

winnifer the insists that love includes a tremendous hate, and that the individual who is souled up into the other's personality, who feels his after draws a free heath, loathes his rife with a tury undreamed of by any other persons.

This nuthor, a very modern young that the old entered to the soule with the old entered to the feels his rife with a tury undreamed of by any other persons.

NOW all this sounds very metabout a soule with the fashion nowadays among highbrow males is to harp on this theme.

Allowing for a grain of truth—of course, a few hig personalities of the course and passions—most of this seems utter rot.

It is quite true that folks in love are insists that love includes a tremen-WINNIFRED includes a tremen-dous hate, and that the Individual who is socked up into wife with a tury undreamed of by any of woman as the center of the universe, a being sacred and to be adored, is not only false but victous. He says that because of our motherhood, or even loved up and effaced by the men they spart as divine and perfect.

sionately devoted we are, our proin-idility and violent love hidee an invid-

There was a conviction as strong a She, as woman, was the center universe, the man was but an edjunct. She as woman, and especially as mother, was the source of life and being. It is the professed belief of the whole white world.

The author goes on to say that men subscribe to this "great and ignomin-ious dogma, and however much they women), they still worship her sacred priority."

But the here was made of sterner stuff. He had something within him soul and be able to stand on his own that refused to yield his individuality. feet and think his own thoughts.

THE HOME The Wife Cheater By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR By Harold Donaldson Eberlein

Wayne in spite of many warnings from her friends, Norman is the kind of a man who has never been known to cave for one scoman wore than a few weeks at a time, and he end Joan have been married only a few weeks when Norman becomes in-faluated with After Wilson, a sontual friend. Joan suspects the touth that every one knows it. Joan is driven into making an engagement Herbert Livingston, an old

A Surprising Discovery

DINNER with Herbert went of much better than ten, although I had to him that Norman was not at home when I telephoned, that he was probably havand after dinner when I said that I and, indeed, for some time afterward, must really make the 9:53 back to Hilton he insisted upon going with me. I was agha-t at this.

I telephoned."
"Shall I walk through and see?"

the look of a claudestine appoint-ment, his whole attitude was that of a privileged old friend, and although I appreciated his fineness, I was nevertheless irritated out of the window, straining my eyes into the darkness. When we finally reached Hilton I breathed a sigh of relief. We waited a moment to see if Norman got off, and then took a taxi up and when he finally rose to go I was almost at the end of my rone. I wanted nothing so much as the darkness of my own room, and I felt that I couldn't keep the tears back much longer.

"Joan," he said finally, "will you promise to come to me if you ever need "Of course, I will." I returned. keeping my voice purposely light.

"I have a surprise for you." he continued. "I'm going to rent a house here in Hilton, and if I like living here I may have it." I may buy it."
"Why, Herbert." I excluimed in surprise. "how splendld. It will be so nice to have you here with us."

"Do you really mean that?" be asked yery softly. "Will it make any differ-crowd."

I was suddenly nervous, and I made an effort to disengage my hand, which he held tightly in his. Of course, this was my chance to nare softly as Alice Wilson would have done, to make Herherr believe that it would make a great difference to me to have him live hear ue, but I was suddenly panicky at the thought of anything sentimental be-

(Tomorrow-The Lie)

WHAT'S WHAT By Helen Decie

Toung girls who have had no social vice from older people often make mis-see from sheer ignorance or from real derness—mistakes, not of the heat! it these impulsive errors may score at them rinatance, a young girl who visits ung man when he is ill, as illusd, may think she is doing a kindbut her action is most unkind resil, for she is committing a glarsocial impropriety. It is no prom to her reputation to have another with her. If she is engaged to non, she may make an invalid call, companied by his mother or-sister, own nother. If she is especially is in herself with maxing inlightons.

MAZING theories the modern novellats advocate.
Here's one of the advanced English thinkers who makes an impassioned in thinkers who makes an impassioned in thinkers was a fine thing and a sacred duty.

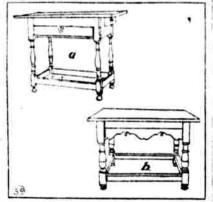

an impassioned the fining and a sacred duty.

