

HOLT AND KEATON
STAR AT STANLEY

Former at Best in Stirring Peter B. Kyne Story. Latter in Comedy

Stanley-Peter B. Kyne is one author who certainly has no grudge to hold against the film. And, vice versa, picture producers cannot complain that Kyne's rugged and virile stories make weak and unsatisfactory screen material.

Five or six years ago Dustin Farnum appeared in the screen in "The Man From Panamint," a typical Kyne story of a real and believable West.

It was an outstanding hit. Given the fact that this week that "White Satan Sleeps" is the latest of the "White Satan Sleeps" in the series shown with Jack Holt as the hero, and once more the verdict must be that it is a picture far and away above the ordinary.

"White Satan Sleeps" is a good example of what can be done with a yarn that centers about a little mining town and with a tough dance hall and saloon, and shows how both town and saloon are cleared up. The answer probably is that Kyne creates everyday people, likable and human, and so, even when the incidents become a bit too sticky, the audience does not lose its faith.

Holt hasn't done so fine a piece of acting in months. As the jail bird who, "through a set of curious circumstances" becomes Panamint, and then proceeds to reform both the town and himself, Holt is wholly admirable. Truth to tell, he outshines Farnum, who put the desired comedy into the role, and the desired comedy into the role, and the desired comedy into the role.

A fine bit is contributed by Mabel Van Buren as Sunflower. Scenes of the regeneration of the town, and the regeneration of the town, and the regeneration of the town.

Strange as it may seem, facts have been twisted, characters changed, and the entire plot of the first screen version has been changed. But the result is a picture that is, in all ways, finer than the Farnum picture. Itself exceptionally good, Joseph Henning has done his direction well and the photography is excellent.

Palace-The excellent and rather peculiar thing about "All for a Woman" is that people who like to see a good picture will be enthralled by it, and those who have hated that same subject ever since school days will like it, too.

The man who are untouched by the "Palace-He-to-Griffith" urge will find it far superior to "Orphans of the Storm," because it is more faithful to the facts of the French Revolution which it relates. Even if its present "cut" form and shown as a regular program picture, it stands out majestically as a vivid panoramic glimpse of the days of 1789. It is dignified, truthful and extremely dramatic in form, though not based on a great work of literature.

Photoplays Elsewhere

CAPITOL—"The Delicious Little Devil," release of a Mae Murray feature, with Reddy Valentino.

GREAT NORTHERN—"Too Much Business" with Tully Marshall.

IMPERIAL—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

MARKET STREET—"Fair Lady," with Betty Blodgett.

REGENT—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

SIXTY-NINTH STREET—"The Three Musketeers" with Douglas Fairbanks.

SEASIDE—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WYOMING—"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

IRENE FRANKLIN TOPS
GOOD BILL AT KEITH'S

Clever Comedy Offerings and Music Aplenty Well Received

Keith's-Irene Franklin-she of the Greenwich Village Follies-heads the bill this week with a goodly font of song and monologue which gives forth a pleasant, bubbling stream of entertainment. Irene goes well, very well indeed.

Two nut numbers compete for second honors. The musical repertoires of Dearest and Collette, billed as "The Versatile Couple," has a tough tussle with the antics of Jack Donahue, the Follies dancer, who looks like the Mad Hatter in "Alice in Wonderland," and acts much the same way.

Josephine and Henning have a girl and boy offering of more than passable merit, and the Worden Brothers do some really good foot juggling.

Regent-Sleep walking always has been a popular subject for story writers back to the days of Wilkie Collins and his "Moonstone," and probably long before. Now Constance Binney is seen as a convent-bred girl who is plucked by a set of circumstances which makes of her an unfortunate.

Globe-C. Wesley Johnson and his musical organization played jazz in such a way as to keep the calls for "more" coming thick and fast far past the allotted time.

Walt Whitman-Handie with Care.

NIXON'S AMBASSADOR-"Without Fear" with Pearl White.

LOUISIANA-"The Man From Home," with James Kirkwood and Anna Blossum.

BELMONT-"Back Pay," with Seena Owen.

brands of melody they served. The Six Stellas proved to be pretty girls and clever entertainers.

Nixon-The Innes Brothers, formerly of "The Follies," presented their "Men About Town" comedy skit and received deserved applause.

Walton Roof-Layman and Kling, well remembered for their dancing in "Mary," topped the program of entertainment with some striking steps.

Whatever is unusual is sought out by photographers in all parts of the world.

