

MRS. BYFIELD MET CANDLER AT TRACK

Love of Fine Horses Draw Together Figures in Atlanta Suit

THREE SAILED FOR FRANCE

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Admiration of fine horses which drew them together at Walter T. Candler's private racetrack on his estate near Atlanta, where his races performed for charity or before guests in preparation for the Grand Circuit and other tracks, was one of the means of developing the acquaintance between the Candler and Byfield families, it was said today by mutual acquaintances in commenting on charges that Mr. Candler had attempted to attack Mrs. Clyde K. Byfield in her stateroom aboard the steamship Berengaria.

Mrs. Byfield's suit for $100,000, filed yesterday against the banker, mentioned the gatherings at the Candler track, and Clyde K. Byfield, in his written statement denying Mr. Candler's charges that he had attempted to "extort" $25,000 from the banker as a result of the affair on the Berengaria, also told of having purchased a race horse from Mr. Candler and of taking part in the events at the Lullwater track.

Mrs. Byfield, who claimed in her damage suit that she was so injured in the alleged attack on the night of July 16 in her stateroom that she was forced to undergo an operation last Monday, remained today at the home of her father, B. D. Gillespie, a city detective.

Mr. Candler, who, it was indicated, might soon file an answer to her charges, issued a denial that he had touched Mrs. Byfield or that anything of an improper nature occurred, and also asserted that "if she suffered any injuries on the trip it was from the terrific beating her husband gave her that night." Mr. Byfield had admitted that in his encounter with the banker he also had struck his wife.

On Voyage to France

The clash between the two men, which Mr. Candler said followed his finding himself in Mrs. Byfield's stateroom after partaking of champagne, took place while the two families, Mr. Candler and his daughters, aged eleven and nine years, and Mr. and Mrs. Byfield were on a voyage to France.

Shortly after Mrs. Candler left the banker, according to Mrs. Byfield's suit, the two men decided upon the trip and Mrs. Byfield was taken along not only for her pleasure, but because Mr. Candler desired her to aid in caring for the two girls.

Friends of Mrs. Candler, who formerly was a stenographer in the Central Bank, refused to say what place in California she had gone, but it was said she had taken her young son with her. The two children who made the trip to Europe are daughters of Mr. Candler's first wife.

VEST-POCKET LABORATORY IS NEEDED BY DRY AGENTS

Must Prove "Kick" Before Making Arrests in Florida

Port Pierce, Fla., Aug. 17.—(By A. P.)—Chemists with portable laboratories and capable of analyzing liquor on the spot are being needed in Florida as prohibition officers under a ruling of County Judge Johnson, of St. Louis County. He held that even when an officer sees liquor transported he cannot arrest the person in possession with a warrant unless it is first proved by chemical analysis that the material being moved is intoxicating.

SON OF LORD ASTOR RECEIVES $2,080,028

Securities Ordered Transferred to England for 5-Year-Old Boy
New York, Aug. 17.—Under an order signed yesterday by Supreme Court Justice O'Malley securities valued at $2,080,028 and placed in trust here by the late Viscount Astor as part of a trust fund for the benefit of his two sons and their children soon will be transferred to England.

The securities represent the share of John Jacob Astor, five-year-old son of the present Viscount Astor, in his grandfather's trust estate.

The first Viscount Astor set aside his personal property in this city for the benefit of his two sons and their children in a trust agreement signed May 25, 1910. An accounting, filed last spring disclosed that this property totaled $23,641,262 in securities.

The present Viscount Astor and his four sons, who participate in the trust agreement, will receive half of this sum less $3,000,000 promised Major John Jacob Astor, the present Viscount's younger brother, upon the occasion of his marriage to Lady Violet Mary Mercer Natrop. The other half, plus the marriage settlement, goes to Major Astor.

INVITE WILSON TO REUNION

Jersey "Lightning" Veterans Ask Former President to Be Guest
New York, Aug. 17.—Former President Wilson has been invited to the reunion in Atlantic City of the Seventy-eighth (Lightning) Division, A. E. F., in the following telegram from A. J. L'Heureux, chairman of the Executive Committee:

"In behalf of the Executive Committee I have the honor to invite you to the first reunion of the Seventy-eighth Division at Atlantic City September 30 and October 1. You, first as the Governor of New Jersey, the home of this division, and later as the chief executive of the United States in the World War and commander-in-chief of its armies, have been our leader. There is now no glory of marching armies, but your need is still felt."
