TENDLER FAVORITE TO BEAT BARRETT

But Bobby's Punch Looms as Probable Dope Upsetter in Bout Monday

BOTH ARE UNDER WEIGHT

Bouts on Schedule at Phillies' Park Monday

8:30—Phil Kaplan, New York, vs. Joe Jackson, Philadelphia, eight rounds.

9:10—George Chaney, Baltimore, vs. Alie Nack, New York.

9:30—Tom Dray, Los Angeles, vs. Jim Koney, Lancaster, eight rounds.

10:30—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia, vs. Bobby Barrett, Clifton Heights, eight rounds.

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

ON FORM Monday's bout between Lew Tendler and Bobby Barrett should be like a race between Morlich and Wireless. The Philadelphia southwest, who is to meet Benny Leonard in Jersey City July 20, stands out conspicuously as a sure-shot winner.

But there is one big point in Barrett's favor. It is his terrific punching power. If the dope is to be believed, it will be that mighty right of Bobby's to accomplish the trick.

It is virtually a foregone conclusion that Tendler must score a knock-out, if he is to win.

Tendler himself is not a cream-puff puncher. Lew is the possessor of deep-producing wallop.

Lew's score will show a long string of knock-outs. However, the Logan lambaster doesn't depend entirely on his hitting ability to win.

He is one of the cleverest fighters in America of his style in the world.

Serious Contender

While Tendler has proved his worth as a serious contender for the light-weight championship for several years, it has been only within the last few weeks that Barrett has stepped into the line.

A one-round knock-out against Johnny Mealy made the fans here sit up and recognize Barrett as a serious contender in America.

Both Barrett and Tendler finished their respective training yesterday afternoon. Bobby did all of his work on Jimmy Dougherty's estate, where a splendid open-air gymnasium, as well as an indoor, was erected especially for the red-head.

In condition at Philadelphia Jack O'Brien's.

Down to Weight

Each said this morning that he was under the specified weight, 135 pounds, and they are to weigh in at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the office of Herman Taylor and Bobby Lums, the promoters, at Thirtieth and Filbert streets.

Tendler and Barrett both are confident of victory, the former even more so. While Barrett has had a long training, he has not taken Barrett seriously, and figures that he will have one of the easiest bouts of his career.

Barrett, on the other glove, is expecting a hard battle with the ultimate result in his favor.

"I understand that Tendler has trained with the purpose in mind of creating a defense for a straight right-hand punch," said the unnamed promoter this morning after a light breakfast at his home in Clifton Heights.

"And that none of his sparring partners, including the trigger right-hand puncher Joe Jackson, has been able to connect."

"That's all well and good. But when he steps in there Monday against me, I'll have something else to contend with. I'm not going to dilly-dally waiting for a chance to get one good sock. It's going to be a rip-and-irish hit battle from my end, and if I fail to get him with my right, I think I can hit a little bit with my left."

"Before the scheduled ending of the eight-round bout some one will be declared the winner."

How Tendler and Barrett Shape Up for Bout

Table comparing physical stats of Tendler and Barrett: height, chest, reach, etc.

Speaking of Leonard

Tendler was surprised to hear that one gives Barrett even a long-shot chance to win.

"Barrett is the hardest puncher I ever have seen in action. I saw him knock out Hymie Gold and he probably would knock out any one with whom he connected, but he's not going to hit me. All I hope is that I don't have to set the pace all the time. I'll do a little boxing for him, but that matter, all of it, if necessary."

"It's always hard to make a good fight if the other fellow is in there to stay. If Barrett tries, and opens up, he'll hit the floor. Certainly I expect to win."

If the advance sale for Monday's bout can be taken as a criterion, a crowd of 20,000 will be at the bouts. This show will be the official opening of the summer boxing season in Philadelphia.

THE KERNEL

PHILLIES RECALL ROOKIE PITCHER

Singleton Puled Back From Toronto by Baker—Baumgartner or Sullivan Will Go

WILL NOT TRADE HENLINE

Sheriff Singleton, a Phil rookie, has been recalled from the Toronto Club of the International League, according to an announcement made by William F. Baker, the president of the club, today.

Either Stanley Baumgartner, former University of Chicago south-paw, or Lefty Sullivan, South Boston pitcher, will be sent to Toronto by Singleton. The choice is for Toronto to make.

Singleton was with the Phillies on their Southern training trip, but was sent to Toronto before the big league season started. Since joining the Canadians, Singleton has been going good shape and has won four games without losing one.

Singleton has been on two training trips with the Phils. Last season he was farmed out to Newark and had a good year, despite the poor standing of the Jersey club. He looked good at Leasburg, but Wilhelm decided to let him get a little more experience before permitting him to break into the big league.

Singleton has a great curve ball and has been pronounced to be as good as any in the National League. He should be a valuable asset to the Phils.

President Baker denied emphatically that he was considering trading Butch Henline for Earl Smith as suggested by John McGraw.

"He has been playing grand ball for us," said Mr. Baker, "and he is a much better catcher than Smith. The New Yorker is not the type I want on my ball club and I would not consider the trade a minute."

DREXEL MEET OFF

Rain Causes Postponement of Annual Field Day Sports

Drexel Institute's annual track and field meet, scheduled for this afternoon on Strawberry and Clothier field, was postponed until next Monday because of the rain.

Listed among the various events, in order of their taking place are the 100-yard dash, high jump, shot put, broad jump, one mile, 220-yard dash, pole vault and relay race. After this is complete, a pentathlon will be held. In the pentathlon, the following events will be run off: Discus throw, javelin throw, broad jump, 100-yard dash and one mile.

Hilarity is keen among the classes. Last year the senior class won the meet but they had Andy Hyster gather in ten points in the mile and relay race. Boardman would easily copy the mile this year. Sidwell, of the present senior class, is the leading scorer of the afternoon, as he has been winning three events in all of the dual meets this year.

The relay race will be the hardest fought event on the program. This appears to be a close contest between the juniors and the sophomores, each of which has two of the varsity sprinters on their team.

CAMDEN DOG SHOW

Will Be Held at Lullworth Estate in Haddonfield Tomorrow

The Camden County Kennel Club will hold its sanctioned dog show tomorrow at the Lullworth estate, in Haddonfield, N. J.

This event, according to the advance entries, has also been strongly supported.

The show was anticipated, owing to the large number of special prizes which have been placed by the energetic and popular ladies' committee in charge of the show.

Manager White has pulled his team together after several defeats last week, and with Carlin and Reed recovered from recent injuries expects to hold the Darbys.

The weavers' pitchers are not in the best of shape. Mike Hoffman and Lefty Schofield, the standbys for a long while, have seen little service, but Schofield may face the colored stars against Reeder or Flournoy.

Natonsie will invade Seventh and Grange to secure revenge on Fox Motor for administering the first defeat of the season to the stocking makers last week, while Melin A. A. will be the attraction at Wildwood, of Frankford.

Hilldale is back at Dobson, and that means that the field at Thirty-fifth street and Queen lane will be packed with fans. Ed and Steve will be the main attraction.

ALAN FRIEL, STAR ATHLETE, IS DEAD

Former Catholic High Football Captain Succumbed in California—Was Aviator

PLAN MILITARY FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SOON

ALAN A. FRIEL is dead.

The younger set of scholastic fans in this city probably never has heard of him. But the older set has, and remembers him as one of the best athletes in the city five or six years ago.

Friel was captain of the Catholic High School football team back in 1917. He played for the Cahillites four years on the gridiron. For the first two seasons he held down an end position. His last two years at school he was the quarterback.

He was a member of the Purple and Gold track team for years. He was one of the highest point scorers on the team. He was a brilliant swimmer and was Catholic's mainstay in the dashes. Awarded Nine Letters.

During his scholastic career Friel was awarded letters at Catholic nine times. Friel was on the list as one of the greatest athletes ever to wear the uniform of the Broad and Vine streets institution.

The football team he captained was one of the best ever to represent the school and was the only aggregation to win a city championship for the Cahillites in recent years.

After the 1917 football season ended, Friel decided to go to war. In January, 1918, he left school and enlisted in aviation. He attended the ground school for fliers at Princeton and was later sent to Kelly Field, Tex., where he was commissioned a second lieutenant and was rated as a pursuit squadron flier. He received his commission when he was only nineteen years old.

Died in California

At the end of the war Friel was at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he stayed until his discharge in May, 1919. After his discharge he returned to this city and then migrated to California to enter the fruit-raising business. Once again he was successful, and rapidly advanced to the position of manager of one of the fruit ranches at Serrano, Calif.

He died May 29 while apparently in perfect health. His death came suddenly from acute dilation of the heart. Friel's body has been sent from California, and is expected to arrive here some time Monday. His remains can be viewed at the funeral home of J. J. and J. J. for at least one or two days.

His body then will be sent to Maryland, where he will be buried at Queenstown. He will be accorded a military funeral and some members of the 1917 champion football team will act as pallbearers.

GREEN VALLEY'S FIRST TOURNEY CALLED OFF

Rain Halts Unique Event Over Difficult Course

The first golf tournament over the difficult Green Valley Country Club course scheduled for this morning was called off on account of rain.

The new dates set for the event is June 30 and July 1. The manner of play will be unique for a tournament in Philadelphia, since it will be medal play throughout.

The field will be divided into classes according to handicap. A 15 and 16 handicap will include all those with handicaps ten or better. The other divisions will range accordingly and at the end of 72 holes, 32 the first and seven two junior sections, a wand drill will be deducted from gross scores and handsome prizes awarded.

ASTOR'S ENTRY WINS

Pogrom Captures the Oak Stakes at Espoon Downs, Eng., June 2.—Viscount Astor's Pogrom, by Lemberg out of Popingale, won the Oak Stakes today.

Sir E. Hulton's Soubriquet, by Lemberg out of Silver Fowl, was second, and E. S. Alary's Mysia, by Hachlor's Double out of Mitylene, was third. Eleven horses ran.

MISS RYAN LOSES

American Tennis Star Is Defeated in England

Chwick, Eng., June 2.—Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of San Francisco, was defeated in the semi-finals of the Middlesex tennis championships here today by Mrs. Peacock, former champion of India. Mrs. Peacock won by the score of 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Old-Time Ball Player Dies

Detroit, June 2.—John P. Coleman, said to have been a member of the Philadelphia Athletics in 1884, died here yesterday night while struck by a automobile. Coleman's skull was fractured. Authorities have not reported the cause of his death to a son in Trenton, N. J.

Leoney Honored by Rotarians

Festoon, Pa., June 2.—At Leoney, Pa. yesterday afternoon, the Rotarians of Leoney broke the intercollegiate 100-yard dash record by winning the race.

They were defeated by the Rotarians of Leoney, who won by the score of 1:10.4.

The track events include a century dash for members of the track team only, a relay race for the varsity and reserve track relay teams.

The high jump is closed to members of the track squad, as is the broad jump.

A relay race for all but the freshmen sections is carried. The first-year men will run with the boys from the annex of the school for the annex championship.

The Catholic High baseball nine will oppose a picked team from the All-Philadelphia High schools' first and second years.

Thomas Scott has been elected track captain for the 1922 season. He gained the leadership after a spirited battle with Bowen, another favorite for the captaincy. Scott is a long-distance runner, having competed in the half and quarter mile runs for the school this year.
