schools, somewhat after the manner of Radcliffe College with Harvard and Barnard College with Columbia, or even more closely affiliated, the way will be opened for all young women seeking to receive the same instruction from the same professors who have charge of the classes of men. If the plan is carried out the women students will become a much more coherent and self-respecting body.

WHY BAKER SHOULD NOT BE PINCHOT'S STATE CHAIRMAN

As Representative of the Old Machine and Manager for Beidleman, He Forfeited Rights to Consideration Now

WAITING FOR EUROPE

THE disposition in this country to regard the act of treaty ratification by the United States as tantamount to a completion of contract has naturally diverted popular attention from the status of the Washington Conference agreements with respect to the foreign Powers involved. A treaty which survives the American Senate is deemed proof against the arrows of misfortune.

WHAT IT COST

THE statement of expenses filed by Clifford Pinchot and his campaign committee indicates once more that it takes a great deal of money to contest for a nomination in the primaries. The total sum spent, according to the report filed in Harrisburg, was $129,741. It is not clear how much of this was contributed by Mr. Pinchot and members of his family.

OUR BEST FOR RIO'S FAIR

THE reported possibility that Secretary Hughes may be named to head the official American delegation to the Brazilian centenary fair in September is consistent with several admirable traditions in this hemisphere. The great South American nation was generous to her best forty-six years ago, when she dispatched no less a personage than Don Pedro to the Centennial in Philadelphia.

THE ORATIONS

READ any of the memorial addresses delivered yesterday in the United States and you will find a familiar characteristic dominant in all of them. The orators dealt ingeniously and sometimes nobly with the past. Little was said about the future because, apparently, little is thought of.

EYRE BECOMES AN "ALSO RAN"

THE returns from Chester County indicate that Larry Eyre's political sun is moving rapidly on its westerling course toward obscurity beneath the horizon. He was fourth in the race for membership in the Republican State Committee.

A WOMAN'S COLLEGE

ADVOCATES of higher education for women will be gratified at the announcement by Acting Provost Pennington that the best opinion in the University of Pennsylvania favors the plan for a separate college for the women students, co-ordinate with and equal to that for men.

AMATEURS IN DEMOCRACY

CUBA'S finances continue to be a matter of grave concern in Washington. As the foster-parent of Cuba, with responsibilities devolving upon the United States, we cannot stand idly by and see the Pearl of the Antilles drift through exploitation of political groups into a quicksand of debt.

Disrespect for the Law Shown by Gang Politicians During the Election Only Slightly Removed From the Mob Spirit

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
SOME of the recent election experiences that crop up now and then in the course of conversation are worth remembering apart from their luridness. There is something about a sign of these things, happening to ordinary commonplace women in the "land of the free."

HUNTING TROUBLE

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS!

THE curious thing about it was that though she was right as a rivet about her own town, it was not her "rightness" that held that barking owner of the polls in leash all day—intimidated instead of intimidating. It was that she had learned the art of doing things that others do not do, and for that time, at least, she could use it to his disadvantage.
