

ROBBED BY FIVE YOUTHS IN AUTO

Three Are Held on Suspicion of Holding Up Leopold Abrams, of 327 Reed Street

USED GUNS AND THREATS

Leopold Abrams, twenty-five years old, of 327 Reed street, was held up by five automobile bandits at midnight as he was walking through the square at Fourth and Federal streets. None of the hold-up men was more than twenty years old.

A car drew up to the curb as Abrams came along and four of the young men stepped out. Two of them stuck guns in Abrams' side and the other two went through his pockets, taking $6 in cash and a fountain pen valued at $5. Then they jumped in the car and sped away, after warning Abrams not to "start anything" or put the police on their trail.

Abrams ran to the police station at Seventh and Carpenter streets and gave the police a description of the bandits and the car.

Early this morning a car was seen in the same neighborhood, which aroused the suspicion of the patrolman on the beat.

He arrested three young men who were in it. They gave their names as Frank Liberto, seventeen years old, of 541 Washington avenue; Paul Rivera, nineteen, 537 Manton street, and James Carlo, 220 Hoffman street.

They will have a hearing before Magistrate Coward in Central Station this morning on a charge of highway robbery. The youths denied that they were connected with the hold-up of Abrams.

You Know How It's Been—Springs Jumping Out of Place and Piercing the Upholstery and Giving Discomfort

Trouble?—too much responsibility on each of a few springs—bad as the boy whose "gallus" button was off.

And we've gone along, somehow thinking that perhaps our growth in grace needed the unktion of troublesome furniture. Tended to keep us humble—and so much upholstered-furniture was as bad in other ways—just lacking in the vitals of good curled hair and strong webbing.

Well, this Gimbel development cures all that. Here is a—

Three-Piece Living-room Suite with springs as thick as hops—768 of them in the three pieces—can't be any trouble

And the furniture is filled with pure white horse hair that retails at $1 a pound—all hair, with thin layer of cotton under the upholstery fabric, to keep the hair from "picking" you.

These Suites are covered in Tapestry or Velour—offering ample selection of color, and of pattern in the tapestry. No guess-work—we show the inwards of the furniture—show the splendid long curled-hair and that no short hair is put in just for talk's sake.

You'll Agree It's Worth $500. August Sale Price is $285

In every helpful way—
This August Furniture Sale is Different
It means more to you in value-getting; more, too, in the adaptability of the furniture; more regard for the furnishers of apartments who must economize space.

—that is the scope of the sale, with far more than usual of simple, lovable pieces—rush chairs, comfort chairs, davenport-tables, gateleg tables, sewing stands, tea wagons and—oh, it would be a lengthy list! Come and see.

Furniture Prices Have Been Greatly Lessened
Maybe it is best to re-state that fact—we haven't "cheapened" the furniture; but by long planning, large buying and co-operation of the large cabinet makers who sought our business we have "cheapened" the price.

On much furniture you can save half
On very much a third
On some, ten to twenty-five percent
—on all, the utmost amount we could get clipped from the prices.

- Bedroom Suites, $100 to $3000
- Dining-room Suites, $135 to $2000
- Living-room Suites, $65 to $3000

Partial Payments on Furniture Cheerfully Arranged
And you buy at the same low August-Sale prices.
We have developed for our three stores—

The Largest American Retail Furniture Business
—and such a success doesn't come by chance.
Two-acre show-room holds just the samples.
At your service.
