Nancy Wynne Tells of the Tennis Tournament Given by Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden for Their Daughter—She Sees Smart Clothes

MEMBERS of the younger set who play tennis are much excited over the tournament which Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden are giving this week for their daughter, Nancy Wynne.

The McFaddens gave a tournament last summer, too, and I remember correctly, it was a little earlier in the season and lasted a week. This year's tournament is not likely to last that long, because many of the participants are going away.

For instance, Little Thomson, who is a mighty good player—you know she is because Thomson's younger sister—is going North tomorrow with her family, and a number through it all. There are to be mixed doubles, girls' singles and boys' singles.

I hear that Ellen Harrison and Miss Vantine are to play together in the mixed doubles, so they will be a formidable pair to encounter.

WALKING of smart costumes, Walburga Kelly Paine was in town one day last week in a frock straight from Paris and she looked very pretty.

TOE was struggling with his lessons. Among said lessons were Biblical ones, and among other questions Mother asked for Mother was: "Why was Lucifer cast out of Heaven?"

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mr. John Warner, of Four Oaks, Philadelphia, Germantown, gave his usual at-home yesterday. Luncheon was served. No cards were sent out.

An interesting debutante of the autumn will be Miss Elizabeth K. Howland, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Hoppin Howland, of 411 South Carlele street.

Mr. Clarence W. Dolan, of Rosemont, who is occupying his estate on Bellevue avenue, Newport, entertained forty guests at dinner last evening.

Atlantic City

With flags gaily flying from club-houses, yachts and motor boats, and special musical programs arranged at many of the beach front hotels, a patriotic Fourth unfolded in the summer season at Atlantic City.

Boat races were the order of the day at the Chelsea Yacht Club, of which Mr. Frederick J. Poth, of this city, is commodore, and a large and smartly-dressed audience looked on.

At the Atlantic City Yacht Club the races opened at 10.30 and included open races and one design class boat race. In the afternoon an enthusiastic interest was centered in the open handicap race, which started off at 3 o'clock.

Over at Venice Park the Lu Lu Temple Yacht Club, of which Mr. Joseph S. E. Cor, 16th and Locust streets, is commodore, is also desirably equipped.