Neuritis Excess Uric Acid Simply means that you are not eliminating or throwing off the body's waste sufficiently.

Collins Institute Bellevue Court Building 1418 Walnut Street

Globe-C. Wesley Johnson and his musical organization played jazz in such a way as to keep the calls for "more" coming thick and fast far past the allotted time.

Walt Whitman-Handie with Care.

NIXON'S AMBASSADOR-"Without Fear" with Pearl White.

LOUISIANA-"The Man From Home," with James Kirkwood and Anna Blossum.

BELMONT-"Back Pay," with Seena Owen.

WYOMING-"The Girl From Paradise" with Constance Talmadge.

WANAMAKER'S AUGUST 1, 1922 WANAMAKER'S

Great Clearaway Sale of Silk, Wool and Cotton Dresses, $3.50 to $25—Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

Toward the end of each season the Down Stairs Store takes all the odd garments it has on hand and marks down their prices low enough to sell without hesitation.

Imagine $2.50, $5 and $7.50 for a good-looking cloth dress. Picture the satisfaction one can get in spending as little as $5, $7.50, $10 or $15 for a really pretty silk dress.

Autumn Dresses Are $13.50 to $45 Notice the Greek drapery line of the forty-five-dollar frock pictured.

Juniors' Tub Frocks Marked Down to $3.50

Right in the midst of vacation time, and with little more than a month till school opens, here is an offer worthy of consideration.

They are of sturdy gingham in plain tan, light and darker blue. One style has a vestee, collar and sash of contrasting color, designed in the favorite long-line style with fullness over the hips.

Girls' Gingham Dresses, $1

One style has collar, cuffs and sash of crisp organdie; the other is trimmed with plain contrasting chambray.

Hurrying Out Women's Shoes

at $1.75 $1.90 $2.90 $4.90 Small-priced oddments of good shoes.

Patent Leather Ties, $1.75 Known as "the shoes with an aristocratic look."

Low Shoes at $2.90 Average half price for tan and black oxfords and a few white canvas pumps and oxfords.

Sport Oxfords, $1.90 White canvas shoes with plain rubber soles and heels.

Graceful Pumps at $4.90 More than two dollars below the early Summer standard price.

75c and $1.25 for Women's Silk Stockings

$1.25 for full-fashioned silk stockings! They are the latest "find" of the Down Stairs Store.

Silk Stockings at 75c Almost chiffon weight for dress or in the heavier quality for every day.

Women's Saten Bathing Suits Down to 85c (Featured on the Central Aisle)

Third shipment of some of our most popular bathing suits at quite a good deal less than either of the other two lots.

Clearaway of Women's Silk Gloves Nearly All at Half Price

35c 50c 65c 85c This is a fascinating opportunity to get really good silk gloves at almost half or less than half the early season prices.

Two-Clasp Tricot Silk Gloves, 35c Black, white, navy, pongee and beaver.

Two-Clasp Milanese Silk Gloves, 50c Backs in Paris-point style or with five rows of heavy embroidery.

Strap-Wrist Gloves of Milanese Silk, 65c Very smart five-inch cuffs strapped at the wrist.

12-Button Milanese Silk Gloves, 85c Very heavy quality silk gloves with Paris-point backs.

16-Button Length Gloves of Fine Tricot, 85c White, mastic and pongee.

White Tub Silk, $1 Yard All-silk, 36-inches wide.

White Fiber Silk Sports Satin, $2 Yard Rich, lustrous fiber silk sports satin so popular for white skirts, wraps and costumes.

All-Silk Canton Crepe, $3 Yard A Down Stairs Store specialty which has met with extraordinary success.

Dainty Silk Underthings to Put in Vacation Bags Silk underclothes of truly feminine daintiness and charm.

$3.50 for Tub Satin Petticoats Pretty double-panel tub satin petticoats, trimmed with deep lace flounces.

Radium Silk Camisoles, $2 Two styles with bodice tops and ribbon straps and one with built-up shoulders.

August Sale of Wool and Fiber Rugs, $6.50 to $17.50 Limited numbers of rugs in each group and broken pattern assortments.

12 x 15 Rugs, $15 and $17.50

12 x 12 Rugs, $12.50 and $15

9 x 9 Rugs, $9, $10 and $12.50

8 x 8 Rugs, $8, $9 and $10

6 x 9 Rugs, $6.50

Ever had a cup? You'll taste the difference! ASCO Coffee 29c lb.