College Football Teams Put on Final Touches for Opening Games of 1922 Gridiron Campaign

LOCAL TALENT IN WOMEN'S GOLF

Seven Philadelphians Entered in Championship Events Starting Next Week

MRS. BARLOW A FAVORITE

THE classic event in men's golf—the open and the amateur tournaments—is history, and the crowns rest respectively on the heads of Gene Sarazen and Jesse Sweetzer.

The women's national championship now edges into the limelight, and on next Monday the fair players will test each other's mettle over the fairways of the Greenbrier Golf Club at White Sulphur Springs, Va.

One hundred and twenty-two players, representing every district in the United States, will tee off in the qualifying round. Of that number, seven are Philadelphians. Three more hail from Wilmington.

Mrs. Ronald Barlow, Mrs. E. H. Fitler, Miss Mary Starr Griscom and Mrs. J. Dilworth Beggs, of Merion; Mrs. Caleb Fox and the Countess von Holstein, of Huntingdon Valley, and Mrs. E. G. Betz, of the Philadelphia Country Club, are the ladies who will carry Philadelphia's colors in this event.

They are facing the hardest sort of competition. Marion Hollins, last year's champion, is back to defend her crown. Miss Alexa Sterling, several times holder of the title; Mrs. Gavin, the Englishwoman who defeated her last week for the Canadian championship; brilliant Glenna Collett, Edith Cummings, Dorothy Campbell Herd and Edith Leitch are among the favorites, and they all play a steady game.

Philadelphia's Strength

Our village has always been well represented in the women's title play, though our only two champions were Mrs. Clarence Vanderbeck, who took the crown in 1915, and Miss F. Griscom, who was the winner in 1900. Mrs. Barlow has been runner-up twice, Mrs. Fox once and Miss Caverly once.

In 1914 Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Vanderbeck won to the semi-final round, where both were defeated. Last year Miss Mildred Caverly, Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Vanderbeck qualified. Miss Caverly was beaten in the second round, and so was Mrs. Fox, who succumbed to the magnificent play of Alexa Sterling.

Mrs. Vanderbeck fought her way into the semi-final round, where she, too, was eliminated by Miss Sterling.

So, it can be seen that our record is bright. Its untarnished finish should remain spotless this year with the fine representation that will go to White Sulphur Springs.

Several Ladies Absent

Mrs. Vanderbeck will be sadly missed in the drive for the championship as will Miss Caverly, but the former's health will not permit her to compete, and the latter has not entered for reasons best known to herself.

Mrs. Ronald Barlow, five times Eastern champion, will head the delegation, and it is on her sturdy playing that Philadelphia's principle hopes will rest, though Mrs. Fox is an experienced and polished links-woman, and will give a convincing account of herself. The other leaders have been playing very fine golf in this section, and since the ancient and honorable game is such an upsetter of preconceived ideas one of them may do the surprising thing, as Mrs. Letts did last year, for instance, when she defeated the incomparable Cecil Leitch.

It was rather hoped that some of the younger generation, like Dorothy Doyle, to mention one of them, would enter the national championship. However, it will probably not be very long before these girls who are doing so well on local links will appear in the classic.

Miss Stirling's Fine Work

to uphold the record that such stars as Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Vanderbeck and Mrs. Fox have set.

Alexa Sterling, who was dethroned last year by Marion Hollins, who is one of the longest women drivers in the world, is still a very dangerous contender. In the Buffalo Invitation Miss Stirling shot a very fine 82 against Miss Mackenzie, the star Canadian, though she lost to Miss Cummings, who will also appear in the tournament at White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Gavin, the Englishwoman, also defeated Miss Sterling in the final round of the Canadian championships, but our Alexa has every confidence in the world that she can reverse those defeats if she is drawn against those opponents next week.

In spite of her youth she has been a contender in the women's classes for years and has three major titles to her credit.

FORMER BOSTON COLLEGE PLAYER IS COLUMBIA STAR

Twice Pierces Second String Eleven for Score in First Scrimmage

New York, Sept. 19.—Bon Roderick, erstwhile star of the Boston College football squad, proved the bright, shining light of Columbia's first scrimmage of the year yesterday.

