THERE is no better way for the mother with a young and growing family than to spend a day or two such week out in the open. This need set mean that the whole day be spent is idleness, but rather a real out-door work shop for a few hours of the day.

Carry a small pail, and a package of the paper driking cups for the water supply, and perhaps an umbrella, and a magazine for mother to while away a few hours while the children take a sup in the shade.

Almost endless variety of menus may be prepared for these outings, and if the small child requires milk, it may be placed in a thermos bottle, or lacking this, place milk on the ice until ing this place milk in the ice until i

Brown bread and minced ham sand-riches, crumb cake and bananas.

Whole wheat bread sandwiches, toato stuffed with tuna fish and cookies. Grated cheese and nut sandwiches, otato salad and layer cake.

The actual preparation of the sandwill depend entirely upon the used. The young and growing should have the whole wheat this bread contains valuable mineral element needed by the growing routh for bone and tooth structure.

A recipe that will give good results and will be dependable is given below. Use an ordinary thermometer to test the water. Place in mixing bowl two cups of water 80 degrees Fahr, and add

Two tablespoons of augar, Two tenspoons of salt Two tablespoons of shortening.

Now crumble in one fresh yeast cake, Four cups of whole wheat flour and beat with spoon, until well blended, Two and three-quarters cups more and work or knead to a smooth, clastic dough. Place a good coating of shortening in the mixing bowl, and turn in the dough press the dough flat against the bowl, and turn dough over, then cover and set away in place free from drafts for three and one-half inches wide and twelve inches long, spread with raisins and roll up tight as for jelly roll; place the loaf in well greased deep loaf-shape pan. Prepare the second loaf and use finely chopped nuts for this loaf, and place in welland one-quarter hours, then bake in moderate oven for forty-five minutes. Rub the top of the loaf with a little butter, just as soon as you remove it from the oven, and let cool. This bread should be a day old before using.

To prepare the flour sift the whole flour through the colander, and return to it the bran removed by this sifting. The idea is to make the flour light before measuring and not to remove the bran. Bread like this is just as good as cake, and the children will enjoy it. Fruit Cookies Place in saucepan

One cup of molasses. One cup of brown sugar. Three-quarters cup of shortening, One traspoon of cinnamon, One tablespoon of ginger, One-half teaspoon of allspice, One-half cup of black coffee.

Bring to a boil, cook for three mintes, then turn in mixing bowl and add About seven and one-half cups of our, sifted before measuring, Two level tablespoons of baking pow-ing a long sausage about as thick as a rolling pin, and chill. In the morning, to bake, use extra sharp knife, and slice the dough in thin slices, lay a nut or raisin on top of each cookie and place on well-greased and floured bak-ing pan and bake in moderate oven for ten minutes.

around and around until the buckram is entirely covered. Stitch colored wooden beads on to the folds. Finish the edge of this fascinating SNAIL ORNAMENT FOR SUMMER HAT with a ruffle of silk of the same material as the frock with which the hat is to be worn.

And surrender to the petty and the picayune always leaves a sting that one would give much to be able to eradicate from the memory.

To have maintained courtesy and civility in an atmosphere where one was of policy, but of refinement, of dig-nity of good breeding. And the fact that one is now free to leave it does not alter this obligation to one's self. But the supreme seat of judgment to which we must enswer and from which there is no appeal is our own self-respect. And before this a forgetting of petty animosities and a handshake all around will be far more satisfying than an exit that would strip us of all dignity and of which we would have to be ashamed.

Adventures With a Purse

EVERY woman is interested in a new kind of powder, particularly if it is put up a little differently. And so, every woman will be interested to learn that there is a new compact powder, delicately perfumed, just enough to merely suggest that there is a new compact powder, delicately perfumed, just enough to merely suggest that powder with a perfume has been used. It is smooth and goes on the skin evenly, taking away the shine. The box is the flat brass box, about two and a half inches across, but is decorated on the outside with hand-painted flowers, something quite new, I believe. The one I saw was decorated with roses and forget-menots, a trailing wreath about the edge. And it's just the touch needed to make the powder ideal for a prize, to keep on the dressing table or carry about. With the painted box, the powder is $1.75, without it, $1.00.

Do you need a new belt for your another one? I have seen some belts which are made of colored celluloid. One was of blue and white by the land twelve inches wide and twelve inches wide and twelve inches. One was of blue and white blocks, each block about an inch long, alternating the colors. Then there was a red and gray, black and white, any number of combinations and priced at $1.50.

Things You'll Love to Make

A SNAIL ORNAMENT FOR A SUMMER HAT is something new and pretty. Cut a circle of buckram six inches in dismeter. Cut away a segment as shown at the upper right-hand side of the illustration. Stitch together the two straight cuts and sew and work to smooth dough. Do not make too stiff, but just so this dough can be handled easily. Then wrap in a well-greased and floured paper forming a long sausage about as thick as a rolling pin, and chill. In the morning
