

Evening Public Ledger

PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY

Editor: H. C. SMILEY... General Business Manager: ROY D. MARTIN... Published daily at Public Ledger Building, Independence Square, Philadelphia.

Subscription Terms: The Evening Public Ledger is served to subscribers in Philadelphia...

Member of the Associated Press

Chestnut Street Changes

It is quite conceivable that old Philadelphia pictures will soon be quaint if they present the appearance of Chestnut street in the very recent past.

The Busy Delaware

The pier construction work along the harbor front is not in the least an instance of ultra-rosy expectations concerning the possibilities of the port of Philadelphia.

Money for Chemists

The American who makes the most valuable contribution to chemical science this year will receive a prize of $25,000 awarded by the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation through the American Chemical Society.

A Master of Old Melodrama

George Robert Sims, who has just died in London, sustained, though without the Irish accent, the once lush melodramatic traditions of Dion Boucicault.

The Gang Reluctantly Assesses Women Voters

Necessity Has Forced It to Risk Defeat in the Majority Election in Order to Save the Council

WOMEN, according to Gifford Pinchot in an article in the current Ladies' Home Journal, held the balance of power in the primary election and won the nomination to the governorship for him.

The women who voted for his nomination cannot vote for his election unless they are registered.

Mr. Pinchot has issued an appeal to all voters to go to the polling places today and get their names on the voting lists.

Representation in the City Council is apportioned among the senatorial districts in proportion to the number of assessed voters.

The reluctance of women to vote is likely to become gradually less as the years go by. More of them will go to the polls this year than last and next year the number is likely to be still larger.

A Realist of Medicine

The death in New York of Dr. Edward S. Spitzka, formerly of the great Jefferson Hospital group of anatomists, removes from the medical circle a properly identified with Philadelphia one of its most picturesque and distinguished figures.

The Medicament of Flight

REPORTS are printed every few weeks of the beneficial effects of airplane flight on men and women suffering from certain ailments.

Crowder in Cuba

No Threat of American Intervention was made, says a Washington dispatch telling of increased pressure exerted by Major General Crowder on the Congress of Cuba for the adoption of five explicitly stated rules formulated with the aid of Washington and the sanction of President Harding for administrative reform at Havana.

Truth About Tintagel

King Arthur Was Born There (Among Other Places) and Occupied a Castle Built Many Centuries After He Died

By GEORGE NOX McCAIN Tintagel, Cornwall, England. MATTHEW STANLEY QUAY lost the opportunity of his life by not being born a century earlier.

In the olden days before the great war, and woman suffrage, and universal suffrage, they had, here in England, what they called "qualified electors."

WISCONSIN'S ILL WINDS SENATOR LA FOLLETTE'S victory over his opponent in the Republican primary in Wisconsin by approximately 140,000 votes of a poll that didn't total 250,000 illustrates one of the important political facts of contemporary history.

STANDING out in sharp black silhouette against the evening sky are the ruins of a considerable castle.

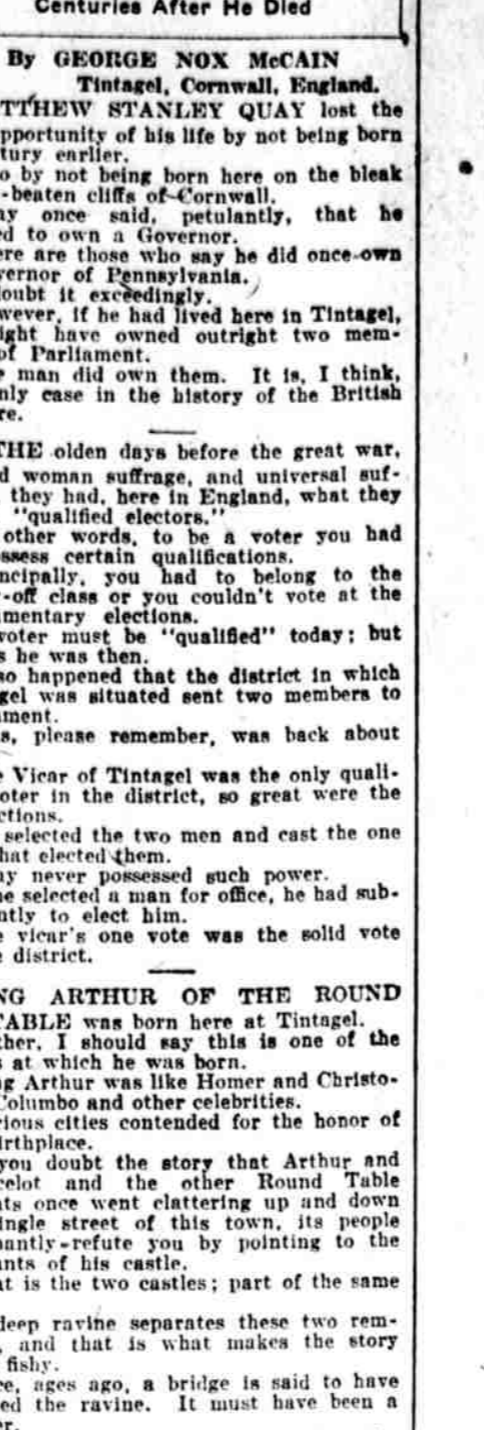

On Opportunities in Business THERE have never been more or better opportunities in American business for the thoroughly trained and capable worker than at the present time, says Milton F. Stauffer, dean of the School of Commerce at Temple University.