The blond-haired athlete twice hurdled over the last line, guarded by Joe Brook's second-string players, once on a plunge off tackle and again as the result of an end run.

Each time he brought joy to the hearts of the rooters who had journeyed to the Dyckman tract to witness Coach O'Neill's eleven in action. Buck gave the varsity a third chance to tally thereafter, but this time the scrubs strengthened their defense and held the first team scoreless.

O'Neill gave the varsity the ball on its own 20-yard line to open hostilities, and Roderick promptly sliced off 5 yards on a short dash around right end. He added 3 more on the succeeding play, and Lou Gehrig then sped off tackle for 15 more. Captain Walter Koppisch, considerably aided by Roderick's interference, circled right end for 25 marchers on the next play, but here Koppisch fumbled and a second-string player recovered.

The varsity retained possession of the ball, and after a penalty Koppisch sped through for 10 more and Burt added an additional 10. With only 15 yards to go, Koppisch shot after tackle, only to be downed two yards from home. From this point Roderick easily went over with the initial score of the season.

The second tally came even more easily and required little more than ten plays. Roderick gained 15 yards on a fake play and Koppisch added 25 before the startled scrubs knew what was happening. But here the scrubs bucked up and almost held for downs. The varsity would not be denied, however. Roderick tore off 20 yards in two plays, Koppisch added 8 through the line and from here Roderick circled right end for the final rally of the afternoon.

TEN PENN GRIDDERS TAKING RE-EXAMS

Miller, Voegelin and Hamilton, Regular Backs, Forced to Leave Training Base

LANGDON LOOKS LIKE STAR

Mt. Gretna, Pa., Sept. 18.—For the next few days at least Penn's varsity football team will be minus the services of three-fourths of the regular backfield. This until Captain Pos Miller, Al Voegelin and Frank Hamilton fully recuperate from re-examinations now in vogue at the University.

Clark Craig, the Shawnee, Okla., lad who has been playing quarterback regularly for the last week, is the only survivor among those who seem slated for regular varsity backfield berths.

The departure on these three individuals for the Red and Blue learning base places Coach Heisman's list of "deficient" footballers at approximately ten, five having left day before yesterday and two the day previously. Until their return Penn will scrimmage here without the services of some of her most promising men.

But this apparently does not deter the Red and Blue candidates in their struggle to give Penn a real gridiron eleven. Instead, they showed more vim and earnestness in yesterday's workout than in any scrimmage to date. Every man trying out for a berth on the team realizes the seriousness of the training on hand and is working zealously.

One of the encouraging results of the scrimmage was the work of the second eleven. There was cohesion and driving power as they ripped through the varsity line and drove around the ends for long gains. It was evident that the varsity backfield, minus three regulars, was unable to cope with the driving power of the scrubs. Yet they did their best to stop the continued gains and to close the gaps caused by the clever work of the scrub line.

Langdon Shows Promise

In place of the regulars yesterday, Coach Heisman introduced several of his most promising subs into the varsity line-up. Norman Whitehill, the Rutherford, N. J., flash, took turns with Woodward at the fullback post. Rae McGraw and Al Langdon were located at halfback, with George Sullivan doing relief duty later in the scrimmage.

Quite an impression was made by Langdon, the former Scranton High star. Langdon broke into the varsity line-up on several occasions last fall and made his presence felt by his credit able all-around playing yesterday. He is fleet of foot and carries the ball with a certain doggedness that pleases the coaches. He is especially dangerous as an open-field runner.

Norman Whitehill also played a bang-up game, hitting the line consistently during the latter part of the scrimmage for much-needed yardage. Whitehill has plenty of height, although slightly under weight for a crashing fullback.

With Mike Raedy, the former Maryland University star and crack Red and Blue punter, on the crippled list, Whitehill is looked upon as one of Coach Heisman's best bets for the punting end. During the daily workout he has improved steadily in this department under the careful scrutiny of Tom Davies, former Pitt star and tutor for the Red and Blue squad.

