Philadelphia Apparatus Reaches Blaze 55 Minutes After Alarm is Turned In

CORNWELLS ENGINE THERE

Citizens of the Berkly district are complaining today over the failure of fire apparatus to reach the scene of a blaze in that section in time to extinguish it.

The fire was in a barn and outbuilding on the farm of E. Paul Knight, near the intersection of 12th and Myrtle streets. Six horses, seventy tons of hay and straw and virtually all of Knight's farm machinery, were destroyed. He estimates the damage at $10,000.

An alarm was turned in at 11:40 o'clock, according to George W. Bower, who lives on Myrtle street, and near the Knight farm. Bower himself turned in the alarm. He said at exactly 12:35 o'clock, after the fire was over, a chemical truck arrived.

The members of the Cornwallis Volunteer Fire Department saw the blaze from their suburban homes and started for the scene with two engines. Engine No. 1, however, being out of order, a blaze that had spread to the residence, Engine No. 2 overtook it in Mechanicsville road.

"If we had started for the Philadelphia firemen to arrive the house and everything would have burned," Bower said today. "The Cornwallis firemen were not even recruited in the manner in which they did their work was commended by all present."

The Berkly engine is about three miles from the scene of the fire and Cornwallis is about the same distance, so there is absolutely no excuse for the delay. A Philadelphia fireman said that he has been able to reach the fire by the time the Cornwallis men did. As it was, they got there after the fire was extinguished.

Major Moore today signed a contract with George H. Evans, Inc. for the construction of a building to be used for patients at the Philadelphia Hospital for the Insane, who are suffering from tuberculosis, as well as mental disease. The contract price is $123,572.88.

FINE HOTEL TO REPLACE CONTINENTAL

Plans are near completion for the building of this hotel, which is to rise on the site now occupied by the old Continental, at Ninth and Chestnut streets. Large subscriptions have been made by substantial men, and more are coming in. The architect is Horace K. Trumbauer.

MAN SHOT IN CHASE AFTER LIQUOR CAR

Police and Bandit Suspects Have Exciting Gun Battle on Broad Street

A man was shot in the neck and three others were arrested, following an exciting chase by police through the northwest section of the city early this morning.

THREE OTHERS ARRESTED

The wounded man, who was taken to the Samaritan Hospital, is Francis C. McHenry, of 1221 East Myrtle street. He was wounded at Thirteenth street and Lehigh avenue during an exchange of shots between motorcycle police and the highwaymen.

Three companions were arrested at the same time. They are George Schneider, Broad and Dauphin streets; James McHenry, 2404 West Warrick street, and Paul Piersol, 2722 C street.

Residents in the neighborhood of Sixteenth and Venango streets were awakened at 3:30 o'clock by the sound of shots and the starting of a motor. Four men had been surprised by policemen while loading several barrels, believed to contain whisky, on a truck.

The robbers were taken unawares by Patrolmen Crowley and Timbers. Instead of surrendering, one of the men pulled a pocket knife on the patrolmen. The bullet missed its mark and the men leaped on the truck, which sped off toward Venango street toward Broad.

Crowley and Timbers gave chase, and as their motorcycle gained on the truck, the bandits opened fire. Timbers leaned forward and took careful aim with his sawed-off shotgun, one of those recently supplied to the bandit squad.

Then followed a rapid exchange of shots as the two vehicles continued toward Broad street. The truck was struck below Thirteenth street when buckshot struck Brown, who was standing on the running board firing at the patrolmen.

The truck came to a sudden halt, and as the patrolmen ran forward the others surrendered.

At a hearing this morning before Magistrate Dona, Timbers identified McHenry as the man who had fired at him as he came up beside the machine. McHenry said that he had no part in the episode as he had merely been on his way to work and knew none of the men who were with him. McHenry said that he had no part in the episode as he had merely been on his way to work and knew none of the men who were with him.

RECONCILIATION MAY END DULLES DIVORCE SUIT

Friends of Phila. Clubman Expect Case in N. Y. Will Be Dropped

A Harbison Dulles, prominent socially in this city, is being sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Grace Grossman Dulles, of New York and Harbison, N. Y.

Mrs. Dulles is the daughter of Mrs. R. T. Haines Halsey, of New York, who was married in August, 1921, when she was eighteen years old. They separated after a few months, and last spring Mrs. Dulles brought action for divorce, alleging misconduct on the part of her husband with an unnamed woman.

The papers were sealed and lawyers for both sides refused to discuss the details of the case. The motion was made returnable before Justice Philip J. McCook on Wednesday.

