It's Refreshing Even to Walk Among the Beautiful Things for Summer

The Whole World Seems to be Welding Itself Together

since the disarmament measures were adopted. Out of the hot furnace of the war, and its cost and pains, some cool, clean, clear thinking has been done for the benefit of mankind.

By a union of minds this great city of ours, with its historic rights, could have been the capital of the United States.

Why not, by harmony of purpose and effort, rise to be worthy of our inheritance?

[Signed] John Wanamaker

Ruffled Shirtwaist Dresses for Women

Made of silk-and-mercerized cotton material, crisp and sparkling in effect, with orchid, blue or yellow stripes.

The dresses have finely pleated frills edging the pockets, sleeves and collars, and are extremely dainty and attractive in effect.

Sizes are 34 to 40, and the price moderate, indeed—$12.75. (First Floor)

White Skirts Are Popular With Young Women

Especially since the fashion for sweaters became so strong. And there is a wide choice in materials.

White tailored linen skirts, fastening down one side with large pearl buttons, $5.50.

White flannel skirts, all-wool, in a good sports model and also a new wrap-around style, both pretty and both priced $9.50.

White eponge skirts, with a deep border of drawn-work squares, $14.50.

White sports silk skirts in satin plaid effect, all white, $13.50. (Second Floor)

White Crepe Blouses, Dainty and Cool

With a white or light-colored silk skirt they make an ideal costume for a warm day.

All three of the new styles are overblouses with either round or bateau neck, and they have the new low-placed trimming.

Prices are $7.50 and $9.85. (Third Floor)

Some Trimmed Hats Are Greatly Reduced

Odds and ends that have been sorted out and marked at little prices for quick selling.

A few may show some slight trace of having been handled, but the majority are in the darker colored straws or taffeta and would do nicely for traveling. (Second Floor)

Polka Dot Voile Dresses for Young Women at $10

"Specials," of course, for one wouldn't ordinarily find such pretty dresses at so little a price.

It is really necessary to have one or more dark colored frocks of some cool material for trips in or out of town or perhaps just to put on when everything else is unwearable. Either navy, brown or black voile with white polka dots and, for a touch of color, a long rever collar, cuffs and pockets of white organdie, embroidered in Russian red and blue. A wide sash gives a becoming blouse effect to the waist. Sizes 16 to 20 years. (Second Floor) for mountains and seashore, and a good business or shopping dress for cool or rainy days.

Imported and domestic weaves offer a wonderful variety of color and design. Checks, plaids, stripes, crossbar and other novelty effects are 75c to $2 a yard. Plain colors, $1 and $1.25 a yard. Widths from 36 to 40 inches. (First Floor)

Nothing Like a Soft Kid Oxford for Comfort in Traveling

A turned-sole oxford of lighter weight, in black kid, with common-sense heel and rounded toe, comes in sizes 4 to 9, and in widths A to E. Priced $8 a pair.

A number of other styles may be had in soft black or brown kidskin at other prices. (First Floor)

Corsets Are a Real Problem to Many Women who have not found exactly the right make or model, and the consequent discomfort, not to speak of waste of money on wrong models, is distressing.

We are sure the problem could be solved with one of the three Wanamaker famous corsets—Parisienne, Letitia or L. R.

The great number of models in each of these corsets, the excellence of the materials and making, and the easy and graceful lines, leave no room for complaint of fashion and comfort unprovided for. We shall be glad to help you de-side which one is best suited to your needs. Parisienne corsets are $8 to $35; Letitia corsets, $3.50 to $12.50, and L. R. corsets, $1 to $9.50. Each in its own line is unsurpassed. (Third Floor)

FANCY Combs for Bobbed Hair

A pretty novelty of imitation shell set with imitation rubies, sapphires and emeralds.

Priced $2 to $7.50. (Main Floor)

Have You Your Vudor Porch Screens?

The difference between a house without them and a house with them is often just the difference between coolness and no coolness.

In the Oriental Store you will find the screens of narrow strips of linden wood, green or brown, with ventilators at the top, complete with safety ropes and ready to hang.

They are in eight widths from 4 to 12 feet, with drop of 7.6 feet and are priced at $3.90 to $13.75.

A few sizes—8, 10 and 12 foot widths, have a 10-foot drop and sell at $11.75 to $13.50. (Main Floor)

A Summer Night's Music

MOONLIGHT streams upon the piazza. The family and their guests are seated there after dinner.

Suddenly through the windows come the lovely strains of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

It is perfectly played. No amateur performance this. For the pianist is no less a person than Harold Bauer.

The last notes have scarcely died away, amid a murmur of appreciation and applause, before the first note is struck of a tender Chopin "Nocturne," imitatively played by Olga Samaroff.