The center job is causing no end of concern now that Jack Dern is out of the game with an injured knee. Charlie Adams, the Spokane, Wash., protege, and MacDonald, a husky snapperback, were both tried yesterday at the center post, but lacked the polish and keen judgment displayed by Dern, who has the make-up of becoming one of the best pivot men seen in the Red and Blue ranks in years. It is hoped that Dern will be able to resume his duties within a few days.

STATE STAR ON SIDELINES

Wilson's Injured Leg May Keep Him Out of Opening Game

State College, Pa., Sept. 19.—A slight leg injury may keep Harry Wilson, the big gun of Penn State's reconstructed backfield, out of the opening game of the season with St. Bonaventure on Saturday.

The coaches are now grooming Harry Gregory, last year's freshman fullback, for the position, Wilson's leg was hurt in a game between the first and second teams on Saturday, and while he would probably be able to start against the Saints, Bezdek wants to save him for the remaining games of the schedule.

Ray Carson, the Philadelphia boy, has been given plenty of chance to make good in the varsity backfield and is beginning to show decided improvement. He is very fast in running with the ball and he may land the vacant halfback berth. Earl Kratz, freshman halfback a year ago, is his closest competitor.

CENTRAL HIGH SOCCER MEN ARE PRACTICING

They were found at Houston Field yesterday, where the football team and soccer squad were both busy. Peter Musso was about to kick the ball during kicking instructions. Captain Gillespie, of the soccer team, (below)

PITT CAPTAIN OUT OF OPENING GAME

SORRY TO SEE HERRON GO

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 19.—The University of Pittsburgh football squad is completing its last work at training camp, Windber, Pa., and will return to Pittsburgh Friday ready for the opening of school Monday.

The first game is with the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati on September 30, and the squad will have a week's drill in the Steel City before the opener. The team has spent a profitable time in camp and will go back to Pittsburgh in good shape.

The chances are that Coach Warner will not depend on Captain Tom Holleran as quarterback in the Cincinnati game, as the Panther leader is nursing an injury. It is hoped that he will be entirely sound for the big game with Lafayette at Pittsburgh on October 7. Charlie Bowser will likely direct the team at Cincinnati.

Statistics show that of the thirty-two men taken to the football camp who are eligible under the one-year residence rule, twelve are graduates of high schools of the Greater Pittsburgh district, eight more from Western Pennsylvania schools and ten from schools in Central Pennsylvania within a 100-mile radius of Pittsburgh.

Only two men come from points outside the Keystone State, they being Carl Snyder, end, from Cleveland, O., and Harold Flanagan, of Buckhannon, W. Va. But one man on the squad has played varsity football at another institution, he being Bohren, of Reynoldsville, Pa., who attended the University of Georgia for one year. He is, therefore, eligible for Pitt teams for two years, as the Panthers have the stright three-year competition rule in addition to the one-year residence rule.

Panther coaches, officials and players were sorry to see J. P. (Pat) Herron, assistant coach, leave here for the University of Indiana, where he is to be head coach. "Pat" has been assistant coach for two years and is a general favorite. It was felt by the Panther management that they should not stand in "Pat's" way when opportunity for advancement came, and he left for Indiana with the best wishes of thousands of Panther supporters.

"BILLS" TO MEET AGAIN

Johnston and Tilden Will Resume Rivalry in East-West Series

New York, Sept. 19.—National Champion William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, and William M. Johnston, of San Francisco, defeated by "Big Bill" in five sets for the tennis title at Germantown last week, will renew their rivalry in the East-West matches to be played next Friday and Saturday at the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, N. Y.

As captain and No. 1 of the Western team, Johnston will play Tilden, No. 1 on the Eastern aggregation, in the singles Saturday afternoon.

Argentine Polo Ists Dined

Cold Weather Halts Boxing

New York, Sept. 19.—Cold weather last night caused the postponement of the twelve-round contest between Pal Moran, of New Orleans, and Chalo Tait, of Canada, light weights, in the open-air arena at the New York Velodrome.

GARNET SQUAD IN FIRST GRID DRILL

SOME GOOD PROSPECTS

Swarthmore opened its football season yesterday when about forty veterans of last year's squad reported preparatory to the big workout this afternoon.

