GIANT TOGS FOR JACK BENTLEY NEXT YEAR

Baltimore Star With Thir- What May Happen teen Straight Victories Sought by McGraw; Is Home-Run Swatter

By JOSEPH T. LABRUM ACK BENTLEY, all-around star of the Baltimore Orioles, will be with the Giants next season. That is the story going the rounds of the inner circles of both the international and the major leagues.

The general column is that McGraw Boston Boston Boston

the major leagues.

The general opinion is that McGraw has made such a huge offer for the big Sandy Springs player that Manager Dunn, of Baltimore, cannot refuse it. The amount is said to be so large that ill the other major league clubs who ad their eyes turned Bultimore way have given up hope of securing Bentley.

It is known with authority that McGraw has been after Bentley for some time and since the deflection of Phil Douglas is more than anxious to tract. Bentley, after being the big frog

in the small pond, is anxious to get up the the majors.

He has made his ambition known in no uncertain terms not only to Dunn
but to newspapermen in the International circuit. Dunn and Bentley have not been on the most intended terms this season.

About a month ago the pitcher-first baseman packed his baggage and left the club, due, it was said at the time, to "super sensitiveness." A remark made by Dunn following a play made by Bentley and some riding in the lettimes papers is said to have so in-Baltimore papers is said to have so insensed the temperamental star that he left the team.

After being absent from the lineup for some time. Bentley returned to the team and issued a statement in which be took all the blame and said that he in leaving withwas entirely too hasty out having talked to Dunn.

Phila. Golfer Shoots Nineteenth in One

New London, Conn., Aug. 31.—J. L. Alexander, of Madison, Conn., and Philadelphia, made a freak drive here yesterday on the Shenecossett Links. He played from the eight-eenth tee and the ball hit the clubhouse, and bounded on the porch and ran into the locker room, from where it was impossible to play the second shot.

Governor Lake, of Connecticut, who witnessed the shot, said it was the first time in the history of golf where the nineteenth hole was driven in a single stroke.
