Letters to the Editor

Suggests Inviting Foreign Exhibits
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—In reading various accounts of the Letters to the Editor should be as brief and to the point as possible.

Anything that is not pertinent to the denominational or sectarian dis-

Roses bloomed around the door and a baby Lent a sunshine to that lonely woman side:
And I said: "Though fate's unkind, you are happy here, I find."

We happened to come home from Europe in 1871, and my mother, Mrs.
E. D. Gillespie, was invited by the Board of Finance to attend the philosophy of these books is to "live one's own life," to be "free," to break to restraints of "convention." And it

"There's a light every night just to show the way.
You get your feet on the ground,
There's a smile all the while greets me every day."

His Hat in the Ring
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Kindly with respect put some in your faithful column of Peoples' Forum.

Right Kind of a Treaty
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—Details of the Yapp agreement, recently made, have a more lively interest for the people of this country