Coach Roy Mercer, for years the Swarthmore mentor, was again on the field, giving the men their first lesson in conditioning. Changes in the rules of the game and the nature of the preliminary practices were thoroughly explained, and then the veterans started a light workout.

Many freshmen, the stars of their prep and high schools, are listed for a tryout, and not a few will offer stiff competition for the various berths.

Big Lester Asplundh who hung up records last season with his long distance punting, is the star in the backfield, and Schneider a quarterback, is the only other letter man behind the line. Dotterer, who has been relegated to the bench for two complete seasons with an injury to his ankle, is looked upon as a good bet for this position along with the older player.

Mercer is strong in scrub material this season. Several of last year's substitutes are back and ready to fill the positions left vacant by the June graduations. Thoenen, a fleet halfback, is good for a place this year, as is Knapp, a New Yorker, and candidate for the same berth.

Frank Long, a player on the Garnet line from three years ago, is at college this year after a term at Annapolis, and will probably nose his way into one of the forward positions.

CENTRAL OUT TO REGAIN GRID TITLE

OPEN WITH PENN CHARTER

With one week of practice completed the same number of candidates which reported to Dr. O'Brien, coach of the Central High football team, on the opening day, are still hard at it in an effort to land a berth on the regular eleven or even a substitute job.

This squad, which numbers just exactly 100 players, is one of the largest that ever reported for a Crimson and Gold eleven. Although as a whole it does not come up to former teams in size, what it lacks in this particular respect is more than made up by its agility and also its spirit.

There are four veterans among the squad around whom the veteran leader of the Mirrors hopes to form a team to regain the championship which was lost last year for the first time in the last five seasons. The men remaining from last year's eleven are Captain Andy Schroeder, Huntzinger, Mike Balin and Bill Fisher.

About fifteen of the newcomers weigh in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, but all are green in their knowledge of the game. It will take several weeks to teach these aspirants the rudiments of the game as many of them never played a contest before.

In addition to these players there are bright prospects in several substitutes of last year, who most undoubtedly will help the team in many ways.

Lack of Footballs

At the initial workout on Monday afternoon, there were not enough footballs for the various squads, which numbered ten, when branched out on the field. This was remedied on the following day and every man out for the squad is being given a thorough trial, and the best will make up the varsity eleven.

Yesterday O'Brien paid particular attention to the first and second teams as the opening game with Penn Charter, champions of the Inter-Academic League, is only a little over a week off. He was helped in this respect by Dr. Gallagher, who has been taking care of the other squads.

The backfield is the most promising part of the team to date. Captain Andy Schroeder will take care of the quarterback position and will also call the signals. Maimon and Gordon are the halfbacks and Chickie Edwards, the colored youngster, is the fullback.

Two Fast Ends

The line has two fast men in Willie Lazar, captain of the basketball team, and Huntzinger as ends; Balin and Lang or Lubowitz are the guards. All three are over the 200-pound mark. Zaenglah and Frantz are likely looking tackles.

The schedule:

September 29—Penn Charter, at home.
October 7—Penn Athletic Academy, at home.
October 14—Lower Merion, away.
October 20—Catholic High, away.
October 28—Frankford High, away.
November 3—Germantown High, away.
November 10—Southern High, at home.
November 17—West Philadelphia High, at home.
November 25—Northeast, at home.

The public high schools championship of America will be held on Thursday, November 30. Previous to this big meet, the Freshmen, Junior and Sophomores will hold their championships on the Tuesdays and Thursday preceding it.

The entire cross-country schedule of the public high schools follow:

October 18—Dual races.
October 25—Triangular races.
November 1—Novice races.
November 4—Freshmen dual races.
November 8—Hill-and-dale race.
November 11—Freshmen triangular races.
November 15—Junior championship.
November 18—Freshmen championship.
November 22—Sophomore championships.
November 30—American championship.

YALE REGULARS SCORE THRICE AGAINST SCRUBS

Line Coach Charley Taft Among Latest Arrivals at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—Opening the third week of football practice, the Yale football squad yesterday worked nearly an hour and drove three scores across the goal line. Captain Ralph Jordan, Newell Neidinger and Billy Neale, the backfield trio, alternating in carrying the leather across.