Value of Practical Training "But, as I said, the value of practical training must not be underestimated. We got this idea of combining theoretical and practical training from the engineering law classes, in which we have never had a single failure to pass the examination before the State Board of Examiners, because all the men get practical training while they are pursuing their studies."

What Do You Know? QUIZ 1. What is the most active volcano in the United States or its possessions?

THE GERMAN GLIDER SHOULD SHOW THE GERMAN MARK

HOW TO KEEP FROM FALLING

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS!

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

MILTON F. STAUFFER On Opportunities in Business THERE have never been more or better opportunities in American business for the thoroughly trained and capable worker than at the present time.

Value of Practical Training "But, as I said, the value of practical training must not be underestimated. We got this idea of combining theoretical and practical training from the engineering law classes, in which we have never had a single failure to pass the examination before the State Board of Examiners, because all the men get practical training while they are pursuing their studies."

What Do You Know? QUIZ 1. What is the most active volcano in the United States or its possessions?

SHORT CUTS

Nothing lasts forever, happily, not even hay fever.

Erin won't have an easy minute until De Valera admits he's licked.

The Davis Cup, he is understood, is on that cheers but not inebriates.

Injunctions come so thick and fast even Jov is unrestrained.

Japan is leaving Siberia. Even a bear of contention may be scraped clean.

The one thing commendable about the Tariff Bill is that it delays the bonus.

It wasn't by a close shave George Sutherland reached the Supreme Court.

Spite of all Atlantic City can do, there are still lots of beauties in Philadelphia.

An opponent's ace is, putting a card on sugar is like taking candy from a kid.

Really, we won't know the Supreme Court when President Harding gets through with it.

Aviator Doolittle, showing the continent in a one-stop trip, crossed how a man may belie his name.

Well, at least, the crew of the Sampul Corcoran II is in a position to prove that perseverance wins the day.

Sweden regards prohibition as dead for a generation. But one never can tell. It may be merely a trance.

Admiral Sims is the latest to say a good word for the old dime novel. Of course, it had to be doing it got bouquets.

Glenn H. Curtiss is working on a motorless glider that will rise from the water. On purpose? queries the Conscienceful Pup.

Getting down to Rock Bottom, Mr. Daugherty assures the world that his Injunction Lion will roar you like a Suckling Dove.

There is a reasonable doubt as to whether it was Robert M. La Follette or John Barleycorn who scored a victory in Wisconsin.

Rumors of a new scheme to end the rail strike are being denied. Very properly, no doubt. And yet rumors are very frequently a wise prophecy.

Muriel McCormick has, it is said, spurned a million-dollar film contract. These darned press agents don't care how they throw money around.

Fuel administrator in New York

William H. Woodin. The kind of child is designed to make life easy for the purveyor. When shy of coal put Woodin.

Connecticut textile mills running to waterpower are in full operation. Senator Claus may have trouble in filling it, but we are going to have that Christmas stocking all right.

The American Chemical Society will give an annual prize of $25,000 to the American who makes the most valuable contribution to chemical science. They haven't a chance in the world, but they won't deter the home brewers.

Congress, a dispatch from Washington informs us, will be asked for legislation to enable the Bureau of Navigation to charge fees for various services. Don't this, we venture to inquire, include trips to shipping Board vessels outside the three-mile limit?

Drast the Publicity Mary Pickford is at issue in the Nevada candidacy, two of the publicans nominating for the position of judge who granted her a divorce and the State Attorney who sought to have it annulled. How Mary must hate the notary!

The chief piece of business before the Mexican Congress is the agreement made by the International Committee of Bankers and Finance Minister de Huerta, whereby Mexico will resume payment of defaulted obligations. Though recognition of the Obregon Administration did not enter into the deliberations of the American on the surface, at least, the proceedings of Congress will hardly maintain the same pace, and the record should make interesting reading for our State Department.

Fuel administrator in New York

William H. Woodin. The kind of child is designed to make life easy for the purveyor. When shy of coal put Woodin.

Connecticut textile mills running to waterpower are in full operation. Senator Claus may have trouble in filling it, but we are going to have that Christmas stocking all right.

The American Chemical Society will give an annual prize of $25,000 to the American who makes the most valuable contribution to chemical science. They haven't a chance in the world, but they won't deter the home brewers.

Congress, a dispatch from Washington informs us, will be asked for legislation to enable the Bureau of Navigation to charge fees for various services. Don't this, we venture to inquire, include trips to shipping Board vessels outside the three-mile limit?

Drast the Publicity Mary Pickford is at issue in the Nevada candidacy, two of the publicans nominating for the position of judge who granted her a divorce and the State Attorney who sought to have it annulled. How Mary must hate the notary!

The chief piece of business before the Mexican Congress is the agreement made by the International Committee of Bankers and Finance Minister de Huerta, whereby Mexico will resume payment of defaulted obligations. Though recognition of the Obregon Administration did not enter into the deliberations of the American on the surface, at least, the proceedings of Congress will hardly maintain the same pace, and the record should make interesting reading for our State Department.