"Through all his early love and tand, we presume, homage " "there was discernible the arrogance of the self-unyielding male; then spent several minutes studying a rack on which a hundred watches were aloof ness, though wedded. It takes beneficent love. She was quite sure that an entire poyel to an entire novel to it was all-beneficent—that the highest expound his idea her man could ever know or ever reach that married folks was to be perfectly enveloped in her torture each other beneficent love: - that was her idea of marriage."

loved enough to slave for. Eliminating transactions that the 'out-at-lunch' the C'eopatras and Theodoras and Mes-excuse of shops, plants and stores is WOMEN themselves believe this and lace been too negative and yielding, in mon-sense anticipation on the part of lace and the best of lace and marriage! For one hennecked the merchant, the lists of the lace and the best of the merchant, the lists of the lace and marriage. give themselves many airs, he de-clares, and the best of us draw a man's husband we see thousands of docile, are caused by such annoyance do a bus-sonl out of him, especially affor he is submerged wives. All of organized so-sonley hooked up in matrimony. How-ever charming and affectionate, or pas-sionately devoted we are, our pulse opinion have decreed for woman in their personal errands; and an ordinary sionately devoted we are, our pulse matringe, a subordinate place and kept observance of that fact would keep her the under-dog. It was an unusu- many merchants who run jewelry shops, ally brave and remarkable feminine per- shoe repairing, haberdashery shops and the will that is strong as death. It is ally brave and remarkable feminine per the will to possess, to enslave, "Lottie fell herself first and single, after being engulfed in matrimony. somality that even utilized its talents so on, behind their counters at that after being engulfed in matrimony. time of day.

the rest of the world. Those who are contented amass a little fortune for their own family, cultivate their own greenest man can handle the situation. may react against it thoughing their garden, embellish their own house, and

IN GOOD TASTE

Early American "Turned" Tables

All through the seventeenth century tain general type, with turned legs. Herbert not to do such a thing, but he was determined and sertled. In the city wholesale methods are train I decided to tell him the truth.

"Norman may be on this train." I decided to tell him the truth.
"Norman may be on this train." I cither project but a little beyond the underframing, to which they were firmly attached, or else they might be provided.

You have been following Miss Ruth, that soft, clean, well-brushed look about a congregation that is constantly venom out of his system. He isn't cither project but a little beyond the underframing, to which they were firmly attached, or else they might be provided.

You have been following Miss Ruth, that soft, clean, well-brushed look about mad, is he? Better keep up the distance of the congression of the city wholesale methods are necessary, for one stranger more or less train a congregation that is constantly venom out of his system. He isn't had is unmistakable. A few weeks that is unmistakable. A few weeks the congression of the city wholesale methods are not on the beach at Ocean City, turn several to the city wholesale methods are not on the city wholesale I used every argument to persuade were made for all manner of different

Figure A in the cut shows an early American small table belonging to the rurned leg family. The heavy legs with simple turnings and the heavy, naturned stretchers show its relationship with the "refectory" type of table. of which, as a matter of fact, it is only We sat on the north for half an hour or more charting of casual things. and when he finally rose to go I was The turning, of the vase, ring and bulb of slender proportions and very graceful, but the table is stanchty constructed. These small tables were made of whatever wood it was easiest to get. Many of the best patterns are being reproduced.

Can You Tell? By R. J. and A. W. Bodmer

White Mice Were Formerly Carried on Submarines

When submarines first became practical use it was found necessary to provide some method of warning the enine impure. There is always more or less danger of asphyxiation to those "You know it will." I returned. "and not only to me, but to every one in the aboard a submarine. A very small leakage of gas from an internal combustion engine may poison the air so as to overome all on board.

After a number of serious accidents had occurred due to the absence of a varning device some one suggested that white mice be carried on all to give the alarm. It was found that the instant the air became polluted the mice be ame distressed squealing as loudly signal to those on board. The mice detected the impurity in the air more quickly than the men not because of any special gift they possess as deterters but simply because their hing ca-pacity at best is capable of holding only small quantity of air. amount of poison in the small amount they could inhale distressed to they could inhale distressed the dened expression of the twenty-year-fore the same proportionate amount in the air would affect a human being, had put on seven or eight pounds of her Now however, a chemical device has infteen gain. I attribute much of this been invented which is so affected by phenomenal change in Miss Ruth to bad air as to ring a bell warning those swimming every day, because it created on board of their danger.

field the Government a great deal until the work of transforming. West had been raising them for some built by better circulation, by improved time and the order was quickly filled, digestion, by hygienic food with plenty time and the order was quickly filled, presence of gas.

Tomorrow-'How Did Flying Origi-

Of Interest

Among the latest fashion novelties for women are parasol handles specially carved in wood and then enameled, in the shapes of portraits of pet dogs and

In one professional tour undertaken the the cose of the war, Clara Butt, stringy and dejected looking, to put it the renowned singer, traveled 100,000 mildly, registering as plainly as could miles, appeared at more than 200 conbe the body's need of better circulation, certs and sang nearly 8000 soggs.

