DOLLY THAYER will be a beautiful Polly THATER will be a beautiful Poride today, and I am sure everything about the wedding will be most unusual, as she and her sister Peggy are always original. Polly's marriage to Hoffman Dolan will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, and will be followed by a reception at Redwood, Haverford, the home of her mother, Mrs. John B. Thayer.

Mrs. John B. Thayer.

There will be several awfully interesting out-of-town weddings, too. In Boston. Katherine Coolidge, the daughter of Mr, and Mrs. William H. Coolidge, of that city, will marry Geoffrey Smith, the son of Mrs. Edward B. Smith, of Gwynedd Valley. One of Geoffrey's brothers, Albert, married Virginia Harrison, and his other brother married Kathleen Lawrence, of England.

In Jamestown, Rosamond Potter, the daughter of Mr. James A. Potter, of Providence. R. I., will become the bride of Charlie Wharton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Lovering Wharton, of Old York road. The Potters and Whartons always spend the sum-mers at Jamestown, so I suppose they thought it would be the nicest place for the wedding.

MONIGHT the only gayety here will L be a dance which Mr. and Mrs. C. Emory McMichael, of Knoll House, Devon, will give for Beatrice Gawtry, of New York. This week-end, too, of New York. This week-end, too, this is commencement week. Lots of girls are going up to house parties there: Sara Paily, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Baily, is, I know.

NNA BELL SEWELL is home A from school now. By this time almost everyone is. She has been at Foxcroft, in Virginia. I saw her yes-terday and she was looking very well in a tan jersey dress, cut at the sides, with an underskirt of a dull rose color boat neck and was finished with butwith the rose silk. She wore a fairly large tan straw hat trimmed with herries and bound with the same color silk, and tan stockings and patent in Dr. leather slippers.

TO HONOR COLONEL CROWDS FLOCK TO VIEW NOTED SARGENT CANVAS

"Duchess of Sutherland" is Hung in Memorial Hall to see Sargent's famous portrait of the Duchess of Sutherland. The painting, which arrived Friday, was purchased by the Fairmount Park Commission and has just been hung in the rooms with the W. P. Wilstach collection.

It is a vivid, striking work of the artist, his sure, easy stroke easily recognized. The Duchess, in the picture, is standing by a garden table, the slender finger tips of her right hand resting on the edge.

Her gown is of Nile green and figures of silver form a delicate design on the fabric of the gown. Her brown hair is parted in the middle and caught