Teresa Carreno, Ossip Gabrilowitch, Edward Grieg, the great Norwegian; Katharine Goodson, the famous English pianist; Elly Ney, the brilliant Dutch pianist—by one after another of these world-famous artists the group on the porch are thrilled and delighted.

Yet there is no pianist inside! Only the extraordinary reproducing piano, with its wonderful reproduction of every characteristic shade and expression of the playing of these pianists.

With an Ampico in your home, and a library of Ampico recordings, your guests need never lack entertainment. Classic music, songs, dances, the latest Broadway success, opera—the Ampico gives the best of all.

We shall be glad to tell you anything further of this remarkable instrument, which, in this city, is for sale only in the Wanamaker Piano Salons.

(Egyptian Hall, Second Floor)

Inexpensive Undermuslins

The sort women like to buy in large quantities to pack in holiday trunks.

Five styles of envelope chemises at $1—one with colored feather stitching; one with an embroidered medallion and Valenciennes; one with the embroidery known as the convent edge; one of pink batiste with hem-stitching.

Nightgowns at $1 are of nain-sook with pink binding; at 85c with casing and a little embroidered spray; at $1.50 they are of cotton crepe with feather stitching, and at $2.25 of white muslin with coral-colored binding. (Third Floor)

Sometimes the Watch Is to Blame

More often it is the fault of the owner of the watch, who is willing to carry a timepiece which can't be trusted.

On the Summer holiday it is particularly important to have a watch that is dependable, for missing a certain train may spoil the entire vacation.

Men's watches made by the best American makers are the safest in the end. In 14-kt. gold cases, $34 to $310. In gold-filled cases, $19 to $71. In sterling silver cases, $21 to $54. (Main Floor)

Every Vacation Grip Should Carry A Little Sewing Kit

A kit that folds up so thinly that it hardly will be noticed, yet it carries everything the sewer will need or everything wanted for embroidery work.

There are many, many styles, from a little single fold leather kit no larger than a purse up to the big billfold size.

Nearly all leathers are seen among them, many the crease finish and others in high sports colors, as well as blacks and browns.

All are completely equipped, including even thread or embroidery silks and pins.

Prices vary with the sizes, from $3.50 to $10. (Main Floor)

It's Easy to See

How the Man in a Tropical Suit Feels

Cool—just like standing in an ocean breeze when the sun is blistering down and all the other men are sweltering and suffering the Summer through in woolen clothes.

And tropical suits don't mean limp, lifeless, colorless things that hang in folds all over a man's form.

They are just as bright and just as smart and just as distinctive as any other clothes. And they come in just as many colors.

What is more, when a tropical suit is tailored like Wanamaker clothes are compelled to be, it stays smart and trim as long as the cloth holds together.

Palm Beach Suits, $18 and $20.
Fancy Mohairs, $20, $22.50 and $25.
Tropical Worsteds, $25 to $32. (Third Floor)

Some of the Coolest Lounging Robes Came on a Recent Steamer

A great, big portion of a man's summer comfort at home is wrapped up in a lounging robe. A light, cool, easy robe that feels as airy as it looks.

Mercerized poplin robes, as light as a breeze, are attractive, too, with large Oriental figures traced over the tan backgrounds. Price $15. Then the real English blazers that are solid favorites with many men. Wide, bold stripes in all the color arrangements a man can think of. Naturally, they are thin flannel. Price $25. (Main Floor)

Smartness Is the Keyword of the New Brogue for Men

But it is smartness of a new order without resort to perforations or other marks that characterized the fashionable shoe of the early season.

First of all, the last—trim, neat, distinctive and yet it follows the lines of the modified brogue.

The leather is smooth calf in an extremely dark shade—almost chocolate. Every seam is set off by several rows of harness stitching that are not only decorative but strengthening. All edges of the sole are the new rounded type and rubber heels provide a comfortable finish. But the surprise is in the price—$6.40. (Main Floor) to wear day in and day out for Summer after Summer is the new one that has come from England.

A Mighty Good Tropical Hat for a Gentleman on a Country Estate

A hat that is comfortable, deflects the heat, defies weather and will stand washing and cleaning with anything that white shoes can be cleaned with.

At the same time a conventional-looking hat.

Stiff, being made of a composition of cork and rubber, covered with plain white drill. The brim is a little rolled at the edges, the crown is a much-liked Alpine shape, and a generous band is wound around the base of the crown to add an agreeable decorative touch.

The price is $8. (Main Floor)

New Bales of U. S. Government Blankets at $3.65 Each

(Fine for Camping)

All-wool, four to four and a half pounds, size 66x84 inches, approximately; olive drab in color.

Made to stand hard wear. A man had one steamed and it came out of the test soft, fluffy and excellent, proving these blankets are really better than they look because they are compressed and clamped in the bales.

When you think that all-cotton blankets are selling for $5, these certainly are remarkable at $3.65 each.

And they are among the finest of camp blankets. (Sixth Floor)