Another touchdown was lost when Halfback Rolly Kenyon fumbled near the scrub goal. Becket and Neale each figured in long runs.

Charley Taft, line coach last year, joined the resident staff. Other new coaches included Dave Saunders, freshman coach, and Jack Owsley, head coach of Tom Shevlin's historic team.

BROWNS' PENNANT HOPES FADE FAST

Mound City Cause Not Hopeless, but Team Has Rough Road Ahead

YANKEES ARE JUBILANT

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—Hope is not lost, but the St. Louis road toward the 1922 American League championship today appeared to be much rougher after the heartbreaking 3 to 2 defeat suffered yesterday at the hands of the leading New York Yankees.

Jubilant over their game and a half lead at the top of the percentage column the Yankees left for Detroit, where they inaugurate a three-game series with the third place Tigers today.

While the lead possessed by New York looms big at this stage of the race, the remainder of the schedule, according to the "dope," seems to favor the locals.

The Browns have three-game series scheduled with Washington, Philadelphia and Chicago, while New York faces Detroit and Cleveland, regarded as two of the strongest teams, in six games, Boston in three games and Philadelphia in one contest.

Local experts pick the Browns to win at least seven of the last nine games, and, if they accomplish that, New York must win seven of its ten games in order to win the flag.

By being victorious in six of the games New York would have no better than a deadlock with the Browns, and if the Yankees divide equally their remaining games, the Browns would nose them out, provided, of course, they won seven of their nine contests.

Failing to hit safely against Bush yesterday, George Sisler, Browns' first baseman, broke his string at forty-one straight contests. Coincidentally he started his consecutive hitting streak against the Yankees and was stopped by a Yankee pitcher. During the batting spree, Sisler bagged seventy-six hits out of 171 times at bat, for an average of .444.

Winning the series, two games to one, gave New York fourteen victories out of the twenty-two games played by the two teams this season.

Centennial Wants Soccer Games

The Centennial soccer team, of the Allied first division, is open for games with any first class club. Any records September 23 and 30. Address Manager James Sanders, 2509 West Oakdale street, Philadelphia.

Yankees' Lead Looms Big in Dash Toward Pennant

The victory of the Yankees over the Browns in St. Louis yesterday gives the Hugmen a lead of a game and a half over their nearest rivals. The New Yorkers have ten more games to play, while St. Louis is scheduled for nine more.

If the Yankees capture eight of their remaining ten games they will be sure of at least a tie at the end of the campaign even if the Browns go through the rest of the season undefeated. If the Browns lose only one game while the Yanks are winning eight, the final standing would be:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	96	58	.623
St. Louis	95	59	.617

If the Yankees are successful in only five of their remaining ten contests, the Browns would have to win all but two of their nine games to nose out the Hugmen for the American League championship. The final standing then would be:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
St. Louis	94	60	.610
New York	93	61	.604

SCHOOL TENNIS STARTS

League Teams Will Meet on Courts This Afternoon

The first of the Interscholastic League fall sports will get under way this afternoon, when three tennis matches will be staged. It will mark the second year of the tennis league. Last season was an experiment.

The opening tilts will find West Philadelphia High School, champions of last year, crossing racquets with Frankford High on the latter's courts. Central High, the runners-up in 1921, meeting Northeast High at Twenty-ninth and Cambria streets, and Southern High will make the trip to Frankford to engage the Pioneers.

The players who will represent Central High participated in the Pennsylvania State championship on the Woodford courts at Strawberry Mansion, one of their number, Milton Hofkin, captured the title, while Milford Myers, another player of the Central team, was the runner-up.

Celtics Open With Trenton

New York, Sept. 19.—The Original Celtics basketball five will inaugurate their 1922-23 campaign at Madison Square Garden Tuesday evening, October 3, when Trenton, the quintet which was defeated by the Celtics in a thrilling post-season series for the Eastern League championship last winter, will be the opponents in the opening game. Stretch Meehan, tall-end center in basketball, will captain the invaders.

