

Chicago Teams Cause Upset by Dropping the Cards and Indians for Brace of Holiday Games

HOLIDAY GAMES FIND ROOKIES AS STARS

Heimach and Sullivan Bring Joy to Connie Mack in Gotham

PHILS HALVE A PAIR

The Athletics have a great baseball team this year. Fact? The New York sporting writers, who have for the last eight years been handing jobs over to the Mackmen, have announced the fact. Two million or more in metropolitan Philadelphia have been assured of it almost from the start of the season.

It took three hurlers, one a veteran and two untried rookies, to make the scribbles in Gotham believe it, but they finally have. Heran Slim Harris had he held himself together in one inning might have scored a triumph as far back as Friday.

Yesterday Jimmy Sullivan, unknown and unused, came within an ace of ripping the existing prima donna of the Phillies in the morning game, and Lefty Heimach, who expects to walk across the bridge from Camden in 1923, did trip them in the afternoon before a crowd that thronged every part of the most expensive piece of real estate on Coogan's Bluff.

Incidentally, Connie Mack has found two youngsters who could fit in with the four regular hurlers and keep the Mackmen up there fighting for a place in the sun.

To digress for a moment: Connie has Rammel, Hartz, Harris, Naylor and Moore as his regulars, and with aforementioned youngsters about ready to hurl regularly no unkind words can be sent hurrying into print against the pitching staff.

Add to the number mentioned Lefty and Eckert, who are daily learning the fine points of mound duty, and Lefty Wolfe, who is expected to check his baggage at Shibe Park in a week or so, and you have as nifty a hurling staff as there is in the big leagues today.

The Phils Did Too
To make the day a fifty-fifty proposition all the way around so far as local hopes are concerned, the Phils leveled up their two games with the all-star cast of Giants.

The big surprise of the day's festivities was the twin wins of the two Chicago teams. The White Sox handed the Forest City, and Bill Killifer's Cubs joined the pennant-chasing Cards twice in the same place.

The Dodgers and Washington scored double wins, while Boston and St. Louis and Cincinnati and Pittsburgh split even in their dual encounters.

Jimmy Sullivan, hurling his first full game, skidded in the seventh and eighth against the Yanks in the morning tilt and lost a keen battle to Walter Hoyt. Sully was found for nine safeties, while his teammates made but six off the schoolboy phenom.

It was different in the afternoon struggle. Heimach had his left-handed shoots working in fine fettle. Home runs spoiled a shutout for him. Babe Ruth found his eye for a four-ply shot with Ward on the base, that overcame the figures. The same Ward came through with another round tripper in the eighth, knotting the figures. Undaunted, the A's came back in style, but of the ninth with the run that meant victory.

Sehang the Hero
Wally Sehang, who was one of our stars in the dim distant past, was the man of the hour for the Mackmen. After McGowan had singled he stole second, and by fast footwork sprinted all the way home when Wally obliged with a fine throw into center field that traveled far enough to permit McGowan to reach the plate in safety.

The A's will have a light work-out on the loam at Shibe Park today, with plenty of batting practice. It is an idle day, according to the schedule. Tomorrow the Washington Senators start a three-game series, after which local fandom will miss the hard-hitting Bing Miller and the sturdy band of Athletics until they return from a swing around the western end of the circuit.

A continuation of their excellent playing at home and in the western ports will mean that we have a possible first division team. The Mackmen are confident, and so is every Athletic rooter.

The best-nit game of the eight staged yesterday was turned in by Rookie Leonardo of the White Sox, who held the Cleveland Indians to four scattered hits, two of which were of the search variety. The Gleasonites made but six off Morrison and Keefe, the last named of our 1921 hurling staff, but they came when hits meant runs.

In the second game Outright and Faber triumphed over the Indians in a hectic tilt in the ninth, after Tets and his crew had tied the score in the seventh round with six large and luscious runs. Eddie Collins, another Philadelphia alumna, was again kept from the out of the news, with the hitting star in the second frame with a triple double, one single and a sacrifice fly out of five tries to the plate.

Without Tets Raymond Onda and Harry Heaman, the Detroit kings of swat, the Tigers scored a hit with this regulation time in favor of the Colless Tigers. The second went sixteen rounds and was won on a single by one rookie, a single to a veteran and one base blow by another rookie. Durst and Collins were the newcomers and Shoemaker the old-timer. The Browns made seven hits, but only two runs, while the Tigers had eleven for a single counter.

Recruits are setting the two leagues afire this year, and just to prove it, Stuyland, one of Bill Kiefer's hopefuls, started the morning game against the Cards, handed them four hits and beat Stempel and a couple of others, 4 to 1.

Vie Aldridge Wins
In the afternoon Vie Aldridge, who might be classed as a rookie, outpitched Willie Donk for a 3-0 victory. The two reverses dropped the Cards deeper into third place.

Ten nuthers saw action in the Washington Red Sox battles, which were capped by the former. Phillips and Brillheart, youths, while unable to fast the entire nine innings, were credited with the triumphs.

Eppa Jethu Rixey was in rare form in the morning game and scored an easy victory over the Pirates, with his teammates aiding by hitting Cooper hard. In the afternoon struggle Keek, who turned in a victory the other day, lost to Morrison, making the day an even-Stephen affair for the two teams.

Reuther and Vance hurled the Dodgers to a pair of wins over Charley Mitchell's Braves over in the City of Churches. Vance fanned ten in the second game for a season's record. Heran Slim of the Athletics had a field day with six safeties, including extra base hits.

Jimmy Murphy Only Driver to Win Premier Auto Races of Two Continents

RECORD MAY NOT STAND

By the Associated Press

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Jimmy Murphy, the smiling, boyish Los Angeles youth, today holds the distinction of being the only driver in the world to win the premier automobile races of two continents—the French Grand Prix and the 500-mile race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway here yesterday.

This is Murphy's second year as a driver, as he only graduated from the grade of mechanic two years ago. By a strange coincidence it was Captain Eddie Rickenbacker who gave Murphy the checkered flag in token of victory yesterday—the same Murphy who rode beside Rickenbacker as a mechanic in the race here six years ago.

Hartz Held Lead
Some of the girls and also some of the prize money that Murphy was generally believed to have gained yesterday slipped away overnight, however. Murphy was credited with holding the lead throughout the race and winning all of the prizes offered for leadership in the various laps of the contest, but speedway officials early today announced that there had been some miscalculations and that apparently Harry Hartz, another Los Angeles racer, who finished second, had held the lead during part of the race and was entitled to some of the lap prizes.

There was also some question as to the authenticity of Murphy's record time, which had been announced as 5:17:30.79, which is sixteen minutes better than the record established by Ralph de Palma in winning the event here in 1915. De Palma's time was 5:33:55.51.

Much confusion existed among the judges and timers at the 200th mile yesterday and the announcement was made that Hartz had gone into first place. This announcement was later withdrawn, but when the official tabulation was started at the close of the race the possibility that Murphy might have been displaced as leader for a time was again brought forward.

Record Questioned
Officials said they expected to complete the tabulation some time today. It was not expected it would make any changes in the standing of the winners.

which totaled $270,000, and besides this there were extra charges for grandstand, automobile parking spaces and infield privileges.

Murphy was the only driver injured during the race, although two cars were in smash-ups. It was all the fault of an inflated rubber cushion, which exploded while Murphy was tearing along
