

Southern Section Series Terminates in Deadlock

DOWNTOWN NINES TO PLAY SECOND SERIES

Dates and Details of Additional Games Will Be Arranged by Managers Late This Afternoon

SHANAHAN A WINNER

By WILLIAM S. DALLAS THE teams in the downtown section of the Philadelphia baseball association will meet late this afternoon to decide how they will continue play for the championship of that section.

With the defeat of the South Phillies last night, all three teams have a standing of two won and two lost, and it is expected that they will begin all over and play another series.

The suggestion has been advanced that the six games be played at Shetzline Park. This may meet the approval of the Yarners who are strong for their home fans, but it is likely that the majority of the contests will be decided at Broad and Bigger streets.

Of course, the board of governors have a protest of the Fleisher-South Philadelphia game of Wednesday, but they will hardly take any action in this matter, as the decision of the umpire will be upheld.

Spinas Are Blanked The Spinas and South Phils met at Shetzline Park, and at the close of eight innings the Helwees were on the short end of a 4-to-0 total.

Trescott fanned ten, while Paxon breezed but one. Not a player reached third base on Big Joe's bat. The Helwees counted twice in the sixth and seventh. The feature was the fielding of Paxon, Nield and Landberg.

One of the best games of the series was staged at the Fleisher field, at Twenty-sixth and Reed streets, between the Richmond Giants and the Royal Stars. The Virginians romped off with a 2-to-1 decision, and the fans were kept on edge throughout.

The contest resolved itself into a pitching duel between Henderson, of the Stars, and Gardner, of the Giants. The latter yielded but two hits, as against three for the winning hurler.

Gardner was responsible for his own downfall. In the second session he walked three men, and then a double by Carter scored the two runs that won the game. The Richmonds are now tied with Hilldale for first place.

Shanahan Trims Terminal Philadelphia Terminal was eliminated from the West Philadelphia series, when the Hillroaders defeated a Capital Park team at the hands of Jim Bonner's Shumanian nine, which edged up a little closer to Stonehurst in the West Philadelphia section.

Weisel Tarr was opposed to Eddie Lennon, and they staged a pitchers' battle, but the former had the better of his opponent and managed to finish on the long end of the score. Each pitcher allowed six hits.

A number of other games were played in the elimination series. Bridesburg used out the Fleisher, covering three runs in the sixth and one in the seventh at Richmond and Orthodox streets.

In a game featured by the remarkable pitching of Galkner and Kopper, the Pleasantville Club opposed the Lit nine at Fifty-fourth street and Elmwood avenue. The visitors had "Strumpy" Adams, pitcher, in the box, but he was given an unmerciful beating, and in a seven-inning session the Store Boys won, 13 to 1.

The winning streak of Pitcher Boloff, of the North Phils, came to a halt, when the Lincoln Giants turned back the up-towners, 6 to 1. Willey holding Perry Reifender a protest to four hits.

Colonial Ice Cream added another victory to the list in defeating Puritan, 3 to 2. When the Freezers started the final inning they were one run behind, but a double by McGeequart scored the runs that won the game.

INDUSTRIAL GET READY Basketball Teams Hearing the Call of Indoor Sports

A number of the city's leading industrial establishments are preparing for the coming basketball season, and according to the information at hand, league basketball among this class of teams will be considerably improved this year.

Several teams have already made inquiries concerning the Manufacturers' League. One of the strongest is announced its intention of joining is Colonial Ice Cream. This firm has a good ball club and will have an even better basketball team.

Manufacturing plants interested should get in touch with Cadwalader Franklin, 1227 Arch street, phone Spruce 2096.

RIVAL POSTS TO PLAY Greenwood and McCall Legion Nines to Clash in Series

The two most prominent baseball teams among service men in this city are Greenwood and McCall. Both represent widely separated sections of the city and each lays claim to the city championship.

The rival managers have gotten together and arranged a series. The first game will be played tomorrow afternoon on the McCall grounds at Forty-ninth and Spruce streets, and the second at the Greenwood field at Tulip and Ann streets the following Saturday.

In case of a third game being necessary it will be played on neutral grounds.

FIREMEN ARE BUSY Playing Many Games in Preparing for New York Visitors

The Philadelphia fire department baseball team is making ready for the visit of the New York department to our city on September 23. Manager McDevitt is securing as many games as possible to have the players in the best of condition.

Four games have been scheduled for next week. On Tuesday they are at Frankford Yellowjackets, Thursday at Holmsburg, Saturday at Wents Club and Sunday at Ashbourne.

Games are also desired for tomorrow and Sunday. Any team wishing to play the firemen should address John F. McDevitt, 722 Union street, West Philadelphia, or phone Belmont 2950.

