

Major Leagues End Pennant Season

REDS-GAIN SECOND BY STRONG FINISH

Phils Finish With Win—Yanks Win Pennant by Only One Game Margin

ROGERS HORNSBY HITS .401

OLD-MAN BASEBALL, tarnished from a long season's glare in the spotlight, packed up his togs today and put them in the old cedar chest for another year. The official ending of the season took place yesterday and all remains for the baseball fanatics is the World Series in Father Knickerbocker's book yard.

About the most important occurrence about the season was the fact that the Yankees took second place in the National League by Pat Moran's Reds. A single by Hookie Robertson sent Williams across the plate with the winning run, with one out.

The Yankees captured the pennant, but only by the narrowest margin, one full game. The Senators pounced upon Jones hard and took the final game of the season, 6 to 1. Five runs in the first inning spelled victory for the Washingtonians. Warrenton, a recruit, was the Yankee master from the start.

The Athletics, for the first time since 1914, finished out of the cellar. A victory over Washington Saturday, in which Honnell turned in his twenty-seventh win of the year, helped the A's to within four games of sixth place.

The Phils found Burchell Grimes to their liking for twelve safeties, including Williams' twenty-sixth homer. The season meant much to the Phils. The first crawl out of the cellar for the first time since 1916 and Williams broke all previous home-run records made by Phillie players.

The Giants wound up the regular season by winning and losing. McNamara blanked the champions in the first with two hits, while Yeargin, a recruit, lost the decision in the second, when Higbee, a rookie, hit a homer. Each team had five hits during the seven-inning contest.

The Cards defeated the Cubs and tied the Pirates for third place. Incidentally, Roger Hornsby finished the season with a batting mark of .401.

FEW PLAYERS NOW M'GRAW PRODUCTS

Only Four of 1922 Giants Received Their Tutelage From John J.

BUYS PENNANT WINNERS

In late years Manager John J. McGraw, of the Giants, has almost ceased to develop young ball players, and due somewhat to the competition of the Yankees for the city's patronage has been forced more and more to go into the market and buy his pennant winners with the coin of the realm.

McGraw has developed marvelous players and has combined them effectively in his time, but of the present team only four of those who can be classified as regulars received their tutelage from John J. The others were bought or traded from other major league clubs or picked up as virtually finished products from the minors.

Of the first-string pitchers, Arthur Nehf and Jess Barnes, veterans of last year's series, and Hugh McCullum, who was obtained from Boston. Catcher Frank Snyder was taken from St. Louis several years ago. Earl Smith made a record in the International League, but he bears the trademark of a McGraw product.

At first base George Kelly learned most of what he knows from McGraw, as did Frisch, the regular second baseman. At shortstop Captain Davy Bancroft came from Philadelphia and at third base Heinie Groh, one of the Giants, has spent too much time in Cincinnati to be included among the home-grown.

Nor is McGraw's record bolstered by the insertion of Johnny Rawlings into the infield. He has been there much of the summer, due to the series of injuries to Groh. Frisch has gone from second to third and Rawlings has subbed at second, but, like his mate at shortstop, Rawlings came from the Quakers.

In the outfield only Ross Young is considered a McGrawite. "Irish" Meusel came with the troop from the Quaker City, as did Casey Stengel.

The quartet of men that McGraw trained who are on the team, however, are near the top of the league at their positions.

Driving with ATLANTIC and Confidence

There is a fine sense of security in knowing just what your motor can do—and that it can always be depended on to do it.

A good battery, dependable starter, sure-fire ignition and quick-acting, full-powered gasoline—these are the things that put confidence into the hand that drives the car.

"Quick-acting, full-powered gasoline"—that means ATLANTIC! Atlantic is refined to meet the most exacting requirements of present-day motors, and to operate efficiently under the widest range of speed, load and temperature conditions a motor gasoline encounters.

It is a balanced gasoline, scientifically combining the volatility for easy vaporizing, the stability for high expansive force, and a uniform "chain of boiling points" for assuring complete combustion.

There is no other gasoline like Atlantic. It is more than good gasoline; it is RIGHT gasoline, always uniform, always dependable—and a-l-w-a-y-s o-b-t-a-i-n-a-b-l-e.
