During the last few days extra patrolmen and policemen in plain clothes have been sent to the neighborhood where the fight occurred to arrest drug adoicts and peddlers.

It was in this neighborhood that a Negro woman, said to be one of the most extensive drug traffickers in the cits, was recently arrested. When taken to City Hall she said there were others in the neighborhood who operated on a much larger scale.

Furthermore, she blamed some of the sellers with "squealing" in order that they might have the drug market in that vicinity to themselves.

Since the woman's arrest the police bave picked up several addicts in the neighborhood, and were preparing to gather in more early today.

Some of the Negroes among the older residents believe the drug sellers should be driven out, while others favor their presence in the community. Both sides became involved in a fight which is came involved in a fight which led Agnes Nelson was among the combatants. Goodman rushed into the center of the fight and sought to get the ringleaders. Several of the Negroes fiel, but the prisoner, it is said, defied Goodman and ordered him to free her. When he refused she drew a razor from the places and remove evidence of the crime, handless and slashed him in the back. They believe the slavers were fright-
