

Two More Days Added to Ruth's Suspension by Ban Johnson for His Wrangle With Umpire

ANOTHER SENTENCE HANDED TO RUTH

Further Punishment for Home-Run King After Threatening Arbitrator Dineen CALLED UMPIRE "YELLOW"

Chicago, June 21.—Babe Ruth's argument with Umpire Dineen yesterday before the Cleveland-New York game will keep him out of the game two days in addition to the three days' suspension imposed yesterday.

Threatened Bodily Harm The umpire, according to witnesses, was not disposed to resume the argument until Ruth finally threatened him with bodily harm.

On the way to the dugout yesterday Ruth accosted Dineen, who was standing in front of the Indian bench. "Ruth used rotten language to me," said Dineen in discussing the matter.

Since returning to the game, on May 29, Ruth has had little help to the Yankees. He has hit seven home runs, but his batting average for the season is only .237.

Penn's Four Boats Go Over Course in Slack Water Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21.—Time trials, and real trials they were, took place on the Hudson river today.

Little apprehension is felt over the outcome of the race, as the Yale crew has played better ball with him out of the line-up than they have with him in.

MARSTON PLAYS IN LYNNWOOD FINAL

Meets Winner of Knepper-Platt Match at Huntingdon Valley

LARGE GALLERY FOLLOWS

By SANDY McFIBLICK Max Marston entered the final round for the Lynnwood Hall Cup at Huntingdon Valley today by defeating D. C. Corkran, 3 and 1.

R. E. Knepper was one up on Woodie Platt going to the seventeenth hole in the other semi-final match.

The winner of this match will meet Marston in the final. Marston already has two legs on the cup and needs one more for permanent possession.

Marston and Corkran teed off first. The Merton player halted, topping his drive and putting his second in the rough off the green, which cost him the hole.

They halted the next two and then Corkran drove in the rough at the fourth just getting over the bunkers with his second.

At the fifth Corkran hooked his drive and took a 5, being one down. They both played the sixth badly, getting 4's, and Marston won the seventh when Corkran was short.

Marston stymied on the eighth and also lost the ninth when Corkran chipped on nicely with his third and Marston overran his third and missed coming back.

Marston braced and stood three up and four to play when he dropped a putt from the upper edge of the punch bowl fourteenth for a bird two.

Their cards to the turn: Marston—5 4 5 5 4 4 4 4 5—40 Corkran—4 4 5 5 5 4 4 3 4—10

Platt-Knepper Match A large gallery also followed the Platt-Knepper match. Platt took the first hole when he topped his second from the rough, but squared the match on the second when Knepper put his second shot in the creek and had to drop out.

Knepper, after driving a trap on the third, had a beautiful out and won the hole with a bird four when he sank a thirty-foot putt. Platt was short on his chip-shot to the hole time and again, but was saving himself by putts from six to eight feet long, which he sank mechanically.

He won the fifth, halted the sixth and seventh in that manner and dropped another neat three on the eighth for a half. On the ninth, after being short on two approach shots, Platt looked for a half, but Knepper laid him a dead stymie. Platt tried to jump it, but failed and was one down at the tenth.

On the eleventh Platt ran through the bunker to the green with a second and dropped a six-foot putt for a half. Knepper was over the eleventh, 204 yards long, with a driving iron and Platt nicely took the hole with a three, which squared the match.

Their cards to the turn: Platt—5 4 5 5 4 4 4 4 5—39 Knepper—4 4 4 5 5 3 4 3 5—30

BRITISH DAVIS CUP TEAM GOES INTO SECOND ROUND

Victory in Doubles Over Italy Gives Them Three Matches to None Roehampton, June 21.—The British Isles Davis Cup team yesterday won its way into the second round by defeating the Italian team in the doubles, 4-1, 6-0, 6-0.

The British pair was Major Almeron R. F. Kingscote and Frank Riesele and the Italians, Cesare Colombo and Count Di Robecchi.

The Italians were unable to put up any sort of a game. They were not acquainted with the conditions of grass-court play and also showed nervousness, which seriously affected all their stroke plays.

They served double faults, missed easy smashes and seldom put their service returns into the court.

On the other hand, the Englishmen served well. Kingscote was brilliant in his overhead kills, while Riesele intercepted well when his partner was receiving service.

When they secured three service games each to love. But in the ninth game, Colombo foot-faulted and lost his game, and the British won the match with one-sided sequence of eight games.

MORVICH HAS WORKOUT

Both Trainer and Owner Pleased With Showing This Morning Cincinnati, O., June 21.—Under the watchful eyes of his owner, trainer and a gallery of several hundred turf fans, the boy Morvich had a workout this morning at Latonia in preparation for the $50,000 special race on Saturday.

The great racing machine was sent a mile and an eighth, or an eighth of a mile less than his competitors will step in the special race.

The colt negotiated the distance in 1:54, which figure visibly pleased both Trainer Fred Bushnell and Benjamin Block, his owner. Neither would make further comment other than to express extreme satisfaction.