Mr. Dulles answered his wife's complaint last July, denying the charges and asserting that he was not legally a resident of New York and, therefore, outside the jurisdiction of the courts. Since the separation it is understood Mrs. Dulles has been living in this city.

The divorce action was not unexpected in society, but it was said might have been withdrawn and settlement reached outside of court.

HADLEY CAPITULATES

Finally Accepts Certeilly's Word in Secret Service Fund

The long-standing dispute between Controller Hadley and Director Certeilly has been settled peacefully, it is said. The director has accepted Hadley's word and the names of those who are doing good work in the city will be revealed. Hadley has been living in the city since his resignation from the Police Department.

1200-Room Hotel for Chestnut Street

The new hotel will be well under way. Millions are being spent in the improvement of properties along Market, Chestnut, Walnut and Arch streets alone.

In addition, other millions are being spent in dwelling-house construction throughout the city, thus relieving the housing shortage.

According to the figures of William W. Gumble, statistician of the Bureau of Building Inspection, permits for thirty-seven office buildings were taken out during the eight months ending August 31, 1922, to cost $5,481,490. There were also permits taken out for seventy-two manufacturing buildings of various kinds, to cost $2,352,816.

Among the office buildings under course of construction at the center of the city are the Atlantic Building, at Broad and Spruce streets, twenty stories in height; and the City Center Building, at Broad and Cherry streets, a reconstruction of the old Parkway Building, which is eleven stories high.

Chestnut street shows the greatest activity, the largest amount of building being placed along this valuable front. The largest amount of building at the southwest corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets, will be a six-story building, with shops on the ground floor. The old Pennsylvania Hotel, at Chestnut and Arch streets, is being reconstructed. A five-story structure of the most improved type.

The old Commodore Hotel, at the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, will be razed and a twenty-story office building built there. The building at the northeast corner of Chestnut and Market streets, will be a six-story building, with shops on the ground floor. Work is well under way on the first section of the Public Ledger Building, which will occupy the entire block between Chestnut and Market streets and Sanson streets, while new fronts are being put on several buildings along Chestnut street.

Along Market street there is also activity. The old Packer Hotel is being razed, and on the site, at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Market streets, will rise a seven-story office building, with shops on the ground floor. Work is being done on the first section of the building.

A six-story office building, with theatre on the ground floor, is under construction at the southeast corner of Sixth and Market streets. A new building is being erected at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Market streets, with entrance on Eleventh street. It is not yet determined whether the theatre will be used for motion pictures or music.

A one-story office building is being erected at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Market streets. A new building is being erected at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Market streets, with entrance on Eleventh street.

The driver of the car, Walter D. Gray, Adams street near York, was arrested by police of the Nineteenth and Locust streets. He was charged with driving a car in violation of the Motor Vehicle Law.

Benjamin J. Roberts, of 3621 North Delaware street, was held in $1000 bail for a hearing October 18, by Magistrate Dona, in the Branchtown police station this morning.

A machine driven by Roberts struck Alexander Daniels, seven years old, of 4119 N. 22nd street, at the intersection of Fifth and Wingholme streets. The lad was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, where it was said his skull had been fractured.

N. J. DRY LEADER ARRESTED

Atlantic City Man Said to Have Stolen Seized Whisky

Atlantic City, Sept. 23.—United States Attorney Frederick Pass yesterday afternoon caused warrants to be issued for the arrest of William H. Brown, Federal prohibition group captain for South Jersey, on charges of conspiracy to "steal and embezzle" whisky and alcohol seized in local raids here. The warrants are returnable before Judge Samuel May, who is said to have been a "strong" person for Brown in his investigations here, also were sworn out. Massie and Hickman have been placed under $2500 bail on a hearing, while Brown and Paulshuk were released in $5000 bond each.

CITY MAY EXTEND NEW TRAFFIC PLAN

Trial of System on Broad Street Proves "A Wonderful Success"

Proven Harry Senzoff of the traffic signal is so well liked by the public that the operation of the synchronized traffic control system in North Broad street will be extended to other parts of the city.

The new traffic device was operated for the first time yesterday at a grand street between Spring Garden street and Girard avenue.

"It is a wonderful success," said Councilman Senzoff, "and the system gets what Philadelphia needs. It saves time and is not an accident, and the people on foot are just enthusiastic about it as the motorists."

COSTLY TRIP TO CELLAR

Jeweler Finds Five Watches Missing When He Comes Up

While Samuel Axelman, a jeweler, 1614 Sansborough avenue, was in the cellar to night he says a man entered his store and stole five watches valued at $150.

