

MILLIONAIRE WILLS FIANCEE $500,000

John S. Saltus Also Leaves Jewelry to Mrs. Robert J. Campbell

ONE BENEFICIARY HERE

New York, Aug. 8.—The will of John Sanford Saltus, millionaire art patron and coin collector, leaving $500,000 and all his jewelry to Mrs. Robert J. Campbell, whom he was engaged to marry, was filed for probate yesterday in the Surrogate's Court.

Mr. Saltus died in the Hotel Metropolitan, London, on June 24, after drinking a solution of poison he had prepared for cleaning some coins. A glass of poison also stood on the table beside the casket, and the verdict of the coroner was that Mr. Saltus had drunk the emerald by mistake.

Mrs. Campbell is a widow. She was Miss Estelle Eugene Arnold, daughter of John V. Arnold, a former Surrogate of New York County. Her marriage to Robert James Campbell took place in 1902. Mr. Campbell died about two years ago.

When the news of Mr. Saltus' death led to the discovery that he was planning to be married in a few weeks, Mrs. Campbell said Mr. Saltus had been her husband's best friend, and that she had been engaged to him for some time.

At the coroner's inquest in London a cablegram from Mrs. Campbell was produced. It read as follows:

"Letters received. Great surprise and honor. Am happy, but not well, and will go to sanitarium. Let us remain true friends for the present. There is no one but you. Be cheerful and hold your own. Love,

"ESTELLE."

Interviewed here about the cablegram, Mrs. Campbell said it was a code message in reply to letters and cablegrams from Mr. Saltus, asking if he would come to New York or if she would go to London for the wedding.

The cablegram, translated, she said, told Mr. Saltus she and her companion, who had just left a hospital, would leave for England about July 18, and that they would be married there. She said they had both been "supremely happy," and she was positive Mr. Saltus' death was due to an accident.

The residuary estate, which may amount to nearly $1,000,000, it is said, is to be shared equally by four cousins.

One share goes to Mrs. Ethel M. Ludington, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., wife of Charles Ludington.

Others who will benefit are Mrs. Florence Sanford Bissell, of the Plaza Hotel; the Rev. A. Wright Saltus, a first cousin, of Concord, N. H., and Bohn Sanford Saltus, of Mount Kisco.

MATHILDE GOES SHOPPING

Believed Buying Her Trousseau in Paris

Paris, Aug. 8.—Miss Mathilde McCormick spent most of her time yesterday in Paris shops, making a large number of purchases preparatory to going to Switzerland tomorrow or Thursday.

Although she and her father, Harold P. McCormick, both refused to admit Miss Mathilde was buying a trousseau for her marriage to Max Oser, her Swiss fiance, a friend of the family said she naturally was keen to take advantage of many of the beautiful things obtainable in Paris shops in anticipation of "seeing her lover in Switzerland."

This friend added Mr. McCormick was continuing to proceed on the theory his daughter was the best judge of what constituted her happiness and would be permitted to do what she wished.

It is further said Mr. McCormick, himself, has made no plans for going to Switzerland in the immediate future, but his daughter would be accompanied by a companion. She is expected to go directly to Lucerne to visit her aunt.

HOSPITAL IN JERSEY URGED

Frelinghuysen Asks Harding to Aid Tubercular War Veterans

Washington, Aug. 8.—(By A. P.)—Construction in New Jersey of a government hospital for tubercular former service men was urged today by Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, and J. D. Sears, commander of the New Jersey department of the American Legion, during a conference with President Harding.

They suggested several sites in high altitudes for a hospital. At present 400 New Jersey war veterans, the President was told, are being quartered in contract hospitals, 250 of the men in hospitals outside the State.

KILLED BY ONE-MAN CAR

Fatal Accident in Reading Follows Demand for Removal

Reading, Pa., Aug. 8.—(By A. P.)—James Q. Geiger, seventy-seven, was run down by a one-man car here today and killed. Recently there was a demand here for the removal of these cars because of an accident.

Mr. Geiger was walking diagonally across the street and, it is alleged by the local transit company, was outside the safety zone.
