Freedom also will represent President Harding abroad and will report directly to him on trade and economic relations to American interests. He sails for Europe today on the British liner Olympic.

WHAT EVERYBODY WANTS BUT CAN'T AGREE TO DO

A Union Railroad Station Would Soon Be Built If Those Who Think Together Would Act Together

REARRANGEMENT of the railroad terminals in preparation for the fair in 1926, the need of which was pointed out on this page some time ago, is beginning to find a place in public discussion.

RAIDS REVIVED

IF MAYOR MOORE wished to demonstrate by the order for a general raid of gambling dens that he hasn't changed his mind or his policy, and that he has not surrendered to any of the privilege-dispensing demagogues, he succeeded.

FATHER OF STATE FORESTRY

IT IS conceivable that Joseph Trimble Rorbrock, father of forest protection in Pennsylvania, died an optimist. Certainly in the course of his eighty-four active years Dr. Rorbrock was privileged to witness a remarkable evolution in the safeguarding of the tree treasures of the Nation, and particularly in his native State.

WASHINGTON NOTE

AGAIN members of the Senate and the House have been threatening to beat each other up in full view of an expectant world. Senator McMillan, of North Dakota, advanced from his seat during a furious debate on details of the proposed bill to amend the act to punish Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, other Senators, with a delicate sense of their public obligations, intervened.

AN INNOCENT ABROAD

YOUTH, as every one knows, will have its way. But it requires no great gifts of prophecy to perceive that Marjorie McConrad will never marry the Swiss groom with whom she fell in love in Zurich.

SOME SEA PARADOXES

THE patriotic sentiment in the effort of the National Administration to persuade Government officials and representatives to accompany abroad to travel on American vessels. The policy is expressed also in the pending Ship Subsidy Bill and is, indeed, one of the few features of that measure not subjected to invidious criticism by any quarter.

CONCERNING DOCTORS

WHAT'S up among the doctors? Neither the open discussion at the convention of the Allied Medical Association of America nor the sensational speech with which Dr. Mayer, the president, presented his resignation, tends to encourage in the lay mind the traditional impression of medical ethics and the doctor's beneficent relation to his community.

MODERNIZING PARK MUSIC

WITH all respect for the excellent bands on the plaza, in the squares and in Fairmount Park, it must be conceded that summer music in Philadelphia has not kept pace with the standards set in several other large cities.

AERIAL TRAFFIC COPS?

MOTOR mania is not what might be expected on such an elevated level of the roundabouts. It is at the present moment epidemic among all amateurs in aviation. So Secretary Weeks, who was present at the Lincoln Memorial dedication exercises when an airplane came roaring overhead to make so much noise that President Harding's speech for the weekly nights and Sundays afternoons. The charm of the Park would be obviously enriched by such attractions, since there is no doubt whatever of the public appetite for the best orchestral offerings.

UNWRITTEN LAWS

"NO MAN," said Judge Rosolsky, "in New York, when he imposed a penitentiary sentence on a prisoner convicted of attacking and wounding a man whom he charged with stealing away his wife's affections, 'other than the ministers of justice has a right to say whose life should be taken or spared.'"

MUSICAL CRITICS

MUSICAL critics whose names are familiar to the great musicians of this and other lands are Gilbert H. Shearer, Harvey M. Watts, Samuel L. Lincier and, now long dead, Walter J. Paine, and Charlie Strine, who managed Melba, was himself a singer as well as a writer.

THINGS THE PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW

"The average citizen very often does not know exactly what to do when fire is discovered in his home. One excellent way is to call Emergency on the phone and ask that a fire company be sent to the house, giving the address clearly and distinctly, and avoid repetition and delay. These messages are delivered very quickly and the fire company nearest the house is notified to respond."

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS!

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

CHIEF ROSS B. DAVIS

On Fire Alarms and Prevention

ABOUT 5 per cent of the fire alarms sent in Philadelphia are malicious ones, and practically all the false alarms come in this category according to Ross B. Davis, Chief of the Bureau of Fire.

How to Stop It

"But in addition to the cost, there is the constant risk of accident to pedestrians caused by moving the heavy fire apparatus in narrow streets. The great trouble in securing convictions is the necessity in the eyes of the magistrates for having eye-witnesses of the misdemeanor."

SHORT CUTS

Milwaukee balloon contest is still up in the air. Happily yesterday was one of just's rare days. One of the chances the gamblers took went against them. Council, bored, gave the Mayor's Planning Board the sliding board. Ireland still hesitates at giving up her title as the distasteful country. Cap'n Cuttle has won the Derby. But he thought Mrs. MacStinger was at his heels. The Ward case demonstrates that fact is a slow poke. It is conjecture that asked the thrill. Campaign expense accounts demonstrate that democracy has not yet mastered perfect expression. We have our minds so full of roams we sometimes forget that this is also the name of buttermilk. The one thing investigation of the coal business always uncovers is the necessity for further investigation. Bulgaria may be simply another case of delusion of grandeur. New York is glowing over its biggest news story in years. Everybody is getting a seat in the subway cars. If a railroad strike follows the coal strike all the public will need will be another to be knocked out. The Atlantic City man arrested for giving his cows highballs may have been trying to make milk shakes. McCumber's efforts to preserve his prestige by jamming his measures through may land him in a pickle instead. Contemplation of joyous possibilities invokes the thought that the Bonus Bill and the Tariff Bill may set each other up. Borah expects to see chaos if the World falls. Logical chap, Borah. He'd expect to see a scrambled egg if Humpty Dumpty fell. One excellent reason for England and France sticking together is that such a union is the strongest kind of collateral for a European loan.

RECAP

Our fire department is certainly one of the best in the country, and I do not know of any department in the United States, considering the equipment, which will compare with it. The fire boys do not fear any fire which they can see, or where the sky is lighted up, but it is when they find the buildings loaded with smoke, with no sign of the fire apparent, that the real work is to be done.

RECAP

"None of the officers of the fire companies care to see the high-pressure system if a fire can be handled without it. The weight of the water from the high-pressure system is so great that it might often make a building unsafe. Each gallon of water weighs approximately eight pounds and the discharge from the high-pressure system is so enormous that you will have 10,000 gallons inside almost before you know it. This will add 80,000 pounds to the weight of the building and will cause it to settle, especially if it has been already weakened by the fire. For this reason the high-pressure system is used only when it is necessary."

RECAP

How full of use old things this beautiful world is! The joyous citizen may prepare to pay the second installment of his income tax. The million-dollar orders that we never, it is alleged, executed by Dietrich, we suppose, be considered as merely a step in the bucking. If Watson, of Georgia, could be induced to make a pass at somebody of his own intellectual size the featherweight championship might be decided. The few remaining American soldiers in Coblenz are said to be not over-anxious to return home; which means that good and good living have given the doubting some crust. Because Lloyd George sometimes wears the spectacles of political opportunism, the world occasionally fails to give him credit for the statesman's vision which is assuredly his. Doylstown has a man who has just without food for fifty days and declares he feels the better for it. Maybe so. And that, there are more ready to believe him than to follow his example. The efforts of the Lockwood committee to get a line on the merger of the Midland, Republic and Inland Steel Companies do not necessarily indicate belief that they are anything underhand in the plan to sell the Henry Ford.
