

Corns Go
Just say
Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. The action is the same.

MORE THAN A MOTOR CAR

It is one thing to say one owns a motor car. But how much more impressive when one can say he owns a Stutz!

It reflects an unmistakable distinction that comes with the possession of no other car.

The Stutz has endeared itself so completely to those who admire achievement and ability that it has acquired a place in the regard of motorists the world over which no other car can fill.

5 A. M.—that's milking time at the 1500 farms that supply our receiving stations with rich, creamy milk.

There it is kept in glass-lined tanks until the gigantic glass-lined wonder trucks arrive.

Quickly the huge "bottles on wheels" are filled. Back they speed carrying their precious contents. FOUR HOURS later the milk is delivered to our city dairies. Here it is pasteurized, cooled and sealed in sterilized bottles.

From milking time to drinking time in 24 hours! That's the Scott-Powell achievement. Small wonder that Scott-Powell "A" Milk is sweeter, purer and better-flavored—for it is absolutely

MAINE VOTE TODAY IS POLITICAL SIGN

First State Election of 1922 Regarded as Significant of Trend in U. S.

BITTER MASS. FIGHT CLOSES

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—The first State election of 1922 was under way in Maine today with a United States Senator, four representatives to Congress and a Governor heading the official to be chosen. The adage "As Maine goes, so goes the country" attracted nation-wide interest in the result, although only a tremendous turnout would change the present Republican control.

Eight women were seeking seats in the Legislature and ten sought county offices.

Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, was opposed by former Governor Orkeley C. Curtis, Democrat.

Governor Percival P. Baxter, Republican, had former Attorney General W. R. Pattangall, Democrat, as an opponent.

The four present Republican Congressmen were up for reelection.

Democratic leaders maintained that in the women's vote lay a potential surprise for Republican organization heads, who predicted a plurality of 10,000.

Boston, Sept. 11.—(By A. P.)—The most bitter primary campaign ever fought in this State was being closed today with nominations for United States Senator, Governor, and the lesser State offices to be made at the polls tomorrow.

An intense fight was waged by the two candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, Governor Clarence H. Cox and Attorney General J. Weston Allen.

Senator Lodge, a candidate for re-nomination by the Republicans, has not stumped the State, but his opponent, Joseph Walker, has campaigned vigorously.

On the Democratic side the seekers for the nomination to oppose Senator Lodge are Colonel William A. Gaston, Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp, John Jackson Walsh and Sherman L. Whipple. In the contest for the gubernatorial nomination the candidates are Mayor John B. Fitzgerald, former Governor Eugene N. Foss and Mayor Peter F. Sullivan, of Worcester.

Baltimore, Sept. 11.—(By A. P.)—Maryland voters went to the polls today to select candidates for United States Senator and Congressmen. Only Republican candidates were for Senator John W. Garrett, secretary of the Washington Armament Conference, opposing Senator Joseph I. France for re-nomination. The Democrats had a three-cornered fight for Senator and contests in five of the six congressional districts.

The Democratic senatorial candidates are William C. Brason, ex-Congressman David J. Lewis and William L. Norris. Because there are more than two candidates the voters are required to designate their first and second choice as among the three.

All members of the present congressional delegation are candidates for re-nomination, but only one, T. Alan Goldborough, Democrat, of the First District, has opposition. Goldborough, who favors prohibition, is opposed by Alexander M. Jackson, listed as wet, and Albert W. Sisk, who has announced that he favors Government supervision and control of liquor sales.

The five Congressmen whose re-nomination is unopposed, and whose names consequently do not appear upon the ballot, are J. C. Linthicum, Democrat, and Albert A. Binkley, John H. Hill, Sydney E. Mudd and Frederick N. Zelman, Republicans.

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 11.—Only one office—that of Governor—will be contested at the Republican primary tomorrow. The Democrats failed to poll a sufficient vote in the last presidential election to make it mandatory for them to participate in the primary this year, and they have made their nominations already.

Richard Proctor and Lieutenant Governor Abram W. Foote are the Republican gubernatorial candidates. Representative Frank I. Greene, from the First of Vermont's two congressional districts, has no opposition for the Republican nomination for Senator to succeed Senator Carroll S. Page. Frederick C. Fleetwood is the unopposed candidate for Mr. Greene's congressional seat, and Representative Porter H. Dale, of Island Pond, will be re-nominated without opposition in the Second District.

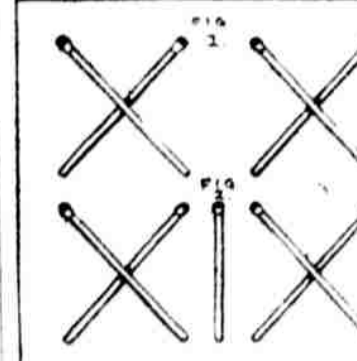

EMPLOYER GOES ON STRIKE

Closes Business and Leaves Town When Unions Interfere

New York, Sept. 11.—The Michael Shott Clothing Company, of Red Bank, N. J., is no longer in existence. Michael Shott, the president, has sold his home, packed his bags and left town, and about fifty former employees are out of work.