Phil Bloom Wins Decision New York, N. Y., Phil Bloom of Wilmsburg, earned the decision last night over Willis Harrison of the East side, in the twenty-round feature at the Broadway Exhibition Association of Brooklyn.

Phil Bloom knocked out Jimmy Kider of Brooklyn, in the sixth round of the scheduled twelve-round semi-final go.

CARMAN WINS IN 1922 BIKE FINAL

Clarence Again Defeats Maddona in Match Race—Piani Beats Spencer

BRUHN IS STATE CHAMP

The 1922 curtain was rung down on the bicycle season at the Philadelphia Velodrome, Point Breeze Park, with Clarence Carman, America, defeating Vincenzo Maddona, Italy, in two straight heats of a match race. It was the second time this season Carman won in a match with the Italian.

Carman was in wonderful form and he rode sensational races in both heats, in the second of which Maddona was forced to retire after pedalling eight and a half miles. Vincenzo was in such poor condition that he had to be carried to the dressing room.

Despite the absence of Maddona from the track Carman finished the fifteen miles, riding at a lively clip behind "Baron" Jimmy Hunter. For this heat he was timed in 23 minutes 15 1/2 seconds.

Carman won the first heat of ten miles in 15 minutes 38 2/5 seconds. The American went out in front, this time paced by Johnny Schler, and he was never headed. Once Maddona threatened, but in trying to pass Clarence the Italian lost his pace and thereafter Carman won virtually without competition.

The second heat was a repetition of the first. Clarence took the lead and was out in front from the start. On the eighth mile Maddona started a retreat, but he could not keep it up and spoke from his pace, shortly after becoming ill.

One of the fastest miles of the season at the local Drome was negotiated by Carman on the last six laps of the second heat in 1 minute 6 seconds. In another match race Orlando Piani, Italy, scored a big surprise by defeating Willie Spencer, 1922 American champion, in straight heats at a mile.

The times were 2 minutes 32 2/5 seconds and 2 minutes 33 3/5 seconds. Henry Bruhn is the Pennsylvania State amateur champion. He was crowned by winning the mile race from a field of five who qualified in the preliminary heats. Bruhn's time was 2 minutes 27 seconds.

Charley Judge, a South End Wheelmen entry, and a club mate of Bruhn's, came in for second honors, while Bill Shaw, competing unattached, was third.

BRIDESBURG BACK AT FLEISHER FIELD

Chester Plays South Phillies and Stonehurst Opposes Wilmington at 48th and Walnut

No series elimination games are on the layout for the independent baseball fans tonight, but a number of the big teams have contests looked at their hall parks.

The Fleisher Yarners are at home at Twenty-sixth and Reed streets with Bridesburg. The same teams mingled last night at Richmond and Orthodox streets, and as Bridesburg won the Yarners are out to redeem themselves.

Another game in the downtown sector will bring together the South Phillies and Chester at Broad and Higher streets. Chester and the downtowners have been much in the limelight due to some trouble which occurred at one of their clashes.

The Old Timers have suddenly come to life, and according to the best information, a game between Jack Hines' team and Hilldale at Thirtieth and Johnson streets will surely be played.

Across the Schuylkill Stonehurst is in action. The leaders of the West Philly division are entertaining Wilmington. It should be a fast game, as both teams are in good form. Nittie, the Delawareans' sensational hurler, will oppose Friday or Robinson.

The North Phillies will give Kensington Congressional one more opportunity to beat them on the home field at B and Clearfield streets. The churchmen trimmed the Phils three times before they got started, but the result in recent games has just been the opposite. Kensington expects to gain the verdict this time, however.

The Lincoln Giants, one of the leading colored teams, meet Nativity at Belgrade and Ontario streets, and Greenwood travels to Wildwood field. The Legion lads blanked Wildwood earlier in the week, 4 to 0.

I want you to judge for yourself today the style value of the hat that Judge Webb of the Superior Court protected by injunction until I put it on my Five Foot Style Shelf. The roll of the brim is the Style Feature of the now famous $100,000 model. The old floppy, flimsy soft style brim that the college boys used to turn down and bend up, and twist into all kinds of shapes a couple of years ago, is as dead as last year's Almanac. That's why I introduced this Season a new Style Combination with a crown that is soft and full, and a brim that is firm enough to get hold of, and stiff enough to hold the style that I whittled into the flange. As a matter of fact this new flange produces a brim on a soft hat that resembles the D'Orsey Derby "curl" that up to date has only been used on a stiff hat. Of course, as usual I have the staple shapes in all the September shades that anybody else has, but, thanks to Judge Webb, I've something that nobody else has. I think the Judge is some Judge of Style and that's why I named this hat.
