Stove Sizes Range From $14 to $15—Dealers Announce Their Prices

COSTS $8 TO $12 AT MINES

No retail prices for anthracite higher than $15 a ton are being charged in the city, it being asserted that the dealers setting this figure, because of their higher-priced sources of supply, are actually offering a better price than some other prices are $14.50.

Prices announced by some of the local dealers follow: Atlantic Fuel Company: Large sizes, $15; medium, $14.50; small, $14.

Some of the smaller operators are being forced by high operating costs, it is said, to raise their prices to $12.20 a ton, the lowest price for anthracite, however, have quoted prices below the $8.50 mark.
