they have had a talk with Walter S. Ward.

They hoped to get into contact with the head of the baking company today and ask him what was in the message he received from his son that caused him to hurry back from his European trip.

M'CUMBER RISKS PARTY ON BONUS

Does Samson's Stunt in Seeking Democratic Aid to Report Bill

THEY HELP ONLY IN PLAN TO INJURE REPUBLICANS

Measure's Author Takes Desperate Chances to Aid His Own Primary Fight

By CLINTON W. GILBERT
Staff Correspondent Evening Public Ledger
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Washington, May 31.—The M'Cumber Bonus Bill, which was favorably reported to the Senate today by the Finance Committee by a vote of 9 to 4, was brought to the world under the most unfavorable circumstances. There were not enough Republican votes to get it out of committee, so Chairman M'Cumber had to split the bill under Democratic votes. And the Democrats are for the bill simply to make trouble.

It is always hard politics for a party leader to go to the opposition for votes, and that is what Mr. M'Cumber has done. The enemy gives him the votes to destroy him and his party.

M'Cumber's tactic is like that of Mr. Hoover's going to the Democrats for votes to get out of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He has just about arranged the last residue of party government in the Senate. Hereafter the Republicans will have to get on their own feet, and M'Cumber's tactics will be to get on his own feet.

But Mr. M'Cumber's tactics are his own. He has just about arranged the last residue of party government in the Senate. Hereafter the Republicans will have to get on their own feet, and M'Cumber's tactics will be to get on his own feet.

Continued on Page 28, Column Five

G. O. P. SENATORS FOR CLOTURE RULE

Party Conference Votes, 32 to 1, to Press New Plan

Washington, May 31.—(By A. P.—) Republican Senators today committed themselves to the movement designed to bring about amendment of the existing Senate rules permitting unlimited debate.

By a vote of 32 to 1 the Republican conference decided to draft and press a new cloture rule.

EX-HOUSEMAN ROBS BALA HOME OF GEMS

Takes $2000 in Jewelry From Mrs. B. B. Prince—Chased by Maid

A former houseman in the employ of Burling B. Prince, 2447 North Fifty-second street, entered the house in the family's absence Monday and stole jewelry belonging to Mrs. Prince valued at $2000.

Ells Steman, the colored maid, was left in charge of the house when the family went away. She was scrubbing when the man entered by a rear door, went to the second floor, and looted Mrs. Prince's dressing table.

The man was sneaking out the way he had done when the maid encountered him. She followed him screaming and chased him several squares.

The thief got away and the maid reported to the Sixty-first and Thompson streets station. The maid and family are unable to remember the name of the man, but gave a good description.

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

ARRESTED ATTENDING RECEIVERSHIP HEARING
White he was in the Federal Building this afternoon to attend a hearing regarding the appointment of a receivership of the Black Panther Oil Company, Nineteenth and Race streets, George Eales, South First street, a representative of the company, was arrested charged with obtaining money under false pretence and conspiracy.

AUTO BANDITS GET $15,000 PAYROLL
NEW YORK, May 31.—Seven automobile bandits today held up three men in an automobile at Long Island City and robbed them of a $15,000 payroll belonging to H. B. Mattison & Co., New York silk dealers.

BRITISH COMMONS VOTES WHITSUNTIDE RECESS
LONDON, May 31.—The Government's motion for the Whitsuntide adjournment of the House of Commons until June 13 was carried in the House this afternoon by a vote of 207 to 39.

CHURCHILL BANS IRISH REPUBLIC

Mr. Hoover suggested the immediate appointment of committees representing each political district to advise with him upon a fair price for coal in its respective districts. He also asked that these committees continue in existence and report to him, after the determination of a fair price, cases of unfair prices in their districts, and act at his request as might be necessary to meet such cases.

Mr. Hoover told the several hundred operators assembled at the meeting that the conference had been called by him at the request of President Harding to consult as to what means might properly be taken to restrain runaway coal prices due to the strike. He explained that the conference was not connected with wages or other questions, but solely to the question of price and distribution of coal now being produced.

Present Conditions Outline
Speaking of present conditions throughout the country, said Mr. Hoover, production was about 1,000,000 tons a week and consumption between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000, thus necessitating withdrawals from stock amounting to between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 tons a week. Production will increase slightly as time goes on, he added.

"The time has arrived," Mr. Hoover said, "when the nation's lights, which do not need my recommendations, for stocking up with coal must get into the market to get it."

Mr. Hoover recalled that the last time there was a coal strike the coal rose as high as $12 to $15 a ton at the mine, which he declared, represented millions of dollars a week loss to the nation.

Continued on Page Twenty-eight, Column Two

LOOT BOULEVARD HOME

Silverware, Fur and Clothing Worth $2000 Taken From John Belver

After smashing a window last night in the home of John Belver, 6129 Roosevelt boulevard, Belver entered the house, drew the shades on "Cannon," a valuable picture, and stole silverware, furs and clothing worth $2000. The family was away.

Among the things stolen are silverware, suits, evening dresses and a fur coat belonging to Mrs. Belver. The coat is valued at $500.

RESCUES SON IN FIRE

Father Heans Cries in Time as N. Tenth Street Home Ignites

Henry Caldwell, three years old, was saved from probable death today by his father, Henry Caldwell, in a slight fire at their home, 723 North Tenth street.

Caldwell heard the boy's cries, and rushing to the second-story room, rescued the child from the flames. The boy received several burns of the face and body. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

SEVEN FIREMEN HURT

Two Brothers May Die as Result of Truck Hitting Pole

Shamokin, May 31.—While the Shamokin company was responding to an alarm, Robert Anderson, a pedestrian stepped in front of the speeding truck, and was struck and killed. The truck was derailed and the seven aboard were thrown out.

David and Richard Anderson, brothers, were seriously injured and are in the Shamokin Hospital in a dying condition. Richard suffered a broken hip, crushed pelvic and internal injuries, while David suffered fractured ribs, crushed forehead and internal injuries.

ROOMS AND BOARDING TO FIT WAVE
Persons in advertising. See page 42, 43.

THE STORY OF THE BITTER MORSE-DAUGHERTY FEUD

The Evening Public Ledger will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and unpaid fees figure in the strange drama.

The tale of Morse's wretched rise to power and his subsequent downfall is vividly gripping.

THE EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

will devote an entire feature page tomorrow to the complicated story of the feud between Charles W. Morse, one-time "Ice King" and "Steamship King," and the Ohio political attorney he hired to help free him from Atlanta Penitentiary, Harry M. Daugherty, now Attorney General of the United States.

Political, financial, personal considerations, ingratitude and