Asked why he went to the cellar and left several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry unprotected, Axelman said a friend of his lost a ring and he was aiding him to find it.

LAWYERS HERE EYE NEW U. S. JUDGESHIP

Charles L. McKeenan Said to Have Sproull's Backing for Federal Post

GRUNDY MEN ARE IGNORED TAKES UP HER NEW DUTIES

Pennsylvania lawyers and politicians are taking a keen interest in the probable appointments for the twelfth Federal judgeship allotted to Pennsylvania by the new Judicial Appropriation bill.

Another point disturbing politicians is the resentment felt by friends of Joseph R. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, because of the appointment of Grundy to the judgeship.

For the Eastern District one formidable candidate for a judgeship is Charles L. McKeenan, secretary of the Board of Law Examiners. Mr. McKeenan, it is understood, has the endorsement of Governor Sproull and is generally believed that he will be appointed to the judgeship.

Politicians regard Alvin Shebline, of the Erie County bar, as the most likely choice. Mr. Shebline is a close friend of Justice Kephart, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Another situation is presented by the candidacy of Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen, of Fayette County. In that county, which was the home county of the late Senator Joseph R. Sproull, Judge Van Swearingen has been reported by Senator Sproull as the selection of the Fayette County Judge.

Benjamin J. Roberts, the father of Willie White, whose kidnapping thirteen years ago stirred the country, is another candidate. Others mentioned are Judges Reeves, of Clarion; Loughlin, of Indiana; and Moorhead, of Beaver.

McSPARRAN IN 6 SPEECHES ATTACKS GIFFORD PINCHOT

Nominee Denounces "Salary Grab" and "Circus Riding"

John A. McSparran, Democratic nominee for Governor, delivered six speeches in Indiana County yesterday and would in the day with an address at Gifford Pinchot, his Republican opponent.

Mr. McSparran attacked the changes made in the salary of the Pinchot, Governor Sproull and others. He called his opponent a "circus rider" and "a man down to solid ground" with an ignorant and a position on the important issues.

Large crowds greeted the Democratic nominee throughout Indiana County yesterday, even some of the small towns, varying in crowds of from two to four hundred persons.

Plans are being made for a reception to McSparran and other Democratic nominees at the old Robinson Hotel, to be held October 7 in Moose Hall. First arrangements for the rally were made last night when Philadelphia Democrats gathered at the Johnson Club, Chestnut and Broad streets.

PINCHOT TALKS TODAY TO VOTERS AT SCRANTON

McSPARRAN ALSO WILL MAKE ADDRESS AT KIWANIS CONVENTION

Gifford Pinchot will resume his campaign tour today with an address at Scranton. He will speak before the Kiwanis Club Convention at Scranton today and at a mass-meeting at Stroudsburg tonight.

John A. McSparran, the Democratic nominee, also will address the Kiwanis convention at Scranton today.

Mr. Pinchot will be in the field until October 17, when he will speak here. After that time he will be in the field for the first time since he left Philadelphia for his present tour.

BR. PARK FAVORS CAREER FOR GIRLS

It is entirely possible for a girl with a college education to have a career, to follow some line of specialized activity after graduation without interfering with marriage or the duties of the home.

This opinion, which carries a message of hope to the young woman who finds herself torn between the call of the heart and the brain, was voiced by Dr. Marion Edwards Park, the new president of Bryn Mawr College.

There is no one more entitled by experience and natural sympathy than she to speak upon this problem, which confronts every college girl after graduation. Dr. Park, in the course of her many years as dean at Simmons and Radcliffe colleges, has stimulated the right in the thousands which face young women and a grasp of their solution, which delimits those with whom she is to work.

STOWAWAY GOING TO N. Y. TO FIND HER HUSBAND

Uncle Sam Waives Passport to Aid Woman in Search

Mrs. Jewdokin Wilner, the woman stowaway, and her thirteen-year-old son Serafin, who arrived on the steamship Steigerwald from Hamburg two weeks ago, left the Gloucester Detention House of the Bureau of Immigration today to continue her search for her husband, Edward Wilner, who is believed to be in New York. The Department of Immigration in Washington upheld her appeal against being deported, and the Secretary of Labor advised the passport. She has not heard from her husband for more than a year, and will be aided in her search by the Catholic Welfare Society in this city.

Mrs. Wilner was born in Russia. She says her husband was American born, but passed most of his life in Russia. After the revolution she was in a Petrograd prison by the Bolsheviks. She says her husband swapped, and when she was released she followed him to Berlin, and then Portugal, only to learn that he had left for this country. She returned to Hamburg and, with the boy, on the Steigerwald and lived in the coal for more than two days.
