

ALTER'S BACKERS SPENT $135,644

Cost Attorney General More to Lose Than It Did Pinchot to Win

VARE GAVE $25,000

The State Combine spent $135,644 in trying to nominate Attorney General Alter for Governor, not counting the money that was paid out in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties.

This expenditure was reported by the Alter State Committee in a statement filed in Harrisburg by the committee treasurer, Thomas S. Boyle, the committee treasurer.

Senator Vare was the biggest contributor, contributing in 1921 over $100,000 more than the campaign committee raised for the Combine standard bearer.

Other contributors included: $25,000—George H. Shaw and Hamilton Stewart; $20,000—Mrs. Alice Jones Wilcox; $15,000—Mrs. Mary Laughlin H. Scott; $10,000—Mrs. F. Jones; $10,000—Mrs. E. M. Jones; $10,000—Mrs. E. M. Jones; $10,000—Mrs. E. M. Jones.

According to the Alter committee's report, its biggest item of expense was for printing, which amounted to $70,515. This was for the printing of 1,000,000 copies of contributions to county committees.

The Alter committee reported it spent $30,500 for advertising. The largest sum was paid to the Philadelphia Sun for advertising in this city, which placed the name of the Alter campaign.

In addition E. J. Warren, of Bristol, received $2500, the Philadelphia Sun $10,000, the Philadelphia Record $10,000, the Philadelphia Record $10,000, the Philadelphia Record $10,000, the Philadelphia Record $10,000.

The committee paid out $7348.32 for the maintenance of headquarters, stationery and other expenses. This included a payment of $3751.50 to the Bellevue Stratford Hotel and $3253.82 to Frank W. Short, executive clerk of Council, who was office manager of the Alter headquarters.

$8325 for postage. Political meetings cost $25 and postage $8325. The sum of $1490 was paid in salaries to clerks, stenographers and messengers at headquarters. The Cunningham Club, of this city, received $1340.20 for carrying speakers. An item of $2040 was listed as traveling expenses of James P. McDevitt, who managed Alter's speaking tour, which received $1305. The American Bank and Trust Company was paid $827 for interest and postage.

The Philadelphia Pinchot Committee also filed a report last night, showing it received $67,047.28 and spent $67,758.52.

Joseph H. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, contributed $21,453.38 to the Pinchot City Committee fund, while Colonel James Elverson, Jr. gave $21,453.38.

Ralph Boyer, of Philadelphia, president of the Narragansett Herald, Edward W. Bok and Henry H. Dinkler each contributed $1000. Cyrus H. K. Curtis gave $500.

Hamilton Demoted in Police Shake-Up. Politically minded men are being demoted. He received, however, no definite word on whether he would follow.

The demotion of Lieutenant Hamilton, though expected, increased the tension in the police ranks. Many rumors are being spread through the corridors at City Hall, and it is generally believed that the recently demoted lieutenant will take.

HELD GIRL ON BOAT

Loss of Fifteen Says She Was Captive for Six Months

Heron, Wash., June 16.—(By A. P.) That she was held captive six months on a fishing boat was the story told authorities here by Grace Kahan, aged fifteen, who was taken by her father and police agents from the craft of Edward Weber, aged fifty-five, a fisherman. She was at her home today.

Weber was arrested. The girl disappeared December 26. Her story, police authorities say, was that Weber seized her on the beach near Heron, took her aboard his boat, forced her to don boy's clothing and to cut her hair and had detained her ever since.

Weber is married and has eight children. PHILA. HIGH GIRL WINS THREE PRIZES

Miriam Lewis Graduates With Distinction at Exercises Today

DOCTOR HOPES PRESIDES

Miss Miriam S. Lewis won three of the prizes awarded at the commencement exercises of the Philadelphia High School for Girls held in Central High School, Broad and Green streets, this morning.

Miss Lewis was awarded the All-American Prize for good work in French, the gold medal for good work in English and the gold prize of the same association for good work in Latin.

The prizes were awarded to pupils in the general course for the highest average score by Miss Beatrice Naylor, who had an average of 94.88 and received the gold medal, and Miss Dorothy S. Smith, who had an average of 90.62 and received a silver medal. The prizes were presented by Joseph W. Hopewell, vice president of the Board of Education.

The seven graduates were all attired in white dresses and carried a bouquet of red roses. Lewis, R. Haver, graduated from the school, presented the diplomas.

The invocation was made by the Rev. Edwin Hall Deak, and the English prayer, written by Elmer Murray Goodman, was delivered by Sophie Gladys Moskowitz. A substitute in Latin was delivered by Dorothy Allen Bowers, of the school.

REPRIMAND GIVEN FOR KAPLAN INSULT

Roosevelt Says Olmsted's Action Caste Doubt on His Fitness as Officer

REPROOF PART OF RECORD

Washington, June 16.—Theodore Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of the Navy, yesterday officially reprimanded the Ensign Olmsted, editor of the Lucky Bag, the year book of this year's graduating class at Annapolis, for "crude and unwarranted" treatment of Leonard Kaplan, a fellow member of the class.