Now it is really very attractive, with

Two Minutes of Optimism

"Out-at-Lunch"

Summertime

calls

for light apparel of every kind:

even negligees should made of thin material.

Lacy

sleeves are combined with

Georgette

crepe to make this one

a charming and comfortable garment.

"Is my watch ready?" asked a customer at the repair counter of a large to the workroom. A moment later he hung up the re-coiver. "Our foremen is out at lunch." he d; "can you drop in again?" "I suppose I'll have to," said the

IT is true that marriage has dwarfed a right system would make a definite answer possible in practically all instances; foremen, superintendents or has demanded that they isolate them-selves in a double selfishness, existing than carry in their heads, the details

The Woman's Exchange

Which Is Correct?

to the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam — When addressing cards, etc., to hove between thirteen and seventeen is mister or master correct? M. E. Master is not incorrect, but I'm sure the boys like it better to be addressed as mister.

Complexion Remedies

To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—Please tell me what to do to get rid of blackheads, as my nose is peppered with them; and also what can I do for pimples on forehead. do to get rid of blackheads, as my nowers ear I do for nimples on forehead. I do not rat much of fats or use powder, sweets, etc.; and please tell me how I can get rust off of a white counterpane.

Please Tell Me What to Do : BY CYNTHIA When you sign your name and address, as Cynthia requests, your letters will be printed. To "Western Gem"

Sorry, Cynthia cannot comply with your request. She cannot bring about introductions.

To "Skeezix"

Bobbed Hair Means More Care

Herbert suggested.

I shook my head. No, don't bother. one or more in number, were set within range a becoming conflure and, lastly here the improved blood condition and you have funny Herbert was. He did not the uninefer were set within range a becoming conflure and, lastly have the animal and you have the uninefer was. How funny Herbert was. He did not the underframing; then, again, a great but far from the least in the accumula-intend to give our dinner engagement many were made without drawers. Be- tion of gains for a nice, wholesome many were made without drawers. Besides having turned legs, tables of this sort almost invariably had the legs firmly braced with stretchers, which were also usually turned, in a manner corresponding with the legs.

Figure A in the cut shows an carly follow my directions to the letter and we'd see what would happen. The depressed spirits and the sadon board of their danger.

One of the interesting messages which came from abroyal when the gas warfare was raging was an order from American headquarters in France for all white mice obtainable for use in the trenches.

The difficulty of filling the order work of the Government a great deal until the work of transforming the work of transforming the work of transforming to the covernment a great deal until the work of transforming to the covernment a great deal until the work of transforming.

Complexions, as you know, are re-The mice were wanted to detect the of fresh fruits and vegetables, which I presence of gas. So that the local care consisted in no magic cold creams, simply at night a good scrubbing with a face brush, soap and warm water, particularly where there was a suggestion of blackhead trouble, then a warm rinse and followed by a cold ablution.

Strange as it may seem to you, but hair specialist of any experithe girl's hair and in scalp condition was the result. Her hair at first was Now it is really very attractive, with it that is unmistakable. A few weeks of regular brushing will improve any head of hair. Couple the brushing with the improved blood condition and you have the answer to enviably handsome locks.

Not until the fourth week did we has been much about the arrangement took her has been about the arrangement took her has been much about the arrangement took her has been about the properties and have the arrangement to the properties and the properties are the properties and the properties are the properties and the properties are the properties are the properties and the properties are the prope

the head providing the neck is long and slender and the hair is cut correctly. correctly is meant to conform to the shape of the head and face. So, I should urge a little expenditure to find out from an expert cutter's viewpoint what line best carries on the good work. And the average "bob" unques-tionably requires a wave to the bair. Ruth had an extremely high forehead and we showed her how the hair brought gracefully down on the side chortened it and gave a softer expression to the face. Marcelled and "shingled" in the back, the transformation worked miracle all round.

companion, is to know they mean not less care and attention but more. They have to be just rightly done as to line and wave, or the change is not for the better. If the experiment proves satisfactory, and the bob is to remain, then comparatively frequent trimmings any way, must be attended to. But there is no question that the time spent on studying the right line of coiffure, and money, too, if you can-not figure it out alone, should be parof a woman's business, for it makes al hair been long I should have taken her to an expert in the coffure art, too, and ence, the improvement in the luster of have studied out for her the most becoming arrangement just the same. The brushing rules would have been agreed upon and she would have experienced with long hair the same wonderful im-evement in sheen and quality with the ii weeks' exercise and hygienic life. Letters to Cynthia's column must be written on one side of the paper only, and must be signed with the writer's name and address. The name will not be published if the writer does not wish it. Unsigned letters and letters written on both sides of the paper will not be answered. Writers who wish personal answers that can be given in the column will please look there, as personal letters are only written when absolutely necessary.

jewelry, unless they are engaged. A birthstone ring might not be very expensive. Ask the girl's mother if you may give it.

