

GETTING SET FOR THE SAND HOGS. Soon this caisson, now in place on the Camden side, will be dropped into the bed of the Delaware River

FRENCH TENNIS EXPERT. M. Jean Borotra, at Seabright, N. J. He is one of three French champions visiting the U. S. A.

SUPPOSE HE MISSES IT? BUT HE WON'T. Richard Talmadge never thinks of bodily risk when he is injecting a "thriller" into his picture. He made this dive onto the lead of hay twice before he ordered the cameraman to record it

SAILED FOR PARIS. Miss Janet Show, with the American Women's Olympic team, which sailed on the Aquitania

A NORTH OF ENGLAND JUMPER. A. Massarella, on one of his hunters, as it makes a clever jump at the annual York fair

"DOUGHBOYS" IN MODERN BATTLE AT CAMP DIV. A tank and Red Cross workers of the theoretical "Blue" army will take her five kiddies on many trips. She is an expert in handling cars. Her children are May, Stephen, John, Louella and Rosemary

SOME FORM. Sylvan Landow, a Philadelphia grammar school lad, whose tennis playing in the Fairmount Park boys' tournament has surprised his opponents

VISITING FATHER. Judge Rogers, of Common Pleas Court No. 2, with his daughter Katherine in the Judge's chamber

A BUSY CAMDEN OFFICIAL. He is E. S. Hyde, chief of police. The chief was photographed in his office yesterday afternoon

MARY CARR, MOVIE STAR, IN HER NEW CAR. In this automobile, the screen actress will take her five kiddies on many trips. She is an expert in handling cars. Her children are May, Stephen, John, Louella and Rosemary

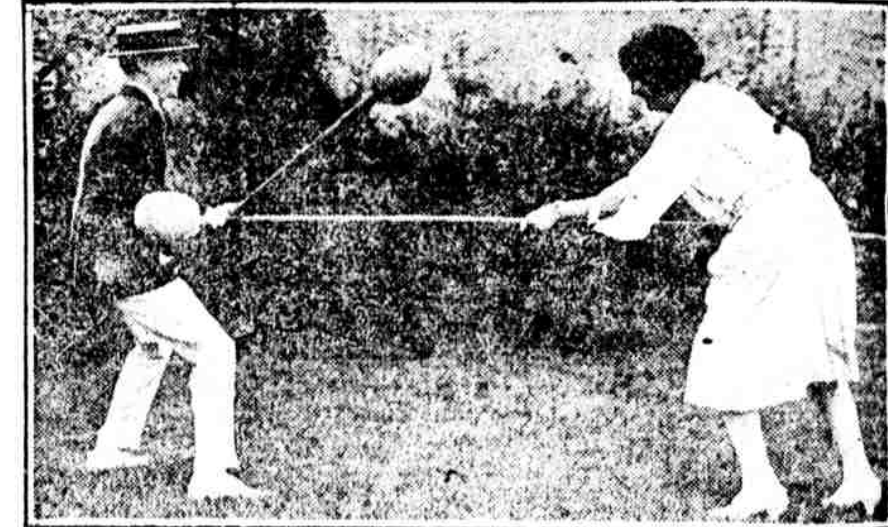

COL. WM. HASKELL, head of American Russian Relief Committee, has been doing good work abroad

ON THE ROAD TO "ROLY-POLYNES." The seven-month-old baby found in a clump of bushes near Fairview, N. J., is improving wonderfully in the care of West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital nurses. The baby is still unidentified

HENRI SCOTT talks of American singers in Editorial Page interview

TILTING CONTEST ON LAND. This battle was staged along the Delaware River, at Torresdale, as Albert Smith and Miss Marie Gaus were waiting for a canoe tilting contest to get under way

