Nancy Wynne Talks of Miss Carpenter's Marriage to Ensign Dearth in Norfolk Saturday—She Tells of Recalled Invitations for Geary Tea October 14

WELL, Edie Carpenter certainly put something over on us when she went down to Norfolk on Saturday and married the man of her heart, two days before he was obliged to sail for Constantinople. Very few of Edie's friends knew she was engaged even, so the announcement of her marriage was a great surprise.

Her husband is Ensign Michael Dearth, U. S. N., and while he was obliged to sail for Constantinople with his ship, he has already sent in his resignation from the navy and will be free in December, I understand. Then he will return to this country and go into business. Edie in the meantime will stay with her sister, Mildred Ellicott, in Baltimore. Mildred, you remember, surprised us all by marrying Billie Ellicott without having announced her engagement, either.

I saw Edith out at the polo game one day a couple of weeks ago with her great friend, Antoinette Geyelin. She had returned from Europe several months before and was looking stunning in a white wool dress. She is one of the twin daughters of Mrs. Samuel Emlen Carpenter. Her father having married again, lives in New England, though at present he is in Italy. Mrs. Carpenter usually calls herself Mrs. Nellie J. Crouse Carpenter. Edith's twin sister is Eleanor Carpenter and she has a brother, Samuel E. Carpenter, Jr.

MR. AND MRS. JACK GEARY have recalled their invitations for the tea they were to have given for Bunny on October 14 because of Mrs. Charles Custis Harrison's death. Mrs. Geary, you know, was Miss Mary Harrison, a daughter of Mr. Alfred Harrison, who is Mr. Charles Custis Harrison's brother. The other parties that have been planned for Mary later in the winter will be given, but this one, following so close upon Mrs. Harrison's death, has been called off. Mrs. Charlie Harrison, Jr., was to have had a meeting and luncheon at her home in Villanova today for the council members of the Philadelphia Girl Scouts. Owing to Mrs. Harrison's death, however, the meeting and luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. John Hampton Barnes at Devon.

THE more I see of the silk knit and wool knit frocks the more stunning I think them. Just the other day I met Mrs. Aleck Yarnall in a perfectly beautiful gown of black silk knit studded with large white flowers all over it. She looked very smart and her big black hat was most becoming. Marie Louise Baird, the Matthew Baird, Jr.'s, daughter, who is a leal of the season, wore an exquisite pink silk knit frock out at the Horse Show one day last week. Over it she had a cape of pearl gray crepe de chine made with a gray fur collar, and her hat was pink. Marie Louise is dark with brilliant coloring and could not have selected a more becoming costume.

THE second race meet of the season will be held at the Huntingdon Valley Club on Saturday of this week. Last Saturday there was a meet at Whitemarsh, and if I am not mistaken every Saturday afternoon this month will be devoted to racing. And can you blame horse-lovers for wanting to be out and riding in such weather? It really is the most wonderful time of the year, to my thinking.

Rush Toland will ride his great cross-country horse Lakewood on Saturday and Joe Ewing his fine horse Daybreak. I understand the cross-country race will be ridden entirely by the owners of the horses or their friends; there will be no professional riders, and that makes it more interesting than ever. Personally I would not want to miss it.

MRS. T— and Mrs. W— went to call on Mrs. D— recently. While waiting for her to come down to see them they engaged in conversation. Small Mary, Mrs. D.'s little five-year-old daughter, was in the room and had spoken prettily to them as they entered, but at their suggestion returned to her picture book while they talked.

Thinking she was not paying attention and feeling sure she was too young to understand, Mrs. T. said to Mrs. W., referring to the little girl: "Not very P R E T T Y, is she?" when to their mutual horror little Mary looked up and said, "No, but very S M A R T."

"Pop" Grout didn't even take time off for lunch
A HARD day's work at the office today and a harder one ahead tomorrow. Poor old Pop had his hands full keeping his wife and youngsters in the style to which they had accustomed themselves. The children learned to neglect their old-fashioned dad and even Mother preferred bridge to home life. And then one day the veil was torn from their pleasure-seeking eyes and they saw their father as the grand old man that he was!

Paramount's Gigantic Production
The LOVES OF PHARAOH
A marvelous cast enacts the drama. Peggy Server, one of the most beautiful women in Europe, plays the slave girl. Others are Emil Jannings, the king in "Deception," Paul Wegener and Harry Liedtke.
"Every word of praise that was said of 'Passion' or of 'Deception' may be repeated and multiplied in speaking of Ernest Lubitsch's third and master effort, 'The Loves of Pharaoh.'"—Evening Ledger.

"In addition to the interesting plot and pictorial beauty of the photoplay, it presents a popular cast," says the Inquirer.
"Cecil B. De Mille's reputation for lavishness receives a further boost in this production," says the Ledger.
"It amazes," says the Record.
"Full of thrills, good acting and spectacular scenes," says the North American.
"Characters never cease to be interesting," says the Evening Ledger.
"Excellently cast and well produced," says the Evening Bulletin.