But, unfortunately, many of the lone wolves who roum about the city seeking companionship are timid, self-con-

The Right Kind of Girl

CURLY HEAD

I'se a good facial soap for washing stand. Then finish off with cold water as you can stand. Then finish off with cold water and an ice rub, which will close the nores and refine the skin. At night cleanse your face with a good cleansing cream and wipe it off with a soft cloth or absorbent cotton. This will help clear up your forehead, too.

Apply lemon juice to the rus stain; let it remain for a few minutes and then wash it off with warm water. Continue this until the stain disappears.

Bobbed Hair Means More Care

Shall He Give Ring?

Dear Cynthia—This is the first time in your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" I feit I must write to him. Dear Sparrow, so you are a discovery I congratulate you. But tell me, some fellows and girls. The girl I go why? Didn't you ever hear of a girl who refuses to kiss a young man? I have written to your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" Why shouldn't there be a central feit I must write to him. Dear Sparrow, so you are a discovery I congratulate you. But tell me, why? Didn't you ever hear of a girl who refuses to kiss a young man? I have written to your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" I feit I must write to him. Dear Sparrow, so you are a discovery cry? I congratulate you. But tell me, why? Didn't you ever hear of a girl who refuses to kiss a young man? I have written to your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" Under the same unhappy plight?

Of course, there would have to be chaperons, for undesirables would crop why? Didn't you ever hear of a girl who refuses to kiss a young man? I have. Why the girls have been doing it right along. It is nothing to be proud of, because it is the right thing the feit I must write to him.

I have written to your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" I congratulate you. But tell me, write to him.

I have written to your paper, but when I read the letter signed "Sparrow" I congratulate you. But tell me, write to him.

I feit I must write to him.

I have

To "T. B. P."

Not until the fourth week did we nice young chap, too, by the way, with an auto, into which Ruth has stepped if two bother much about the arrangement of the hair. Then, one day, I took her limes of late on her way to dances and sight-seeing jaunts through lovely suburban territory.

Weeks ngo this girl wrote me about the was bobbed when she presented herself to me; or rather, I should say, it was pared off with no more regard for line or contour than a housewife considers with the potato parer in hand. It hung low over the ears, and descended in a melancholy low to be beautiful, which is the trouble with 15 per cent of our sex, who feel that nature has been meager if not unkind.

We thereupon came to an agreement.

We thereupon came to an agreement.

She would put herself in my hands. objector does,

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips

When To Be Brutally Frank

If you are a salesman you have probobserved that there are some persons with whom you do not dare be too outspoken, and that there are others upon whom you seem to make no impression unless you carry frank. statement virtually to the point of bru-

These are the people upon whom hints fall like water upor the back of the proverbial duck. Delicately modified statements fail to penetrate their understanding, it seems.

If you are selling soap it does little good to speak to one of these in gencal and delicate terms about the virtue of your product in connection with the virtue of cleanliness. You have to come right out with it and tell him that the way to keep from being dirty is to use your soan. Yet there are people who would be mortally offended if you ever binted the possibility that they had ever come in contact with dirt.

But how do you recognize the people whom you should be brutally frank? to whom you should be brutally frank? tridinarily you have to develop the fact as you talk to them, it you don't have recourse to characterblogy. But in making use of this science on this point you don't have to resort to any complicated observations or calculations. You merely observe the skin on the man's hand or his face. If it's coarse-looking sain, with large pores, you should waste no more time, but come out with your story in the most dire t and emphatic manner that you can. On the other hand, if it is fine, soft skin, and the hair is fine instead of coarse, watch your step. Be tactful, use no crude expressions and make no vulgar remarks.

Tomorrow-When to Drive.

Is "He" Really "She" Do you think the black-robed and eavily masked avenger in

JACK Oʻ JUDGMENT man or woman?

