Nancy Wynne Sees Several Smart Gowns During the Week-She Speaks of the Mayor's Meeting for Women on Sept. 6—Others Matters Discussed

HOW a cool day brings out the frocks of darker materials and darker hats! I saw Elaine Sullivan in frock of black creps de chine made with long panels at the sides. Her hat was a large model of black straw and the wore gray silk stockings and black

The Sullivans have taken a cottage in Bar Harbor and are going up there in a few days to spend the rest of the month and the first week in September. They live most of the time at their country place in Radnor, having given up their town house at Twenty-first and Walnut streets some years ago. But when the Ritz for a couple of months.

Judging from the closed houses on Walnut, Spruce and Pine streets in the winter and the houses on those streets that have been converted into apartments, the fad for staying out in the country and coming into town for two. three or four mouths is here to stay. And if you have several cars and the necessaries of life within reach, me for the country, too, otherwise town.

TO GO back to costumes: Mary L Ernestine Coleman was in town one of the cooler days last week looking very sweet in a frock of red jersey cloth, which was made on long, straight lines and was held in at the waist with a black patent leather belt. Her hat was of black straw with a wide brim and a large red rose as trimming. The Colemans have taken a cottage on the Irving Kings farm at Penllyn,

It seems to me I have seen a great many people shopping this week. Mary Page Platt was in town wearing a lovely frock of gray-blue voile made with drawn work in a conventional pattern. Her hat was of blue straw trimmed with a long uncurled feather. The Platts are at their country place in Paoli.

AM so glad to hear that the Mayor has consented to hold a demonstra-tion meeting in his reception room for wemen voters, Republican or Demoregistration day, to explain why, when and where we women should register and later vote. There are many who do not want to go on jury duty and who have the impression that they will not be called if they do not register. So they refrain from voting, not realizing that whether you register and vote or not

"My worries began after having my hair bobbed. I simply could not keep it in curl, especially on damp days. After reading about liquid silmerine in all the leading magazines, I decided to give it a trial. I applied it according to directions and then put my hair up and left it over night. I was so delighted with the lovely curls in the morning and, best of all, they stay nice all day, regardless of the weather. When my hair gets straight again, instead of giving it another application, I siming it another application. I simply dampen it with water before putting it on curlers. By so doing, one allowing application. one silmerine application lasts a week or ten days. I for one am thankful for this miraculous liquid

Does Your Husband's Stenog Need Watching?

Many women are constitutionally jealous of the young women who share their husbands' business hours. Are they justified in this suspicion?

How about the subject, from the stenographers' viewpoint? She frequently knows more about the nagging, henpecking wife at home, than her employer's better half thinks.

A typical business woman has confided to Mayme Ober Peak what she knows about the least discussed side of the husband, wife and pretty stenographer situation.

This topic is fully discussed from an interesting angle in the