GERMANS MAKE PRE-WAR DEBT PAYMENT

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—The Government, according to the newspapers, has paid to the Allies 10,000,000 gold marks as part of the installment of 28,400,000 due in liquidation of Germany's private pre-war debts to allied nations.

COAL CAR LOADINGS TAKE JUMP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Increases in the number of cars loaded for last Friday are: bituminous, 27,071 cars, an increase over the preceding day of 948 cars and an increase over the average daily loading in September last year of 2314 cars. Anthracite loadings totalled 4701 cars, an increase over the preceding day of 680 cars but 717 cars less than the daily average for September last year.

CRIMSON SQUAD IS GIVEN BIG SLASH

TWENTY-ONE SEEK END JOBS

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 19. Bob Fisher, coach of Harvard's football forces, has brought his big squad of players down to a working basis. He and his assistants have selected seventy-eight of the best men, but before the end of the week's drill at least thirty more players will be sent to the scrub team so that when the Crimson begins work for its first game a week from Saturday there will be about fifty players in varsity uniform.

In the squad are no less than twenty-one candidates for ends, fifteen for the back field, thirteen tackles, thirteen guards, nine quarterbacks and seven men for center rush.

The coaches put in a busy day yesterday. They had the players out on all their protective armor, sending the linemen through their first hard breaking-through drill after a vigorous session at the dummies and the backfield coaches driving their men in squads for more than an hour.

George Owen, Harvard's hero against Yale last year, reported and was in the backfield with Hammond and Doherty, two of the most promising of last year's freshmen backs. Fisher also had the veterans, Roullard, Furs and Gehrke, working in combination.

Phil Coburn reported, but will be out for some time because of an injured foot. Wagner, a big guard of two years ago, loomed up as a fine prospect and received much attention from Tom Woods, Ernest Soucy, who was in charge of the ends last fall, was on the field for the first time this season and helped McComber with the big assortment of wings.

BANKHART AT HANOVER

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 19.—Larry Bankhart has arrived here ready to assume an active part in the preparation of the 1922 Dartmouth football outfit, and there is joy in Hanover.

Bankhart was appointed chairman of a graduate advisory coaching staff, which will function this season for the first time in the Green athletic history, and he will be on hand to give personal instruction for a portion of the season. Bankhart played a major role in the development of the new coaching system which is now being established in the Dartmouth training quarters.

The coaching staff allowed the Dartmouth candidates a complete respite yesterday, but real work will be resumed this afternoon.

A.A.U. AGAIN NAMES SNYDER AS LEADER

ELECT A NEW SECRETARY

James E. Snyder, president of the Enterprise Catholic Young Men's Association, was unanimously re-elected as president of the Middle Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, last night at the annual meeting of the local association, in the offices of the association, at 157 North Fifteenth street.

Charles B. Dutherow, of the Riverton Yacht Club, was re-elected vice president, and George V. Mitchell, of the Shanahan Catholic Club, the secretary treasurer. Mr. Mitchell succeeds Frank A. Leyden, of the Holy Name Catholic Club, and is the only new man to take executive office. All of the men were elected unanimously.

The new Registration Committee, one of the strongest of the Amateur Athletic Committees, and the one in which the entire working of the organization is dependent virtually, will consist of Louis N. Goldsmith, Samuel Dallas, Dr. J. K. Shell, Frank A. Leydon and Luke Smith. The old Committee of Registration consisted of Louis N. Goldsmith, Samuel Dallas, George V. Mitchell and Paul A. Beatty.

The delegates elected to the National Amateur Athletic Union Convention in New York this November were Charles Gebhart, Louis N. Goldsmith, James F. Snyder, George V. Mitchell, Charles B. Dutherow and Miss Hagen, of Atlantic City.

The highest scorer for the season of 1921-22 was E. F. Bates, with 74 points. Bates is a member of the Meadowbrook Club. Samuel Needs, the University of Pennsylvania athlete, competing for the Meadowbrook Club, ran second, with two points less; H. A. Bigelow, formerly of the New York Athletic Association, but a lone star, so to speak, competing unattached, was third, with 49 points, and the well-known harrier, Billy Rittler, just recently detached from the Meadowbrook Club, now unattached, gained 37 points in his old club's favor throughout the year.

