NOTE IN AUTO GIVES WARD CASE CLUE

"Fran Was There When It Happened," Says Letter Supporting Cunningham Story

FOUND BY GARAGE MAN

By the Associated Press

White Plains, N. Y., June 8.—Another clue tending to substantiate the story of James J. Cunningham, race track "detective," that Walter S. Ward shot and killed Clarence Peters, former sailor, at the Ward home in New Rochelle, on the night of May 15, bobbed up today as District Attorney Weeks was resuming investigation of the case before the Grand Jury.

The new clue was in the form of a letter, unsealed and unstamped, which Benjamin Kendall, a White Plains garage employe, turned over to the authorities, saying he found it in the coupe of J. Franklin Burke, of Scarsdale, left with him Monday night to be washed. The letter, addressed to Mrs. Charles Dubois, of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., read in part, according to Kendall:

"Fran was there when it happened and left at 10:30. The glass that they found in the driveway was not from Ward's car at all. It came from mine. Walt didn't arrive until 9:30, although Beryl was waiting."

Inquired for Letter

Ward has maintained, since he surrendered, asserting he had slain Peters in self-defense in connection with a blackmail attempt, that the killing occurred near Kensico reservoir, where Peters' body was found.

Kendall declared today that when Mrs. Burke called for the coupe last Tuesday she inquired anxiously after the letter and seemed excited when he told her he had not seen it.

Burke, who is connected with a New York woolen company, declared the letter had no bearing on the Ward case, and that neither he nor his wife had attended a card party at the Ward home on the night of the killing.

"Fran" Attended Party

Referring to the statement concerning the broken glass in the letter, he admitted the glass in his car had been broken accidentally in starting the machine.

Mrs. Alfred H. Hook, who lives across the street from the Wards, and whose Christian name, Frances, is abbreviated to "Fran" by her friends, admitted to newspapermen today that she was at the Ward card party on the night of the Peters shooting. She said Mrs. Burke was there also, but she did not see Peters.

"Was there any shooting in the Ward house?" she was asked.

"Positively none; there was no disturbance of any kind," she said.

MRS. STOKES IN NEW FIGHT OVER HER TWO CHILDREN

Mother Is More Interested in Offspring Than in Alimony

New York, June 8.—Quietly, almost imperceptibly, yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Finch, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes' longing for the complete and permanent possession of her two small children relegated into the background her interest in the amount of permanent alimony William E. D. Stokes will be ordered to pay.

The transformation, by which the small figures of James and Helen Muriel Stokes took the place of dollar signs was rapid. Samuel Untermyer, attorney for Mrs. Stokes, had finished cross-examining Mr. Stokes on his income.

Mr. Untermyer explained he was at a loss to say whether he had any more questions to ask the witness.

If Justice Finch agreed with him that he had no jurisdiction over the two children permanently awarded to Mrs. Stokes by Judge Ben Lindsey in Denver three years ago, he had no more questions to ask. If Justice Finch held he did have authority to dispose of their custody he wanted to question Mr. Stokes further.

Justice Finch declined to rule on the question at this time and a lively argument ensued.

LITTLE OLD RESTAURANT GONE; HER HEART BROKEN

Woman, 85, Found by Patrolman Wandering About Wharf

For thirty-five years Mrs. Caroline Spingel, of Drexel Hill, hadn't seen the old restaurant she once conducted at Girard avenue and Frankford road. She had gone to live with her grandson in Delaware County, and it was only with the coming of her eighty-fifth year that the longing to visit the place before she died became an obsession.

Late yesterday Mrs. Spingel left Drexel Hill and managed to reach Girard avenue and Frankford road. But she found that the little restaurant was gone and so were the homes and the landscapes familiar to her. Modern structures were everywhere.

After that Mrs. Spingel somehow didn't care where she went. This morning a patrolman found her wandering about the Shackamaxon street wharf. She wouldn't say much, but kept murmuring, "All gone, all gone." Later the grandson came to take her back to Drexel Hill.