Is "Jack," Maisie White, daugher of a former member of the gang. who has turned on his confederates Or Lollie Marsh, young and lovely, but deep in the plans of the

Edgar Wallace will set you guessing in the new story that Begins Toda

"A Lone Wolf" Suggests to His Pastor a Get-Together League for Strangers

He Is Tired of Roaming the City by Himself and He Thinks Other Outsiders Who Cannot Break In Would Be Helped by This

PERSONALLY." writes a stranger who has been in the city seven munity, make-yourself-at-home feeling. You are welcome to make yourself at home, but you have to do it all yourself.
And so the "Lone Wolf's" suggesany friends. "I have grown tired of alone, taking in a movie or strolling through the park—alone, always alone—while from all around comes the ripple of merry laughter or the wild pastor carried it out? guffaws of a genuine gladness born of the joys of a mutual companionship. something that I here have sought in vain. I have gone to churches, yes. That boy of yours away at camp will want to get boxes from home, vain. I have gone to churches, yes. reores of them, and prayer-meetings, because, no matter how good the cooktoo, but haven't gotten very far so- ing there, nothing quite comes up to cially. A Glad to see you, young man, that which mother sends. And jams are come again. greeting is about as far always welcome, particularly the homecome again. greeting is about as the as one can advance unless he is possessed of that natural ability to break into a crowd and, by the very strength of his conversational powers, force his way into the party. * * I have made a proposition with the pastor of a local church, which is this: The pastor will church, which is this: The pastor will converse for Strang- or gravies it is very "tasty," but also

WITH the paster of a church to take the responsibility, a grave one, of bringing about meetings among those who live in the city and yet without it, this seems like a splendid plan.

Some of the "Lonesome" letters from the city and yet without it. young girls who have come to the city to work and from young men who can-not find congenial friends make your heart ache with sympathy.

They get along all right during the day, with their business friends and thoughts, but that coming back—not home—at the end of a day, to a single room in a boarding-house or a silent apartment is a desolute desays out. apartment is a desolate., dreary out-

There are movies to go to : yes, sights to see, trips to take—but always alone, with no friend to talk to, laugh with, or argue against, or annoy amiably. It's no wonder they seek friends any. where, everywhere, of any kind.

AS THE "Lone Wolf" says, it might be possible for some one of compelling personality and self-confidence to break into the circle that she finds already made and finished in a church

ing companionship are timid, self-con-scious, shy, and hesitate to step in where they may not be wanted-most Dear Cynthia—This is the first time girls are, anyhow, have written to your paper, but when Why shouldn't there be a central comes "one of us" or else frowned

Things You'll Love to Make

Adventures With a Purse

Of Burlap and Yarn Are These Hand.

Burlap of two colors (or burlap and linene of a darker shade) and yarn can be used to great advantage in making economical drapes or curtains. Some time ago I showed a striking cushion fashioned along the same lines. Make the main part of the drapes of the church, which is this: The paster will fable, Used on meats or to flavor soups form a Get-together League for Strangers, where all those who find it hard to break into the city's social life may meet in one grand union. What do you think of this plan?"

"A LONE WOLF"

"A LONE WOLF"

"A LONE wolf in table, Used on meats or to flavor soups of the flower form from the middle of each piece, just below the curve. Applique the bands on to the burlap side pieces and valance. Stitch around the flowers with a buttonhole stitch. Fill in the center of the flowers with room as a sauce. French dots. These make wonderfully attractive living room drapes.

some Curtains

keep Flies away from sugar

LIES are enemies of health.
They bring germs and dirt wherever they go. And they are especially attracted by sugar.

Sugar which is not protected from flies may bring serious trouble.

Why take this chance? Franklin Package Sugars are positively protected from flies, dirt, dust and handling at all times. They are weighed, packed and sealed by machine, never exposed on the way from our refinery to your home.

The Franklin Sugar Refining Company

"A Franklin Cane Sugar for every use" Granulated, Dainty Lumps, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown; Golden Syrup; Cinnamon and Sugar; Sugar-Honey

To develop all their appetizing flavor,

To preserve all their wholesomeness,

And to provide nature's "broom" that keeps the digestive system spick and span.

There's not a bit of artificial sweetening in Grape-Nuts -it just becomes sweet of its own accord in the long baking.

And that enticing flavor-how good it is with good milk or cream! Fruits, too, fresh or cooked, add to the delight of a dish of Grape-Nuts, morning, noon or sundown. It is a compact, ready-to-eat food-no cooking needed. Why not try it for tomorrow's breakfast?

"There's a Reasor"

barley, carefully mixed and slowly

Postum Cereal Co., Ind., Battle Creek, Mich.