JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks About the Number of Persons Seen at Polo and Tennis During the Last Week-Other Matters of Interest

NEVER saw so many people I knew at Manheim, especially the last fev days of the tournament. During wait between the matches, when every one gathered in the open space in front of the clubhouse, it was exactly like an afternoon tea, except that the debu-tantes, instead of having the usual tea of cafe parfait and macaroons, daintly nibbling "hot dogs" and drinking ginger-pop.

I saw Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brinton Coxe, Jr., there one afternoon. They were married September 9. you know. Mrs. Coxe, the former Helen Sewell, looked very attractive in a lavender and white check sweater, a white skirt and small white felt hat. Lucile Polk Carter and her fiance, a small white felt hat.

Lucile Polk Carter and her fiance,

Ram Reeves, were there one day, Thursday, I think it was. She was wearing one of those stunning dresses of knit silk.
It was of brocaded silk, made with an over-blouse and a plain skirt. With this she wore a small hat of the same material, gray stockings and gray suede glippers. And she looked very well.
Peggy Thayer was pretty in a white silk knit blouse, really a glorified sweater, which is worn witnout a shirtwaist, Georgiana Harris wore one the other day, too. When I saw her Peggy wore her blouse with a white skirt, a large jade green straw hat, turned up slightly in the front, trimmed with a single green flower, and a long necklace of jade, which reached below her waist.
More fashion notes! Ellen Douglas Lloyd, who always dresses very well, was seen wearing the new-style slippers, which are made with enormous tongues reaching up to the instep. Hers

TO DIGRESS to clothes at the polo have you seen Ellen Glendinning Frazer's remarkable hat, which she wore there the other day? It is brown velvet, fitting close to the head like a skull cap, 'trimmed with a ridge of shirred ribbon across the top and down both sides, with streamers of the ribbon hanging down the right side. She was wearing it with a brown silk knit dress and looked stunning. Her sister-inlaw. Isabel Frazer, has a hat exactly and looked stunning. Her sister-in-law, Isabel Frazer, has a hat exactly like hers of black velvet. She wore it at the tennis one day with a light blue crepe de chine dress made very long-waisted and bloused at the waist. Isabel is slight and quite the same type as Ellen, except that she is very blonde and Ellen is more of a brunette. They both dress very well.

MANY girls around here are great hockey fans, and play often during the fall, but have you heard of the Miss street, gotten up? It will be held all this week Wildwo at Mount Pocono, and this morning severa dozen girls left. Mrs. Edward Krumbhaar is going, I hear, and also Anne Townsend, who was captain of the All-Philadelphia Hockey team which last year played the English girls, and Peggy Ferguson and Sue Goodman, who both went to England with the Overeas team Sue is coming out this autumn, but there will only be two or three parties for her to miss this week. Things don't get going much before October. Her ten is on October 4, I hear, but, of course, she will be home in plenty of time for that. Another of the seaon's debs to go is Libby Morris, HEARD a funny story about one of Mrs. W. O. Higgate and Miss Higgate, of 822 North Forty-first street, have been spending some time at the Hotel T HEARD a funny story about one of has just come back from Paris, ap-peared in a very handsome one the other peared in a very handsome one the other day, and every one thought she had bought it on the other side for an enormous sum. However, and to our great surprise, it seemed she got it for a song in the basement of one of our stores.

Imagine.

Mr. Thomas Francis Quinn, of 240 South Forty-fourth street, announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Kathryn C. Quinn, and Mr. Anthony J. Conway, of 5022 Hazel avenue, Saturday, Septing the basement of one of our stores.