Union organizers are to blame, it is said. "Until a few days ago the employees of the Shott company apparently were satisfied with pay and working conditions. Delegates of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America visited the plant to organize a union and threatened with bodily harm all those who did not join it. Forty employees quit. Then Mr. Shott promptly closed his business and bought a railroad ticket for some 'remote' part of the State where, he said, he hopes to be able to operate without being bothered by unions."

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 265—To Remove One by Adding One

Lay four matches as shown in Fig. 1. Ask some one to add a match, and yet take one away. Your request will cause much bewilderment and no one will understand how it can be done until you explain the trick.

The four matches form the Roman numeral XX, which stands for twenty. By adding another match in the middle, as shown in Fig. 2, the Roman numeral XIX is formed, which stands for nineteen. Thus by adding one you have taken one away.

EPISCOPALIANS DISCUSS DIVORCE

Church Convention Also Takes Up Mission Topic as Busy Week Opens

Portland, Ore., Sept. 11.—The House of Bishops and the House of Delegates were to meet in joint session today as the first important event in what promises to be a busy week in the Episcopal general convention. A hearing on the report of the department of marriage was the principal feature to come before the joint session this morning. There was a heavy program of sectional meetings for the day.

A score of matters of importance to the church are slated for action this week. Bishop Brent's resolution on divorce and remarriage question, which caused a storm of comment Saturday, was the principal subject of conversation. Some churchmen interpreted it as a part of the movement to make the divorce regulations of the church still more stringent.

One of the most picturesque gatherings in connection with the general convention will be the mass-meeting tonight under the auspices of the commission to confer with the Eastern Orthodox churches and the old Catholics. This commission, under the chairmanship of the Right Rev. James H. Darlington, Bishop of Harrisburg, during the last three years has extended its activities to Switzerland, Greece, Serbia, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Constantinople and the Holy Land. Bishop Darlington spent four months abroad visiting the heads of national churches, explaining the Episcopal Church to them and inviting representatives to attend the Portland convention.

Representatives are here from the patriarch of Antioch who lives at Damascus, from the patriarch of Jerusalem, from the Russian Orthodox Church in the United States and from the Czechoslovakian National Church.

There is a wide divergence of opinion concerning the report of the commission on the fuller recognition of the ministry of healing in the Church. This commission was appointed three years ago as the direct outcome of the healing missions held in the United States by James H. Hickson, a lay member of the Church of England.

Mr. Hickson said that through the prayer of faith and the laying on of hands even organic diseases could be cured, and his healing missions were attended by thousands of sick persons and many cures were said to be effected. There was no attempt at diagnosis and no direct co-operation with the medical profession.

The report now presented by the commission indicates a marked leaning against the Hickson methods. While recognizing the place of prayer and faith in cases of sickness, it also recognizes that medical science is the normal means for the cure and healing of the sick and that the best results can only be obtained by the linking of science and religion.

It also sounds a note of warning concerning those of the clergy who, without adequate preparation and training, have taken up the work of healing missions, and seeks to limit their activities by requiring the approval of the Bishop and co-operation with qualified medical men.

The Best Way to Make Plum Jelly

use PENJEL
REG. U. S. PATENT OFFICE
"Makes the Jelly Jell"

Instead of worrying for hours with your plum jelly—and possibly boiling it over again the next day when it fails to jell—make it this season with Pen-Jel. You will have beautiful, clear sparkling jelly that comes out of the glass clean cut and perfect.

And with Pen-Jel it only takes 6 minutes from plum juice to the most delicious jelly!

What is this wonderworker that transforms jelly making into such a delightful, easy task? It's a perfectly natural product, the element found in some fruits which causes their juice to jell. Pen-Jel is just the right combination of this pure fruit pectin—in dry powder form—and the finest cane sugar and tartness. It never fails.

An economical way to provide Pen-Jel for your regular fall jelly making is to order a case of 24 quarter-pound packages. With that amount of Pen-Jel you can make 20 to 25 quarts of jams and jellies at a single making. Will keep indefinitely even after package is opened. Price per package 15c. The most economical and satisfactory way to make jelly of every kind.

Sold by all grocers.

Time to Houseclean

These are the days for dressing up one's home for the coming Winter. Busy days they are. Rugs to be taken up, furniture to be moved, draperies to be hung, much scrubbing and cleaning and many things to be washed. After all, four walls and a roof merely make a house—there is needed the artistry in the magic touch of a woman's hand to make it a home.

We are offering some unusually interesting values in housecleaning needs this week.