Morvich, with 115 pounds up, did the quarter in 23 seconds; the half in 47 2-5; five-eighths in 50 2-5; the three-quarters in 1:13 2-5; the mile in 1:30 2-5; and the mile and an eighth in 1:54 flat.

FOHL REFUSES TO PREDICT PENNANT

Browns' Manager Says Team is Getting 'Breaks' and Machine Running Smoothly

WAS UNPOPULAR AT FIRST

By the Associated Press St. Louis, June 21.—Lee Fohl, who resigned as manager of the Cleveland Indians in 1919, today has the St. Louis Browns in a predicament as to whether the local Americans will win the pennant as claimed by St. Louis fans.

Expecting a hard tussle with the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers for the top rung, Fohl declared the Browns are getting some of the "breaks," and that the machine is running smoothly.

Ability to develop star players and remarkably good judgment in switching his batting order to obtain the best results are held responsible for Fohl's success with the Browns.

According to Fohl, the team's batting is second to none and superior to most teams; the pitching is average, the infield strong, the outfield good with the club's bestness of foot ranks with the best.

Joined Browns in 1920 Fohl came to St. Louis in June, 1920, almost a year after he resigned at Cleveland owing to criticism for allowing a pitcher to pitch to "Babe" Ruth instead of passing him in a critical spot.

He was made assistant manager to James Burke, a popular native son, and in the spring of 1921 succeeded Burke as manager.

Fohl failed to appeal to followers of the Browns at first, as the fans were dissatisfied with Burke's removal. He gradually won them over, by piloting the team into third position in 1921 after a poor start.

Despite this creditable showing, dissatisfaction still existed among the fans, and these were rumors during the last winter that Fohl would not be the 1922 manager. To allay this uncertainty, Phil Ball, president of the club, issued a statement saying that Fohl's officers had every confidence in his ability and declared he again would lead the club.

Sister Deserves Credit Thousands believe that Sister, who is leading both leagues in almost every department of the game, will deserve much credit if the Browns "go over" this year.

Fohl's team play is not overlooked, developing Hubert Prueitt, a young pitcher, who is said to have mastered the "fade-away" ball. He also plugged in two holes in the infield, second base and third base, by obtaining Frank Ellerbe from Washington, to fill the hot corner, and in switching Marty McManus from third base to second, where he is starting.

The team's tremendous batting power is said to be due to the frequent switching in the line-up by Fohl, who keeps changing his players until he has an effective slugging nine against any kind of pitching.

Hutchison to Play With Amos at Start of Actual Championship Tomorrow

HAGEN AND KIRKWOOD TIE

Sandwich, England, June 21.—Pairings for the 72-hole stroke competition in the British open golf championship tournament, which will begin tomorrow, were announced today.

Joe Hutchison, the American who is defending his title as British open champion, is paired with H. Amos, of Bromley, Northamptonshire; Jim Barnes with Tom Williamson, of Nottinghamshire; Joe Kirkwood, the Australian champion, with E. R. Whitcombe, of Dorchester.

While most of the professionals were resting today in preparation for tomorrow's strenuous play, some thirty-eight of the amateurs and professionals participating in the tournament engaged in a long driving competition in which each competitor was required to drive six times from the fifteenth tee, the two longest drives in each instance to be counted.

A course 375 yards in length by fifty in width was marked out, and the test was expected to prove how far a golf ball can be driven under normal conditions.

When all the cards were turned in at the conclusion of the second qualifying round yesterday, Hagen and Joe Kirkwood tied the field with aggregate scores of 147 for the two days of play.

Joe Hutchison, the holder of the British title, was in third place with 149, while Jim Barnes, Mount American open champion, was sixteenth with a 154.

The other two Americans in the tournament, C. Mayo and Edward Van Vleet, failed to qualify. Mayo's score read 105, Van Vleet tore up his card and quit the contest.

The most notable of the players to fail to qualify was former Champion James H. Barnes, just outside the select with a total of 162. His great fault was in putting. He took four strokes in the sixth green, and on the homeward half required three putts at a net of nine holes.

It was also the last time Glendon will direct the charges on the Severn, for, after twenty-one years of continuous service here, he has announced that he will not return.

Only Higgins, No. 2, has had less than four years of rowing, as he started last year. Sanborn made the varsity his first year and Frayling and Lee the second varsity. King, Gallagher and Johnson started with the plebe crew of the same year.

The qualifying round reduced the field of 150 to the coveted thirty-two and showed that the East Lake Course with its numerous water hazards, 18 nine holes of 400 or more yards and well-protected greens was a hard one for all except adept exponents of the ancient game.

Three players, Perry Adair, champion; Bobby Jones, former champion, both of Atlanta, and T. W. Palmer, Miami, tied for low medals with 75, while seven others broke 80, and the highest man to qualify was Cox, who outdrew half a dozen others who also made 85.