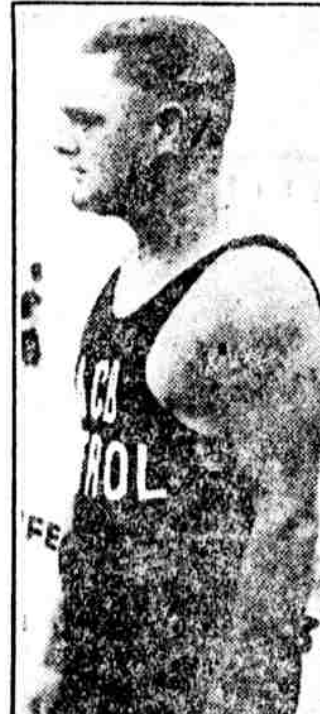

FANNY WARD, the actress, who is reported to have broken her arm in a fall at a hotel in France

LORD LOUIS MOUNTBATTEN and his bride, Miss Edwina Ashley, the wealthiest girl in England, on their honeymoon in England

DELAWARE GUNNERS IN CAMP. The cameraman caught Captain Lewis A. Hudgins, a U. S. Army instructor at Camp George W. Sparks, near New Castle. He was ready for big work as the 108th Artillery, an anti-aircraft organization, was busy getting its camp in condition

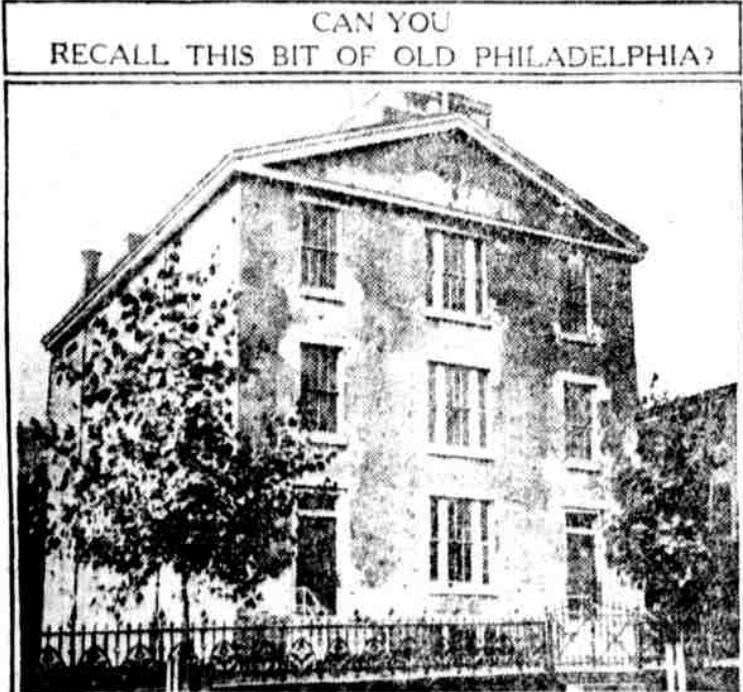

EIGHT YEARS AS LIFE GUARD. Charles Murray snapped on the Atlantic City beach

FLYING FANS. Miss Janet Moffett (left) and Miss Helen Johnson, just before a trip in the clouds. Miss Moffett is the daughter of Admiral Moffett

BACK FROM EUROPE. Mrs. Geo. A. Harder, of New York, returns after a six months' tour

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

THE WEST PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL. It was on Chestnut street, east of Thirty-sixth street, until taken down in 1891. T. D. Edmunds, 1603 Real Estate Trust Building, is the contributor. Send us your old-Philadelphia photographs

STATIONED AT THE TWENTY-THIRD DISTRICT. George W. Tittig, with his sawed-off shotgun ready for a hurry-up call

NELLIE COCHRAN LILLIAN BECKER IRMA COCHRAN THESE KENNETT SQUARE GIRLS were swimming with Miss Sybilla Kinsey when she shouted for help. She went down three times before her rescuers reached her

WONDERFUL SPORT. Albert Weiner was willing to play "horse," with a fair swimmer as his passenger, on a surf board at Ocean City

DROWNING STRIKE WORRIES. Secretary of Labor Davis ready for a dive in a pool at Washington

WATERING STATION FOR HORSES. Of course, when a "wee-wee" gets thirsty, John Fitzsimmons, in charge at Broad and Arch streets, sees that enough water is supplied