At about the same time the launching takes place 163 officers and men of the Imperial Japanese Navy will sail from Yokohama on the steamer Kaga Maru for the purpose of manning the Kamoi when it is completed. The party is due in Seattle, Wash., on June 28. Negotiations have been completed between the Japanese Government and the United States State Department for the detachment to travel through the country in full uniform and with side arms. A special train will bring them to this city about June 28.

true. As far as I know they have never abused this freedom. They have always endenvored to state both sides to their students.

"Also the president of the college never has been restricted even by single criticism over outside or inside work on radical educational measures, woman suffrage, prohibition, social hygiene, her work to help fight the late war to a finish, her advocacy of the League of Nations or compulsory international arbitration."

Dr. Welch spoke on "The Contribution of Bryn Mawr College to the Higher Education of Women." He said, in part:

"My profession has at last given its reluctant consent to the proposition that the health of girls is generally benefited, rather than impaired, by the conditions of college life.

"Fitness Enhanced"

"The demonstration of the capacity of young women to meet all the mental tests of college work, at least as successfully as men students, is complete and convincing. College breeding, instead of sacrificing, enhances womanly charm, attractiveness and fitness for domestic happiness."

Dr. Welch then praised Dr. Thomas for her achievements in the educational fields and in this connection said:

"The acumen and skill displayed by Dr. Thomas in searching out and obtaining teachers and investigators whose high promise in the glory of their youth was later realized is hardly to be duplicated—unless it be in the manifestation of certain trained senses and qualities in the realms of thought and hunting.

"The best fruit of all the contributions of Bryn Mawr and of the inspiring personal influence and instruction of Dr. Thomas are the lives and works of more than 4500 former and present students, of whom about 2000 are alumnae of this college.

Dr. Thomas entertained in the deanery in honor of Dr. Welch and Dr. Park.

In the afternoon Dr. Thomas will give a tea in the deanery to the faculty, staff and friends of the immediate neighborhood, which occasion is intended to serve as a formal introduction of Dr. Park to the college.

GALLOWS WORRY JURORS

Object to Construction for Hanging Near Sleeping Quarters

Waukegan, Ill., June 8.—(By A. P.)—The jurors in the trial of Governor Len Small, in whom the long inaction of jury duty has developed prima donna temperaments, went to the mat with the State of Illinois today for the third time. This time it is an execution to which they objected.

The jurors have a third-floor bedroom in the courthouse, and yesterday morning they were aroused by a din of carpenters' tools and much other activity overhead. The noise continued all day, even penetrating the courtroom and sometimes making witnesses' answers inaudible.

An investigation last night disclosed the structure of a gallows building on the top floor where the slayer of a policeman will be hanged a week from Friday. After a restless night the jurors today requested the State to take the hanging some place else.

PULL DOWN POLES; HALT TROLLEY LINE

Vandals Stop Bridgeton-Millville Cars in Feud Over Jitney Service

GANG USES AUTOTRUCK

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger

Bridgeton, N. J., June 8.—The bitter feud existing betdween the Bridgeton-Millville Traction Company, on the one side, and the jitney bus owners on the other, culminated in vandalism early today when trolley poles and wires were pulled down on the outskirts of Millville. Traffic on the trolley line, which plans to suspend operations June 15, was halted temporarily until emergency repairs could be made.

Recently the traction company received permission from the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission to cease operation of their line, which runs between this town and Millville. The reason given for the suspension was that it was a losing proposition.

On May 10 Bridgeton City Council refused to grant a renewal of licenses to two jitney bus operators. They were ordered to stop running on May 14. As a result of the ruling off of the two jitneys the trolley line has been carrying full carloads of passengers.

Early today men in a large truck backed up in the road several miles above Millville and hitched ropes around a number of trolley poles. The truck then proceeded to pull down the poles and the lines. Not content with this the feed wires were grounded on the trolley rails.

As a result of the vandalism and destruction of property county authorities have been assigned to investigate.

BANKERS DROP PLAN FOR GERMAN LOAN

Opposes Project Because Allies Do Not Favor It Unanimously

Paris, June 8.—(By A. P.)—All idea of an international loan to Germany has been given up by the committee of bankers, and they are meeting today to agree upon the form of their report to this effect which will be submitted to the Reparations Commission.

The work of formulating the report may take two or three sittings.

The prevailing conviction among the members of the bankers committee is that two things are necessary to a loan: First, there must be unanimity among the lenders, which were to include all the countries represented on the reparations commission; second, that the credit basis of Germany must be outlined clearly.

The bankers look upon the reparations commission's reply to their recent note as an official declaration that unanimity does not exist among the prospective lenders, and therefore feel that plans for a loan cannot be advised. The bankers committee was given authority yesterday by the commission to decide this question.

HUGHES TO GET STATEMENT ON TACNA-ARICA DEADLOCK

Secretary Expected to Tender 'Good Offices' to Arbitrators

Washington, June 8.—(By A. P.)—Steps have been taken to lay before the State Department the differences over Tacna-Arica which have brought the Chilean-Peruvian conference here to a standstill.

It was indicated today, however, that the move did not involve a formal request for mediation, but simply was for the purpose of informing the United States Government, as host to the conference, regarding the delicate situation reached in the negotiations.

The general expectation, however, was that an offer of "good offices" by Secretary Hughes would be the result. It was said that neither side would be bound by any compromise suggestions the Secretary might take, but that the whole procedure would be an entirely informal effort by the Washington Government to avert a break.

TRIES TO BLOCK USE OF RAID EVIDENCE

Charles Mosconi Asks Court to Order Police to Return Papers Taken From Safes

EXPOSE MAY BE HALTED

A move to block the use of evidence obtained in last week's gambling raids through the seizure of two safes from a poolroom on Seventh street near Market was made today by Charles Mosconi, owner of the place.

Through John R. K. Scott, his attorney, Mosconi filed a petition with Judge Audenreid asking for the return of the contents of the two safes which were opened at the order of Director of Public Safety Cortelyou.

Judge Audenreid will give a hearing on the petition tomorrow, when the police must show cause why the strong boxes and their contents should not be returned. Mosconi admits they were seized without a search warrant.

The contents of the steel receptacles were described as "of an astounding nature" by Director Cortelyou, who has refused to deny that two canceled checks were found bearing the indorsement of a former high police official.

District Attorney Rotan was served early this afternoon with a notice of the writ petition. The papers and other records in the safes were turned over to Mr. Rotan to prepare the case for court.

Mosconi was held last Friday in $5000 bail for the grand jury on a charge of maintaining a gaming house.

The raids last week were made on evidence obtained by special investigators. Director Cortelyou later declared that the police had failed in their duty by virtually allowing the gambling establishments to operate.

Louis H. Eisenlohr Dies Aboard Yacht

tions all over the United States. As an entertainer he was one of the best known citizens of Philadelphia. Only last Saturday he was one of the hosts at the Wellwood Club, near Havre de Grace, Md., of "Uncle Joe" Cannon. Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, and a number of other prominent men. For years one of his yachts has been stationed in Florida every winter, and it was his delight to have parties from the North as his guests for weeks at a time.

Praised by Cortelyou

He was a member of many fraternal and social organizations and clubs, and aside from his social qualities had high standing in the business community.

Arrangements are being made to bring the body to Philadelphia today. The funeral will be held Saturday.

Probably none of Mr. Eisenlohr's friends felt his death more keenly than Safety Director Cortelyou.

"Mr. Elsenlohr was one of Philadelphia's most useful citizens," he said. "He stood for everything that was good and had the pride of the city at heart at all times. He worked quietly in its behalf. He was also interested in the welfare of the poor and the orphans.

"The full extent of his charity will never be known. He was a member of the Cubs, an organization which provides amusement for orphans. In this connection Mr. Elsenlohr always did a great deal more than his share."

"Mr. Eisenlohr was one of Philadelphia's best citizens," Mayor Moore said. "He was neither highbrow nor lowbrow, but the type we are all pleased to recognize as worthy of emulation.

"He died a rich man, but notwithstanding that, he had more personal friends than many of those who have attained a wider celebrity. Philadelphians and those elsewhere who knew him have lost a good friend and a good citizen in the passing of Louis Eisenlohr."

HIGH COST OF TALK STIRS LUTHERANS

Speakers at Ministerium Are Urged to "Make It Snappy" and Reduce Expenses

OUTLAY NOW $96 AN HOUR

Holding of the 175th annual convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, in session in the Old St. John's Church, is costing $96 an hour. This was pointed out today by the Rev. Dr. H. A. Weller, president of the Ministerium, in urging the speakers to be brief and touch only the high spots.

Dr. Weller said that reduced to a cost basis it could be seen what an expense a waste of time meant. Dr. Weller spoke at the opening of the business session which followed devotional exercises, starting the third day of the convention.

The first speaker today was Dr. A. L. Ramer, of Allentown, who discussed the "Immigrant Mission Problem." He stressed the need of having a member on hand in the port of New York to talk to the emigrants and immigrants.

"The Jews are not clamoring to be told why they should not be of the Jewish faith; they are waiting for us to give convincing reasons why they should become Christians," said the Rev. Dr. Paul I. Morentz, Hebrew Lutheran clergyman, who addressed the convention.

Dr. Morentz announced that William P. Braun, a layman of St. John's Church, Melrose Park, has offered to build a Hebrew Chapel in Philadelphia. The site suggested is at 417-419 Wood street.

Twelve men will be ordained this evening by Dr. Weller. Most of the men will be given assignments in rural districts and in foreign countries. The twelve men and their assignments follow:

W. L. Gallenkamp, Frackville, Pa.; H. E. Herman, Redeemer Ridge, Pa.; M. J. Hoeppner, Shenandoah, Pa.; C. E. Jeutsch, Gloucester, N. J.; J. A. Linn, Japan; Alexander Poleski, Allentown, Pa.; K. D. Snyder, instructor at Mount Airy Seminary; L. W. Stridsley, Macon, Ga.; C. H. Swabley, India; A. P. Waltz, Cleveland; George Weng, Bridgeport, Conn., and C. W. Cell, Boston.

TRAIN WRECKED NEAR YORK; FIREMAN DEAD

Two Women Seriously Injured; Other Passengers Hurt

York, Pa., June 8.—(By A. P.)—The fireman was killed and the engineer and several passengers were injured last night when the Pennsylvania Railroad Buffalo express, northbound from Washington, was wrecked at Brillharts, near here. Only two passengers, Mrs. M. Stone Scott, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Henrietta Furvy, of Chicago, were hurt seriously enough to require hospital attention.

Mrs. Furvy was not hurt in the wreck, but after escaping from the derailed car, fell thirty-five feet through an overhead bridge, which had been damaged by the smashup. She was trying to get to the station across the tracks. Her right leg and arm were broken and it is feared she was also injured internally.

Others injured were the Rev. W. E. Roop, of Westminister, Md.; Leah Goodman, of Cleveland; Ruth E. Williams, of Williamsport, Pa.; Mrs. Hattie Jessires, of Washington; Anthony Erlga, of Renova, Pa., and several Negro cooks and waiters in the dining car.

PEACE IN CHINA FORECAST WITH LI AS PRESIDENT

Military Leaders Ready to Quit When He Assumes Office

Tientsin, June 8.—Wu Pei Fu and Tsao Kun, respectively the dominant military leader of China and his chief lieutenant, yesterday expressed their willingness to resign in the interests of unifying the Republic provided Li Yuan-Hung will immediately come to Peking and assume the presidency.

Li's manifesto was received in official and civic circles here with mixed feelings of hope and apprehension. The evils of the system of military Governors, which brought about the downfall of Li Yuan-Hung and his retirement from the presidency in 1917, are considered indisputable. The practicability of its immediate abolition, however, is gravely questioned.

It is pointed out that if all the Tuchuns, or provincial military governors, are immediately forced to resign, leaving their troops with pay six months overdue, there is a dangerous probability of mutinies and wholesale looting. In such a situation the enemies of Wu Pei-Fu's program of unification would be the gainers by the disorganization certain to ensue.

Court Sets Aside $7000 Verdict

Trenton, June 8.—The Supreme Court yesterday held to be excessive a verdict for $7000 awarded by a jury in the Passaic Circuit Court to Mrs. Theresa Debelmonte, whose twelve-year-old son was killed by an automobile truck owned by the John T. Harrop Company, defendant in the suit. The Court held that if Mrs. Debelmonte would accept $4500 judgment may be entered for that amount, otherwise a new trial will be granted on the ground of excessive damages.

Plans Munich-Chicago Trip by Air in 24 Hours

Geneva, June 8.—(By A. P.)—Herr Borr, director of the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, Germany, is planning an airship with a capacity of 100,000 cubic meters, equipped with engines developing 3000 horsepower and capable of flying from Munich to Chicago in twenty-four hours. The ship will be launched when the allies remove restrictions on manufacture of aircraft in Germany, he says.

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S FUNERAL IS TODAY

Harding, Pinchot, Sproul and Hundreds of Others Send Floral Tributes

MARINES IN SILENT VIGIL

By the Associated Press

Pittsburgh, June 8.—Friends from officialdom, from the profession which carried her to the height of her operatic glory, and from the walks of life into which her various interests carried her in later years, will today pay their last respects to Lillian Russell Moore, wife of A. P. Moore, Pittsburgh publisher.

Her death on Tuesday morning struck deep into the hearts of those who had known her down through the years during which she was heralded as "Queen of American Opera." Hundreds of sympathetic messages have been received at the home, as well as many beautiful floral tokens.

The funeral will take place in Trinity Episcopal Church at 2:30 o'clock. A private service will be conducted at the home previously, when members of the family and a few friends will look for the last time upon the features of the woman who was admired the world over. The Rev. Dr. Edward S. Travers, rector of the church, will officiate at both services.

Silent sentinels, a detachment of United States Marines, stood guard at the deathroom in the Moore home since their arrival from Washington under orders from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. They are watching over a dead comrade, for such she was by official warrant during the World War, when she held the rating of gunnery sergeant.

And when their vigil has ended they will be the bodyguard on the march to the church and thence to the cemetery. There the survivors of the 107th Field Artillery will escort the cortege from the gates to the vault where Mrs. Moore's body will find a resting place until a suitable mausoleum can be erected. A firing squad from the American Legion, whose ranks the distinguished woman graced by her membership, will render the farewell salute.

Although a request that no floral tributes be sent to the home had been made, hundreds of wreaths from persons prominent in official and professional walks of life were received. One of these was from the White House. This was placed on the foot of the couch on which Mrs. Moore's body lies.

Others who contributed floral offerings were Senator McCormick, Attorney General Daugherty, Governor and Mrs. Sproul, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Wood, Congressman Stephen G. Porter, Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt and other persons well known in social and theatrical circles. Organizations also forwarded their tributes, military, professional and social.

Hundreds of additional telegrams of condolences were also received. Among the senders were United States Senator William M. Calder, Secretary of War Weeks, Daniel Frohman, Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward, Charles M. Schwab and Mrs. Tony Pastor.

WOMEN WILL PLAY BIG PART IN FAIR

Exclusive Exhibition of Their Work, However, Not Favored by Lewis

HE ADDRESSES MEETING

Women will have every opportunity for representation in the Sesqui-Centennial, according to plans of John Frederick Lewis, president of the Sesqui-Centennial Association. He addressed a meeting of representative Philadelphia women today at the Bellevue-Stratford.

Fifty women's organizations were represented at the meeting.

He suggested that women confer with directors at all times, also that they have membership in many of the committees. Mr. Lewis expressed disapproval of any exclusive exhibition of women's work and said that the result of their achievements should be exhibited with those of the men.

Mr. Lewis said: "There are certain fields of the exhibition work peculiarly fitted for women, such as the design and care of rest houses, an emergency hospital and management of a building for the care of children.

"Women should have charge of arrangements for all women's conventions, such as congress of mothers and exhibits of women's schools and colleges.

"It is important that data be collected to illustrate the immense advance made in the mental, moral, industrial and political status of women. Civilization is accredited with having advanced about one-half in the last 150 years, but in recognition of the rights of women, progress has been 90 per cent.

"One of the most important parts women will have will be entertaining women visitors from other countries and assisting in the extension of the hospitality for which Philadelphia is noted."

Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg presided.

"RADIO MAD" BOYS NABBED FOR THEFTS

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Material Seized in Three Downtown Homes

Three "radio-mad" youngsters, none more than fourteen years old, were arrested last night, charged with stealing thousands of dollars' worth of radio apparatus with which they had rigged up high-po[illegible] receiving stations in their own [illegible] in the central section of the city.

When police of the Fifteenth and Vine streets station raided the homes of the boys they were astounded. One station, according to the police, had such a powerful wave length that it was able to receive messages from half way across the continent. A great quantity of intricate apparatus with which the boys had been experimenting was found in various rooms of the houses. It is said to be loot taken from the various radio-outfitting shops which have been burglarized within the last month.

The suspects under arrest are Eugene D. Bevans, fourteen, of 1430 Vine street, just around the corner from the Fifteenth and Vine streets police station; Julian Daniels, thirteen, 1628 Carlton street, and Joseph Karvin, fourteen, 1711 Carlton street.

For the last month police have been baffled by numerous robberies in centrally located stores.

The first place robbed was that of J. Wiener, at 208 North Broad street. Here storage batteries, antenna wire, cat's whiskers, wet batteries, commutators, lightning arresters and a myriad of other apparatus was stolen. The merchandise taken was valued at several thousand dollars. While the police were investigating this robbery a raido shop at 1518 Vine street was entered and a quantity of loot was taken. On the third occasion a surgical instrument shop at Sixteenth nad Sansom streets was robbed.

For days detectives scoured the central section of the city looking at the roofs of houses until finally the elaborate receiving apparatus that the three boys had installed on the roofs of their homes brought them under police surveillance.

The boys were extremely proficient in the new science of radio communication was evidenced by the way in which the sets were rigged up. One of the boys, police say, used apparatus in a manner that has not been used by radio fans.

The sets were so arranged that the three were able to listen in on the broadcasting stations. One boy, it is said, was enabled to hear concerts from as far West as Chicago.

KLAN GRAND GOBLIN NOW FACES ARREST

37 Alleged Members of K. K. K. Indicted for Raid Near Los Angeles

Los Angeles, June 8.—Authorities here will ask for the arrest and detention of William S. Coburn, former grand goblin and supreme attorney of the Ku Klux Klan, who is believed to be in Atlanta, Ga., pending extradition proceedings, it was indicated today.

The District Attorney's office submitted the last of its information to the Grand Jury which returned forty-three indictments for felony in connection with a raid in Inglewood, near here, April 22. Thirty-seven of those indicted are said to be klansmen.

That Nathan A. Baker, kleagle of the Klan, who is in custody of the psychopathic ward of the county hospital, had made elaborate plans to leave Los Angeles before his arrest was announced here by Under Sheriff Discallus, who said Baker had hired an automobile which would connect him with an airplane.

Thirty-four of the alleged members of the Klan who were indicted yesterday will appear in court today and deposit bail, according to their attorney. Bench warrants will be issued for those who do not appear.

The charges are false imprisonment, two counts; kidnapping, two counts, and assault with intent to murder, one count.

Although the three officials have been suspended, according to word from Atlanta, headquarters of the Klan, they have continued to function here and have been recognized by Klansmen as having possession of all the authority of their offices.

Bail was fixed for each of the defendants in the amount of $1000 except Baker, self-admitted leader in the raid, in whose case it was set at $10,000.

Constable Mosher, his son Walter and Special Deputy Sheriff Ruiz were shot by Night Marshal Woerner, of Inglewood, Calif., when the latter went to the aid of an alleged bootlegger being attacked by a band of masked men April 22.

Constable Mosher was killed and the other two refused to say why they were among the masked men. The plans for the attack on the suspected bootleggers, Fidel and Mathias Elduayen, were made at a meeting at which N. E. Baker, Ku Klux Klan Kleagle, was present.

Nearly 100 masked men took part in the night raid on the Elduayen home. They knocked at the door and when it was opened asked for a drink. Fidel's wife told them she had no liquor, whereupon the leaders pushed into the house and ransacked the place. Fidel's two daughters were compelled to get up and dress before the men.
