Later she will go to Cleveland for the wedding of Harriet King and her the brother, Teddy Baird, which will take pace early in July, I hear.
Tonight Emily Philler will entertain at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bodine. Mrs. Bodine was likelen Koues, of New York, you remember.

THE Bayard Bowles' garden party yesterday was jammed—some one said there were 195 cars parked out-I yesterday was said there were 196 cars parked outside their place, and there were certisally hundreds at the tea. The party was for Mr. and Mrs. Bowies' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bayard Bowie, Jr., and was given at their place, Midwoods, in Chestnut Hill. Mrs. Bowie, Jr., who was Christiae Cadwaladex, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Williams Biddle Cadwalader, loked charming in a dress of lavender lines ambroidered in white and a large droping hat of peach color straw trimsed with henna-colored velvet flowers, which was most becoming to her auburn hair and brown eyes. She didn't seem which was most becoming to her audurn hair and brown eyes. She didn't seem a bit exhausted after standing in line from 4 until 7 o'clock and shaking hands with 400 people at least.

MAY GRAHAM wears such snappy clothes, don't you think? I saw yeserday in a black crepe de chine s, the material of which had an inold stripe, and a most dashing at of bright red straw with bunches of popples falling over either side of the brim. Gray stockings and black the brim. Gray stockings and black atta slippers completed the costume. She and her mother, Mrs. Edwin Eldon Graham, are leaving for Cape May soon. Later Gay will go to visit her brother-in-law and sister. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Bacon, of Milwaukee. Mrs. Bacon was Lorraine Graham, and Mrs. Graham came from Milwaukee herself, though, since her marriage to at of bright red straw with bunches and Mrs. Graham came from Milwaukee herself, though, since her marriage to a Philadelphian, she has lived here. Loulie Thompson is an attractive rounger girl. Her name is Loulie, but every one calls her Lutie: why I can't imagine. I saw her the other day in a white crepe knit dress, with a large white felt hat trimmed with a bow of white ribbon on the right side. She has but eyes and light hair and looked very pretty all in white. She is coming t the year after next. She is coming t the year after next.
