

Joseph C. Lincoln's New Serial and 50 other stories and striking features

FAIR HARBOR is the best of those quaint Cape Cod stories that have made the creator of Cap'n Eri, Shavin's, and Galusha the Magnificent known as America's best-loved author.

Full of the tang and the twang of the New England coast, which Mr. Lincoln knows so well, it tells with rare humor and romance the stormy adventures of a two-fisted sea captain with a job ashore.

Fair Harbor begins in the big June Home Journal—out to-day—and will appear in six generous installments. Don't miss it.

Read also Surf, a romantic tale of John Paul Jones, by Stephen Moorhouse Avery, with vigorous full-color illustrations by Wyeth; The Torch, a story of two sisters, by Hugh McNair Kahler; and stories by Grace Richmond, Louis Dodge, Francis Noyes Hart, Sarah Addington and others.

The Mystery of Women's Clubs

Mary Austin, than whom no one is closer to the cultural life of American Women, writes of our 2,000,000-membered women's clubs: "Is there not a weakness in an organization of intelligent women when it remains so much a mystery to intelligent men? . . . A turning point is near in club history . . . or they will become a sort of intellectual cozy corner." With kindly criticism she presents a plan for broadening the field of women's clubs.

Woman's Unseen Hand

Plays a Big Part in National Politics. Is your congressman's wife in society? Does she write back home of teas and dinners and dances at the Washington homes of the great and the near-great? With election coming on, these are pertinent questions for the woman voter—it is said that many a law is put across over a cup of tea. Under the title of The Social Lobby, Charles A. Selden tells a remarkable story of society's flattering influence.

Women Cigarette Fiends

Two Cigarettes a Day for every man, woman and child in America—that is the nation's consumption since women have learned to smoke! In the big cities you see women smoking everywhere—in hotels, theatres, restaurants, at home, on the street; there are special smoking rooms for girls in exclusive schools. Yet most women don't like it and leading doctors say smoking is injuring their health. Why do women smoke? Let Harry Burke tell you!

The Perfect Child

Katherine was a perfect child—perfect in manners, in study, in play. Yet one day she ran amuck and ruined a whole house. Why? What was wrong with her training? Miriam Finn Scott tells you—the child mind has no secrets from her; nor has the child body any secrets from Dr. S. Josephine Baker. Both these experts write exclusively for The Home Journal, and every month they are answering the problems of millions of parents.

Summer Styles from Paris

Organdies, Laces, Gingham—reds and blacks and whites—what should you wear for a summer at home or on vacation days? The June JOURNAL tells you, with sensible styles from Paris and New York—news of the ready-made shops, patterns for making at home, sewing lessons for the beginner, directions for making your hats. And fascinating needlework ideas for daylight-saving afternoons on the porch.

A Cool Kitchen in Summer

Yes, a Cool Kitchen in summer. Sounds impossible, but it's true. Let Caroline B. King tell you how to save time and health and money during the hot days. Also in the big household department:

New Recipes for the Old Shortcake
To Save You Two Dollars or More
Four Small Houses of Unusual Design

Stencils for Furniture
When One Eats Out of Doors
June Jams and Jellies
Colette Makes Fruit and Vegetable Salads

182 Pages in the Big June Issue of

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

On Sale Today

15c. the Copy From Any News-dealer or Boy Agent

By Mail Subscription $1.50 the Year

You can subscribe through any newsdealer or authorized agent or send your order direct to THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania