

SPEEDING UP THE CONDUITS. The Western Union Telegraph Company is doing the work at high speed. At Eleventh and Chestnut streets this view was made

CONGRATULATED HER VICTIM. Miss Helen Wills, the California schoolgirl (right) greeted Miss Genevieve Fox of Long Island, after Miss Wills won 6-0, 6-0

MISS PHYLLIS WALSH conquered Miss Anne Townsend, 6-3 and 6-2

READY FOR HOME. Mrs. Gilbert Harvey had a pardonable smile after defeating Miss Virginia Carpenter

A SILHOUETTE. Observers are amazed at the rapidity with which the office building at Seventh and Chestnut streets is being erected

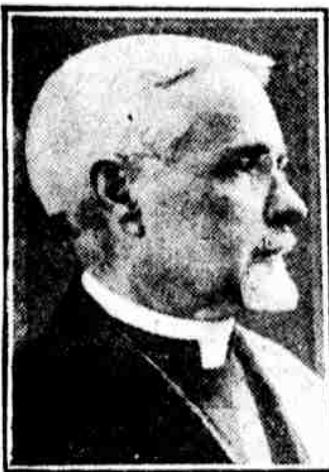

ATLANTIC CITY BEAUTIES VISIT PHILADELPHIA. Virginia Edwards, who was "Miss Portland" (left) and Evelyn Atkinson, who was "Miss Seattle," stop to see the Liberty Bell

REPAVING CHESTNUT STREET. At Thirteenth street the Chestnut street conduits of the Western Union Telegraph Company have been placed and covered over. The paving blocks are being set in place

WATCHING THE TENNIS CLASSICS. Mrs. Stanley Ketchum was among those present

THE REV. DR. LOUIS C. WASHBURN talks of Episcopal General Convention in Editorial Page interview

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS. Mahlon N. Haines, of York, Pa., is on Republican ticket for that district

REPAIRING HIS CANOE. Joseph Darragh was found at work along boathouse row in Fairmount Park. He's putting his canoe away for the winter

WATCHING THE TENNIS AT MANHEIM. Miss Catherine Illingworth, of Wynnefield, saw the Australian players advance in the national singles matches

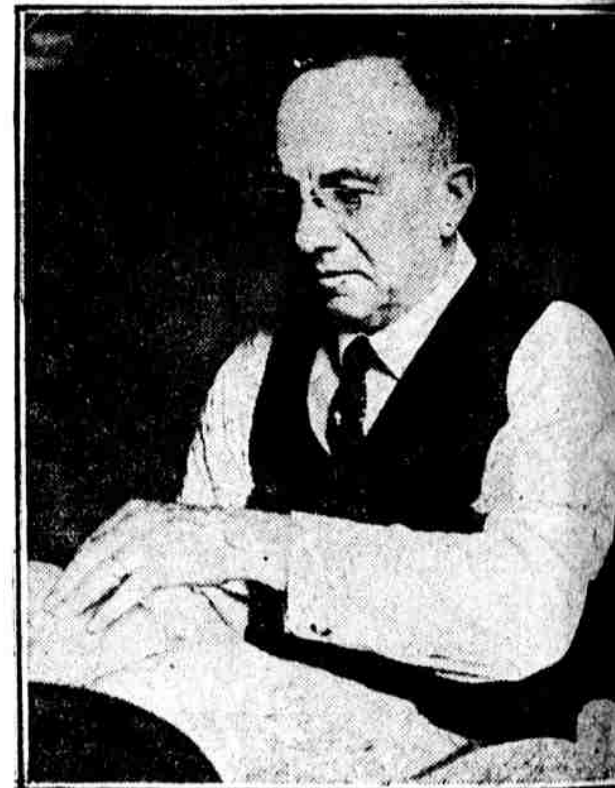

WALLACE JOHNSON, of Philadelphia, who defeated Leon de Turrene, of Tacoma, Wash. ON THE COURTS AT MANHEIM. Two of the many tennis players who played in the national singles tennis matches of yesterday.

HE FACED A STAR. Lyman Tremaine, of Westfield, N. J., had to meet Tilden

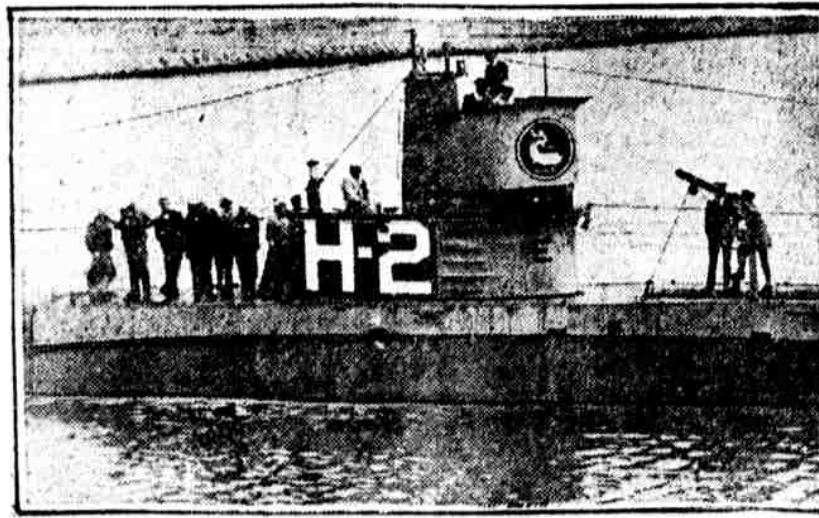

DRIVING A WINNER. Miss Alma Wannemaker, of Philadelphia, whose horse, Sunrise, won at the Rochester (N. Y.) Show

HARRY WITTIG, sergeant at arms of Philadelphia Council, found by the cameraman in his office at City Hall

COLONEL SAMUEL LOGAN BRENGLER starts Salvation Army campaign at Broad street and Fairmount avenue

QUEEN OF UNCLE SAM'S UNDERSEA CRAFT. The H-2, of Pacific submarine fleet, showing the capital "E," which is the symbol for "Excellency"

HOW DO YOU LIKE HER ARMS? She was awarded a prize for the second most beautiful arms in Paris. We introduce Mlle. Perry Vere

WILLIAM GEHAN (LEFT) AND JACK SWAN, of the Strawberry Mansion Quoit Club, using a pair of calipers in deciding a point in a quoit match. Gehan won

CONGRESSMAN VINCENT M. BRENNAN, of Michigan, who is investigating coalfield conditions in Kentucky

WOODFORD DOE, 3d, owned by Lamotte du Pont

LOOKS LIKE A FISH. It's a radish. The exhibitor is Leon Dreibelbis

DID YOU EVER USE THIS OLD DEPOT? It was at Thirty-first and Market streets and was the terminus of the Pennsylvania lines before the extension was made to Broad street. Send us your old Philadelphia photographs

SHE WON THE TOSS. Marie Young, a San Salvador Club athlete, took part in the Knights of Columbus track meet

ARTHUR O. WHARTON, member of Railroad Labor Board, for years an active union labor leader