the plan.
All of the these women agreed to serve as ward captains in the sixth annual rollcall of the Southeastern Chapter.

The present needs of the chapter for its peace-time program and the practical plans for the membership drive were outlined by Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, who returned to this city yesterday after a prolonged absence to attend the meeting. Mrs. Drexel, with Mrs. George B. Evans, is acting jointly as chairman for the rollcall.

"Members are the life of the Red Cross," said Mrs. Drexel. "They are just as important as money. The necessity for the success of this rollcall can be easily understood when I tell you bat last year, with an income slightly in excess of $80,000, the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter did work that cost more than $200,000. This was only made possible by the remnant of our war funds which was used largely to care for disabled ex-service men and their needy families."

LOOK FOR "GAS MAN" Police Searching for Impostor Who

Robbed Meter Police are looking for a "gas meter ruse, obtained entrance to the home of Kost, 4208 Girard avenue, and stole $4 from the gas meter.

The man appeared while the Kost family was absent and represented him-self to neighbors as the "gas man." He entered the house through the front, which had been left open by Mrs. Kost, who had gone to a nearby store.

When she returned she found the meter broken. The man had escaped. and neighbors could give only a meager description of him.

SHOT KILLS GIRL

Bullet Fired by Sister Proves Fatal to Rose Plumbo

Rose Plumbo, eighteen months old, who was accidentally shot in the breast by her six-year-old sister Claire, in their home, 2815 Cambridge street, yesterday, died this morning in the Mary Drexel Home.

The children were playing in the din-ing room when Claire picked up her father's pistol, lying on a table, and pulled the trigger.

THE HOME IN GOOD TASTE By Harold Donaldson Eberlein

Color prints are among the most de-lightful things at one's command. The original eighteenth century French and English prints are now almost priceless. but there are excellent reproductions, at fair figures, as well as travesties which should be shunned at any price. This is also true of the old sporting print, so admirable in its proper environment.
Good old Japanese prints (not the Good old Japanese prints that the modern garish things) are highly decorative and the work of the masters is great art. Some are exceedingly rare and costly, but it is surprising how many good examples can still be bought at moderate prices.

Reproductions of miniatures are frequently very attractive and add dainty bits of color decoration. Sepin reproductions, lithographs, etchings and drawings are admirable for libraries, men's rooms, professional of-flees and other rooms of a scholarly or plain character.

With the exception of etchings of figure subjects in the brighter veln, monotints are not so appropriate for use in handsome drawing-rooms and boudoirs. Furthermore, in a room where paintings in gold frames are hung, it is inmivisable to use monotints or other pletures in wooden moldings.
