"Riding In a Sleigh"

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir-Can you or any of your readers find the old song "Riding in a Sleigh." which was popular when I was a siri in my teens

MARGUERITE.

RIDING IN A SLEIGH

Falling everywhere:

CHORUS

Dashing down the road to Brighton, Sidding o'er the snow;

Stiding over the snow;
Horses prancing, drivers shouting;
Mercy, how they go.
Twenty sielishs and fifty horses,
Going out that way.
While the merry girls are laughing.

Coming home, with Kate beside me, Crossing over the bridge, I stooped down and smiling kissed her, Crossing over the bridge.

Coming home and near the mansion,

For she answered Yes, here it be a certain night this winter, I'll not name the day.

The People's Forem will appear duly in the Evening Fubile Ledger, and also in the Sunday Fubile Ledger. Letters discussing timely topics will be printed, as well as requested noems, and questions of general interest will be answered.
