

Greatest Collection of Stars in One Tourney to Start Play at Manheim Tomorrow

SURPRISES RULE IN GOLF TITLE PLAY

Quilford, Jones, Evans and Tolley Get Close Competition in Amateur Meet

SWEETSER 1 UP ON CHAMP

McPhail and Jones

EVANS and GODCHAUX

LEHIGH COACH REPORTS

James Baldwin Puta 27 Candidates

What May Happen In Baseball Today

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

DADS AND SONS PAIRS ON LINKS

Tournament Played Over at Whitmarsh Course

AULBACH'S FINE FIGHT

This Father and Son Golf Tournament that took place yesterday under the burning skies of Whitmarsh Valley isn't the big golfing event of the year from a statistical viewpoint.

A Big Field

Francis Warner

Scraps About Scrappers

PENN GRIDIRON WARRIORS HOLD FIRST SCRIMMAGE

WILL DECIDE STATE BIKE TITLE TONIGHT

Two Big Match Races, With Tommy Loughran as Starter, Feature of Final Program

CARMAN TO MEET MADDONA

Coronation of the Pennsylvania amateur bicycle champion and, among other events, two American-Italian match races will be the feature of the closing of the 1922 season at the Philadelphia Velodrome, Point Breeze Park, tonight.

EVER HAMMER ARRIVES FOR BOUT WITH TENDLER

To Finish Training at Local Gym for Monday's Bout

Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight, who will meet Lew Tendler, southpaw, in an eight-round bout at the Phillies' ball park next Monday night, arrived here yesterday to complete his training in this city.

Hammer has been busy for several weeks going through training paces at his home town, but figured he wanted to be on the scene of this important bout early to become fully acclimated.

The rugged Chicagoan, who missed up on Benny Leonard in his last start in Michigan City, Ind., last month, has established training quarters at a local gymnasium, where he will work out daily until Monday.

George K. O. Chaney, the Baltimore knockout artist, will be Tim Dorney's opponent.

Joe Tippin is paired off with Pal Moran, of New Orleans. This will be a return meeting.

In the other bout of the all-lightweight card Bobby Barrett, of Clifton Heights, will square off with Salior Freedman, of Chicago.

All four contests will be over the eight-round route.

Boots and Saddle

Edlet, the Ranocas Stable filly which won several stakes while masquerading in the selling division, appears to have a good chance to repeat in the Tom-boy Handicap at Belmont Park today.

SIX NEW MEN IN PENN GRID SQUAD

Signal Practice Is Held by Quakers Under Hot Sun at Mt. Gretna

LONG LECTURE ON RULES

By JOSEPH T. LABRUM

Mount Gretna, Pa., Sept. 7.—Six new candidates for the University of Pennsylvania's football squad, which is holding its preliminary practice here, reported this morning.

They were: John L. Hamilton and Clarke Craig, of Shawnee, Okla.; Henry Schuff, of Grand Island, Neb.; S. Fairchild, of Reno, Nev.; Jerry Cole, of Cleveland, O.; and Johnny Reiners, of Camden.

Immediately on arrival the athletes jumped into tugs and went out on the parade grounds to join the other grid-irons.

As soon as breakfast was over this morning, Coach Heisman took the athletes into the auditorium and delivered a long lecture on new rules and methods he would employ in coaching the team this season.

The men then were told to put on light running shoes and were taken under a group of shady trees adjacent to the parade grounds.

Backs Are Drilled

Heisman took seven or eight of the backfield candidates off to one side and instructed and demonstrated what he expected them to do this year.

Each Herbert Hartman, the new end coach, aided by Carl Ertresvaag, star end of the 1920 and 1921 teams, instructed half a dozen wing men in running, straight-arming and catching forward passes.

Dr. Draper, on his part, took the linemen in charge, while Tom McNamara picked out eleven men and gave them five or six signals before sending them into the line of scrimmage.

The eleven was composed of Swan, W. Coleman, Adams, Cullen, Dreydon, Kils, Hypps, Grove, James, Curtis and Bouff. Most of these are new men.

Babe Grove was holding down the quarterback position because of his knowledge of the Penn system, while Bill James played at half James, however, did not have a chance to show his real worth.

Tackling Tomorrow

The tackling dummies were up for the first time. Owing to the hot sun, however, tackling practice will not begin until tomorrow morning.

Tom Davies, former Pitt star, who is a member of the coaching staff this year, is expected to arrive this afternoon.

All of the candidates will go through the same paces this afternoon as they did this morning.

Greenleaf Increases Lead

TENNIS SOLONS MAKE APPEAL FOR FAIR PLAY

Request Gallery Not to Applaud Errors During National Singles Tournament at Germantown Cricket Club. Matches Start Tomorrow at 10 A. M.

AN APPEAL to the sportsmanship of a Philadelphia gallery was made last night by the committee in charge of the national tennis championship, which starts at the Germantown Cricket Club tomorrow at 10 A. M.

Philadelphia is host to the greatest collection of tennis stars ever clustered in one tournament, and the fans here are asked to play fair to every one of the 123 competitors.

Three requests have been made by the United States Lawn Tennis Association committee managing the tournament and by the Germantown Cricket Club. They are:

First, Please do not smoke. It is against the law, because the wooden stands constitute a fire hazard. Observance of this request will insure fair conditions for all the players and will add to the general enjoyment of the matches.