Secretary Roosevelt told Ensign Olmsted, whose home is in Des Moines, that he had been guilty of an action which casts grave doubt as to your possession of those qualifications essential to an officer in the United States Navy, and added "the department will inquire from you in due course of a fundamental change in your attitude toward your comrades in the service."

Olmsted, especially the associate editors, the Naval Secretary asserted, undoubtedly were guilty in some measure for the affront to Kaplan, which consisted in performing the page in the year book containing his photograph and biography so that it might be removed, and in writing a parody of his life. But, added Mr. Roosevelt, the primary responsibility rested on Ensign Olmsted.

No Racial Antipathy Seen

When asked for a copy of the reprimand, Acting Secretary Roosevelt said he had no racial antipathy against Kaplan, but that he was struck by the query in certain paragraphs as to whether the action had been taken because of racial reasons. Feeling as strongly as I do how un-American any such distinction as this should be, I have gone most carefully into this matter, and I am happy to say I am convinced that no such motive was in the mind of the writer.

The records of the Naval Academy show that in the class of 1922 certain of these men were among the most popular in the class. Furthermore a number of our prominent officers, both past and at this time are either Jewish or of Jewish extraction.

Says Navy Has No Distinctions

"The traditions of our country have always been exemplified by our Navy. We pride ourselves that in the service we have no distinctions of race or creed."

The reprimand, as announced in a formal letter to Ensign Olmsted, will be officially become a part of his official record in the navy, follows:

"First. Your statement of May 28, as a superintendent of the Naval Academy, in which you refer to certain of the members of your class in the Lucky Bag, of which you are editor-in-chief, has been received and is satisfactory to the superior officers of the Academy and to the department.

"Second. The department considers your action in permitting the issue of this publication to be a disgrace to the academy. Others, especially your associate editors, are undoubtedly also guilty in some measure in this matter, but the responsibility must rest upon you as editor-in-chief.

"Third. At the outset of your career in a service which requires the closest cooperation and mutual trust among its members, your conduct in this matter is a disgrace to the academy, and the department's strongest condemnation.

"Fourth. You have been guilty of an action which casts a grave doubt as to your possession of those qualifications essential to an officer in the United States Navy. Your action in neither a courteous nor a dignified manner, in the presence of the United States flag, in accordance with the high standard of conduct of the service of which you have become a member.

M. J. SENATE FIGHT ON WET-DRY ISSUE

Raymond, Anti-Prohibitionist, Looms as Chief Opponent of Frelinghuysen

MACHINE VOTE IS DIVIDED

By CLINTON W. GILBERT

Washington, June 16.—The present state of the machine vote in New Jersey illustrates how conditions have been changed by the political overturn in Indiana, Pennsylvania and Iowa. Three candidates are now in the field.

Machine Vote Divided

The anti-machine issue which was presented in Pennsylvania and Indiana appears in New Jersey. Mr. Frelinghuysen and Mr. Raymond are both opponents of the machine.

Wets and Drys Fight

It is believed, however, that in New Jersey the wet-dry issue is more important than the machine issue and that the real contest in the Republican primaries will be between Mr. Frelinghuysen and Mr. Raymond.

HOUSE LEADERS FOR WET SHIPS

Oppose Both Edmonds and Bankhead Amendments to Subsidy Measure

CONFLICT WITH TREATIES

Washington, June 16.—With Republican members of the House Merchant Marine Committee understood to have virtually agreed to oppose the proposal to stop the sale of liquor on American ships by denying the Federal aid provided in the Subsidy Bill to ships on which such sale is made, another amendment to the bill proposing a fine for the sale of liquor on any ship during a voyage starting or ending at an American port was before the committee today for consideration.

The latter proposal, offered by Representative Edmonds, Republican, of Philadelphia, as a substitute first amendment presented by Representative Bankhead, Democrat, of Alabama, and discussed informally committed yesterday, would have the effect of putting American ships on a parity with foreign ships, which do not have prohibitions.

In addition to providing a $10,000 for the first and second effect of the final penalty would be to prohibit the entrance of a ship to American ports. After the proposal was approved by majority committee yesterday that it conflicted with many of the Nation's commercial treaties.

Meanwhile, in the executive branch, although officials were understood to still discussing the question today, there had been no developments beyond indication at the Treasury Department that Attorney General Daugherty would be asked soon for ruling on the legality of liquor selling on American ships. In this connection Daugherty said that if such a ruling was made it would be acted on as speedily as possible.

Regardless of what action the executive branch takes on the Edmonds proposal, the final penalty would be to prohibit the entrance of a ship to American ports. After the proposal was approved by majority committee yesterday that it conflicted with many of the Nation's commercial treaties.