Taurus Captures First Race

New York, Sept. 19. Indians Get Sherrod Smith

New York, Sept. 19.—The Cleveland baseball club has signed Sherrod Smith, pitcher, who has been in the minor leagues for the past three years, it became known when Charles Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn Club, announced that the Cleveland Indians had claimed the southpaw after all of the clubs in the National League had waived on him.

UPSET IN PLAY FOR GIRLS' NET CROWN

Misses Mercer and Morrison Defeat Misses Lewis and Maynard for Doubles Title

MISS HERR VICTORIOUS

Misses Zola Mercer and Margaret Morrison, by reason of their victory over Misses Rebecca Lewis and Elizabeth Maynard, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, won the girls' doubles lawn tennis championship of Lansdowne today on the courts of the Lansdowne Playground.

The match proved to be an upset. Miss Maynard was a member of the champion doubles team last year, while Miss Lewis was one of the finalists. They were then expected to come through to the title.

But Misses Mercer and Morrison played brilliant tennis after dropping the opening set and allowing their opponents to get a 4-1 lead in the second session. Showing remarkable speed, the ultimate winners forced the next game to deuce eight times and then won it. Frequent errors by their opponents enabled Misses Mercer and Morrison to win the set and tie the match.

It was 3-all in the third set when the present champions started to play real tennis again. Showing a repertory of strokes that swept their foes right out of the picture, Misses Mercer and Morrison paraded through the next six games to the championship.

Two third-round matches in the singles tourney also were played. Miss Florence Ritler defeated Miss Edith Wilson, 6-0, 6-3, while Miss Margaret Herr eliminated Miss Margaret Husband, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

The match between Misses Herr and Husband was the best. Both played from the back court, each chasing the other from one sideline to the other. Miss Herr made several remarkable "gets," while Miss Husband's service was in great form and she served several aces. The players were almost evenly matched, Miss Herr's superior driving and placements giving her the victory.

GIRLS' SINGLES

WOODFORD TENNIS PLAY PASSES HALF-WAY MARK

Milton Hofkin Loses Feature Match to Daniel Kiefer in Three Sets

The first annual tennis championship tournament of Fairmount Park, being held this week at the Woodford courts, Strawberry Mansion, is now more than half completed.

Play for the Alexander Robinson Cup was featured yesterday by the battle of Milton Hofkin, Penn State boys' champion, when he carried Daniel Kiefer, Cynwyd, a seeded player, to three sets before he lost, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Some other seeded players appeared on the court for the first time in the tournament, and had no trouble advancing to the third and fourth rounds. Herman Dornheim, Belfield; Arthur Reed, Belfield; Harold Lane, Cynwyd, and Sam Gilpin, Belfield, weeded out less skillful players with one-sided scores.

The best players are consistently left to fight it out, no upsets having occurred, and the tennis from now on will bear watching. At 2 P. M. today, A. L. Reed will meet Gus Amsterdam, Woodford Court star, and present South Jersey champion. As each of these players has beaten the other once this season, the rubber match will be close.

At 4 o'clock, Sam Gilpin will try to overcome the steady playing of Lyman Tremaine, and Harold Lane will meet Herman Dornheim.

Giants Need Seven More Games to Clinch Pennant

By defeating the Reds yesterday while the Pirates were breaking even in a double-header with the Phillies, the Giants increased their lead over Pittsburgh to six full games.

The world's champions now have to win only seven of their remaining thirteen games to clinch the pennant. Even if the Pirates are victorious in all of their remaining eleven contests while the Giants are winning seven, Pittsburgh would finish the season a full game behind the New Yorkers. The final standing then would be:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	93	61	.604
Pittsburgh	92	62	.597

If the Giants are successful in only five of their thirteen games, the Pirates would have to win all of their eleven contests to capture the National League flag. In this event the standing of the two contending clubs would be:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Pittsburgh	92	62	.597
New York	91	63	.591
