WOMAN IN BOSS'

Forget You Are Woman While in Man's Job, Is Miss Clara Garretson's Tip

IN GROCER EXCHANGE POST

An ardent advocate of new thought and a person whose favorite author is Dickens-this is Miss Clara M. Garretson, who has been elected secretary by the board of directors of the Grocers and Importers' Exchange to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Poore.

Miss Garretson is the only woman who has the distinction of being secretary of a strictly commercial and trade organization in Philadelphia. Before her election to this office she was assistant secretary to Mr. Poore for more than fifteen years.

She doesn't sit at her desk worrying about the percentage of bobbed-haired girls there are in the city or about women's rights, though she firmly believes in 'em. She has her theories lieves in 'em. She has her theories which she quietly puts into practice, but the passion for reformation has passed her by.

She unlocks the door to her office, picks up her mail, glances over it and answers the telephone almost in one gesture. And even when she says she thinks the first requisites for a successful business women are punctuality, loyalty, interest and a good business training, you are not particularly startled.

Literature is her bobby. It is Dick.

Literature is her hobby. It is Dickens that she likes and then Hawthorne and Scott. "Modern writers? Well, now, let's see. Who are some of the modern writers? I like novels, but I don't have much time for them."

And there is her lodge—the Order of the Eastern Star—of which she is worthy matron. Those are "the things she lives by," her work, her books, her lodge and new thought, which she declares is the "coming thing."

"There is still a prejudice about women working, too," she added, "but I think that will be done away with in time. I have heard several comments to the effect that my job is not a woman's job. A woman's job is what she makes it."

Miss Garretson lives at home at 6315 McCallum street, but she frankly admits that domestic life has never in-terested her in the least.

"The reason women do not succeed in business is because they will not forget or let others forget the fact that they are women—this so-called 'fem-ininity' is what is the matter with them. "But the woman who wants to succeed in business can if she tries. There is no reason in the world why women should not enter any field in which they are interested."

FRANKFORD 'L' TRIAL TRIP TO BE MADE ON AUG. 15

Mayor Says Plans Are Complete to Turn Road Over to P. R. T. Oct. 15 Mayor Moore announced that an of-ficial trial trip of the city's new cars over the Frankford "L" would be un-dertaken under the direction of Director Twining on August 15.

The Mayor said the Director, cooperating with the P. R. T. engineers, had completed plans to have the road and equipment ready to be turned over to the P. R. T. on October 15 for operation by November 5, in accordance with the Moore-Mitten agreement.

For more than a month the P. R. has been running some of the new cars over the Market street clevated line. This was to enable the crews to become acquainted with the automatic

SEEK VICTORY HALL PLANS

Phila. Architect to Be Selected From City-Wide Competition

Every architect in Philadelphia will ceive an invitation from the Philaelphia County Commissioners August 5 to show their qualifications to draw 10 plans for the Victory Hall on the Parkway, from Eighteenth to Nine-teenth street, at a cost of $5,000,000. The architects will be required first o submit their qualifications and state the capabilities of their offices for the work. Noted outside architects will eliminate all but ten of the entrants, and these will be invited to submit acial plans for the Victory Hall.
At the accepted figure of six per cent of the contract price the fee will be $300,000 for accepted plans.

Kendig Estate $284,072 An inventory of the personal estate of John Kendig, carpet manufacturer of Kensington, was filed with the Reg-ister of Wills today. The estate amounts to $284,072. Other inventories were those of Barbara Ottinger, $8414.67; Howard A. Perkins, $26,250.31, and John J. Grady, $34,583.03.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 236-Turning the Coins Set ten coins in a circle, as illussome one to start with any coin and count around the circle to the right, 1, 2, 3, 4. The fourth coin the spectator must turn over. He may then start again on any head he chooses and count 1. 2, 3, 4, turning the fourth coin. The problem is to continue this procedure until nine of the coins are turned tails.

The spectator, however, will find that after he has turned four or five coins he will be forced to start on a tail, or else stop on a coin already turned. The performer, however, finds no difficulty in accomplishing the task the first time he attempts it.

The rule for success is very simple. Start anywhere you please and count 1, 2, 3, 4. Turn the coin, and then se-cretly count three more. Skip them and start your count on the next coin, again counting 1, 2, 3, 4. Skip three more and again count. Continue this correctly. opyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Company

More Furniture Than Ever Before is in This Semi-Annual Sale

Hundreds of Suits and Single Pieces on our showroom floor. Many times that number held in reserve in our great 9-story Furniture Warehouse. Thus, despite remarkable selling activity, every new day finds the assortments as complete, as interesting and as inviting as the day before.

Although we have assembled for this Sale more Furniture than has ever been under this Store's roof at one time-we do not believe that you can find anywhere a stock so conveniently and compactly arranged for easy inspection.

The Sale includes great special purchases at savings of one-third to one-half. In addition, our entire regular stock has been sharply reduced for the Sale.

To-morrow will be an excellent day to carefully compare the merits of as many sales as you care to. This Sale invites comparison - and excels by it-therefore we have made comparison an easy matter here.

The salesman will tell you about our Deferred Payment Plan if you __ wish. Ask him.
