FORMER RIVALS TO CLASH ON DIAMOND

Hilldale to Oppose Lits, Stonehurst Plays Bridesburg and Swedesboro at S. Phils

DOBSON VS. NORTH PHILS

The schedule of games for the Monday evening twilight fans, while not as heavy as some other nights, contains a number of important contests. One is the clash between Lit Brothers and Hilldale at Fifty-fourth and Elmwood avenue. The largest crowd of the season will witness this clash.

The meeting recalls some of the greatest games ever played in this city. Years ago when many of the big clubs now in the game were unknown, the store boys were battling the Darbyites in sensational clashes. Hilldale will have to be at its best on this occasion as the spurt of the Lit team is one of the features of the 1922 local campaign.

Another West Philly engagement is at Fifty-eighth and Walnut streets between Stonehurst and Bridesburg. They were carded to clash on Saturday at Richmond and Orthodox, but Jupiter Pluvius interfered.

It is the first time they have come together as Stonehurst is only a recent addition to the Philadelphia Baseball Association. "Nace" Ryan will use Robinson on the hill while Billy Whitman will depend on "Lefty" Stiely.

Jimmy Schofield To Oppose South Phils

The South Phillies are home at Shetzline Park, Broad and Bigler streets. The visiting attraction will be Swedesboro, of the South Jersey League. The name may not sound big, but the fans will pass up a good thing if they fail to attend.

Jimmy Schofield, otherwise known as "Lefty," is the pitching ace of the visitors, and while he cannot hurl every game, will likely swing into action tonight. In that case the home management had better have one of the regulars ready to do mound duty or the downtowners are likely to be on the losing end.

The South Philly Hebrews travel to Ardmore and engage the Main Liners on Autocar field. It is the first time these clubs have met. Ardmore is playing good ball, as can be seen by the 4-to-2 victory scored yesterday over the North Phillies. Michell will in all probability pitch against Rube Chambers.

Manager Mosteller, of Colonial Ice Cream, has a busy campaign outlined for his team this week, opening with St. Barnabas at Mascher and Westmoreland tonight. The "Freezers" have been playing fine ball, but are now taking on all the better clubs and face a stern proposition when they face Jackie Jordan's curves.

Weavers to Visit the North Phillies

The North Phillies are at home to the Dobson weavers at Fourth and Wingohocking streets. The Norristown lads are traveling at a terrific clip and have scored several triumphs over the Dobson team so far. Both are in the northern division and will meet later in the regular series for the championship of that section.

Stenton Field Club will have the Tate's All-Stars as the Monday attraction for Mount Airy fans. The Cleveland aggregation has shown its class since invading this section, and is due to head home shortly. Heizel or Wilson will likely pitch for Stenton.

The Phoenix Professionals, who handed Puritan a setback on their home grounds on Friday will take on St. Callister, and the northwest teams expects to add another to the list of wins.

SHANAHAN TO OPPOSE FLEISHER YARN NINE

Meet in Special Contest on Former's Field in West Philly

The Shanahan Catholic Club and the Fleisher Yarn team meet this evening on the West Philadelphians' field at Forty-eighth and Brown streets.

Shanahan's regular night is Tuesday, but it was impossible to secure a game with the Yarners on Monday for more than a month, as their schedule on this night is complete.

The same teams have clashed once before this season and Fleisher won on Shanahan's field. The churchmen have come rapidly to the fore since and are confident of evening the score on this occasion.
