FULLER'S VICTIMS MOSTLY WOMEN

But Long "Sucker List" Shows Broker Went Into All Ranks for His "Prospects"

CAUSE OF EXPOSE GLOATS

A "sucker list." resembling a telephone directory, which contained the names of persons in all walks of life. of whom the majority were women, has been discovered by investigators delving into the affairs of the bankrupt E. M. Fuller & Co., a Consolidated Stock Exchange house.

The firm, which had a branch here, in the Widener Building, but whose main office was in New York, failed

Women, far from the regular avenues of communication, who had not heard of the crash of the concern, are still sending in checks and money orders. Some wish to open accounts, while hundreds bitterly complain of the failure of the firm to live up to promises.

In the amazing careers of Edward
M. Fuller and William Francis Me-M. Fuller and William Francis Mc-Gee, the operators of the bankrupt concern, it is revealed that for years they had extensive money dealings with women. One investigator said that the $7500 with which Fuller and Metice started in business was supplied by a

Miss Nellie Black, through whom the investigation that resulted in the concern's bankruptcy is said to have been started, appeared highly elated this morning over Fuller's downfall. Sit-ting in her suite at the Hotel Tray-more, in Atlantic City, she said that she had sworn to "get" Edward Markle Fuller, guiding spirit of the

Says Man Wrecked Her Life

"I promised him that I would ruin him because he wrecked my life," she said with flashing eyes, a few minutes prior to her departure for her home at 245 West Seventy-fifth street, New York. "For seven years we lived together the as man and wife, sometimes under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller and some-times under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Black." she declared. "Then one day I found a pack of marked cards in one of his bags. I kept them, and when he asked me for them and I didn't get them quick enough to suit him he beat me over the face with a cane. I had to see a dector.

 Then I was tricked into signing a release under the promise that I would get $10,000, but I only got $5000, and he laughed at me.

"The news of the failure came on my

"The news of the failure came on my birthday, and it was a fine present. He is not a poor man now, for he has a big estate at Great Neck, an expensive apartment in New York and a fine car with a chauffeur he pays $50 a week." Miss Black described her arrest on complaint of Fuller several weeks ago. He charged that she had threatened to shoot him unless he paid her $5000, which she claimed was owing her. She said this was a "frame-up," and declared the publicity given to it had been largely instrumental in bringing about the collapse of the Fuller concern. the collapse of the Fuller concern.

Losses Not Yet Fixed

The exact loss to customers of the defunct concern will not be known for at least two weeks, but it is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $3,500,000. to be in the neighborhood of $3,500,000. No estimate of the assets is obtainable, but the indications are that the creditors can hardly hope to recover more than four or five cents on the dollar. For:y-eight bookkeepers are at work the books of the failed house, to speed the work preliminary to the call-ing of witnesses in the bankruptcy hearings which may begin some time next week. At the same time District Attorney Banton made it clear that, despite the stipulation Fuller's lawyers obtained, that no criminal action be brought against the two partners. would do everything possible to get hold

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 202-The Tumbier and the Hat Place a fumbler partially filled with water on the table and set a hat over it. State that you will drink the water from the glass without touching the hat to remove it.

To do the trick, lean beneath the table, rap five times and make a gurgling noise as though drinking the water. When you again reappear smile water. When you again reappear smile wisely and say that you have accomplished the trick, and that they can look at the tumbler for themselves. Some wise member of your narry will immediately lift the hat, whereupon you pick up the tumbler and drink the water. Thus you have accomplished your task and have drunk the water without touching the hat, thanks to the curious spectator. Store Open 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