Second, Please do not applaud until after a point has been finished, and do not applaud errors. Observance of this request will insure fair conditions for all the players and will add to the general enjoyment of the matches.

Third, Please do not throw cushions after the matches are finished. Several persons have been injured by those in recent years, for when thrown from the height of the stands they are dangerous missiles.

The joint statement adds: "If the spectators will co-operate with the management on these three points, it will add to the enjoyment of the matches by all concerned."

Players from all parts of the United States and three foreign countries will be in this city tonight.

The advantage was on hand yesterday, and many took advantage of the warm weather to get in few practice sets.

Among those were Wallace E. Johnson and Carl Fischer, both of the Cynwyd Club, who are topnotchers in this district. Fischer, who is the Middle States and district singles champion, was not needed for the nationals, but if he plays up to his usual standard he will cause trouble for some of the hand-picked and placed athletes.

The three center courts, which are enclosed by the stands and sixteen side courts, will be in use during the tournament, and tomorrow, when fifty-nine matches will be played in the first round, every court will be used at least three times, and some will carry the burden of four contests.

A small army of laborers will be kept constantly busy rolling and smoothing down the holes in the turf between matches, and extraordinary care will be worked the center courts.

Work Overtime

Yesterday the carpenters worked overtime in an effort to finish the stands. The north, south and west stands, where the spectators will be seated, are completely finished, and a few hours of labor today will end the work on the marquee, where space has been provided for the press and officials.

The ballboys are nearing the finals of their "tournament." Close to 100 boys, who have volunteered to chase the spheres for the players, went through another hard training yesterday afternoon. Virtually all of them will be used in shifts during the matches tomorrow, and the ones showing the most speed and efficiency in retrieving the balls hit into the net and out of bounds will be selected to serve in the big matches of the following day.

Special trains will be run by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Philadelphia and Reading to Queen Lane and Wayne Junction respectively during the tournament and there will be special trains to bring the spectators back to the city after the matches. Arrangements have been made for the handling of a large crowd, both inside and outside the Manheim grounds.

123 Entries

One hundred and twenty-three athletes will compete for the highest honor attainable in tennis in this country—try or elsewhere for the field—arguably by far the class of the entry at Wimbledon which is generally recognized as the world's championship. Of these 123, thirty-eight are from this city and district. New York is second in the number of entries with 36, and New England is third with 12.

Seven Pacific Coast athletes and seven foreigners will be present and competing. There is also a like number from the Middle West. Two are from Pittsburgh, five from North New Jersey, and eight from Washington and Baltimore.

It was announced last night that more than 5500 series tickets and close to one hundred boxes have been sold. As each box will hold a half dozen, this means that 4000 tickets already have been sold for each day of the tournament. Series tickets will continue to be sold today at Heppes' 1119 Chestnut street. The cost is $9.00. Single day tickets will be sold at the grounds for $2.00 up to the semi-finals, when $3.00 will be charged. These prices include war tax.

Greenleaf Increases Lead

Mount Gretna, Pa., Sept. 7.—Carl Ertresvaag, John Thurman and Paul Johnson arrived at the Penn camp last night in perfect physical condition after a summer spent in working in the western wheat fields.

Ertresvaag was regular end last year and Thurman a tackle. Johnson is the former Trinity College tackle, who was unable to play last year because of the one-year residence rule.

Before the end of the week Coach Heisman expects to have fifty-five players in the squad.

Greenleaf increases lead in the National Billiard Academy when he defeated Tom Hines in a 42-minute final match.

Greenleaf, pocket billiard champion, increased his lead over Tom Hines, who is the National Billiard Academy when he defeated Tom Hines in a 42-minute final match.

Greenleaf, pocket billiard champion, increased his lead over Tom Hines, who is the National Billiard Academy when he defeated Tom Hines in a 42-minute final match.

Golf Bag, 4 Clubs & 3 Balls, $10

Complete Outfit Four Golf Clubs—Brassie, Mid-Iron, Masher and Putter—hobby Canvas Leather-bound Golf Bag and three Golf Balls. No need to pay big money when you buy your Golf Equipment at M. & H.

$10 Lee Rackets Quality. Priced at $5

$15 Tennis Nets, now $5

$1.25 Tennis Shoes, 50¢ Imported white duck, rubber soles. Fine for bathing, yachting, camping for men, women. Sizes 6 to 12.

Fresh Tennis Balls, 50¢ Weight & Diction or Beach 1921 Tennis Balls, 25¢ Good enough for practice Club Tennis Balls 35c. 3 for $1

Populares 10 cents Admiral 15 cents Perfecto 2 for 25 cents

Henrietta Nothing is more restful than a good cigar

Betson Hats 12 S. 52d St. 4012 Lancaster Ave.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER Men's Autumn Suits Tailored by Hart, Schaffner & Marx

$35 $40 $45

With smart correctness these new Suits forecast as well as set the standard for Men's Clothing this autumn.

Made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx (for whom we are exclusive representatives in Philadelphia), they are authentic in every detail—style, tailoring, pattern, fabric. And the new prices are pleasingly moderate—$35.00, $40.00, $45.00.

Discriminating business men and young men may choose a Suit from hundreds in all sizes, dozens of new autumn patterns, and a variety of autumn-weight fabrics.

Suits Reduced One-Third to One-Half for Clearance

Hundreds of attractive Spring and Summer Suits now available at far less than their original prices.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER