Indictments of Two Will Be Asked on Charges of Attempted Bribery

LEGION OFFICERS ELECTED

cial Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger Wilmington, Del., Sept. 18 .- Sensational dislosures are looked for this week relative to the attempted grafting of thousands of dollars from the city in connection with the purchase of the Davis garbage incinerator. Two developments of the last few days now seem to uncover all the facts of a city scandal that has been under investigation by the city authorities and the Attorney General for several weeks,

One factor that will enter into the disclosure was the suit brought Friday by the Davis Garbage Furnace Company against the city for $37,500, the balance alleged to be due for the incinerator recently erected by the company. The other factor will be the presentation to the Grand Jury today of the facts assembled by the Attorney General's of-fice with the co-operation of Mayor Harvey, the City Solicitor and City Council. Indictment of two men at least will be asked, it is believed, on a charge of attempted bribery of a public

Building in this city has received considerable impetus, with the issuance of permits for projects, the total value of which will be over $100,000. One of the biggest projects is the reconstruction of that pertion of the plant of the Hilles & Jones Company, which was destroyed by fire several months ago, The permit calls for a foundry building to cost $40,000. Another big building operation is the permit for the con-struction of the new Hanover Pres-byterian Church, at a cost of $51,700. In addition to these projects, there are number of other projects which will

DROUGHT IN THREE TOWNS

Schuylkill Haven, Cressona and Homesville Face Serious Shortage Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 18.—Drought is laying a heavy hand on Schuylkill County towns. Schuylkill Haven and Cressona are almost entirely without water and in case of fire would have to use the last drop in the reservoirs. Homesville is entirely without water and Ashiand has only a two days' supply. At Schuylkill Haven pumping from artesian wells is being restored to. from artesian wells is being restored to, but this supply is also falling off. Residents are disturbed by coal region prophets who are predicting there will e no sonking rains until December. I this should be true, a number of coal asheries would have to suspend work.
