McGraw's Club Has Edge in Pitching, Batting, Fielding and Base Running-National Leaguers Show More Mental Alertness Than Huggins' Athletes

By STONEY McLINN

New York, thet. 7 WANT to know who's the maidest man in the world today? Yes, that's the chap, the Yankee supporter who het's to 5 that the American Lengue champions would defeat the Giants in the 1922 World Series - or the Philadelphia-Boston series, as Harry Bullion so aprly put it after he can down the two batting orders and found that practically all the players had come from the ivery markets conducted by Messrs, H. Frazee, C. Mack and W.

The third name of the series - set that, the third game, with the Giant's the home child, and partitle the period games from Thomeun - was enough to take the heart out of , as many the favored "... Youlds. In probling, learning, fielding and base-ranging, and methat gal-important mental abertaess which wins buil games, the Granes truvered over their appenents like a Loui ever a

John Joseph McGraw's main is going to be hard to hear now. If we were doing the prediction stuff we would opine that three more games would finish this year's rumpus; in fact, it would not be surprising to see the "Mints." as the official announcer will have it, win the next two.

Again, may we not esk where, oh where, is the superior pitching and the crashing situals we were fold the Yanks would show? Jee Bush gave the National Leaguers speed and they bandwird out a victory. Bob Shawkey displayed his briffing change of page and all he get was a most meant factors draw. White Heyr, the has wander of the 1921 series, tried to stop them with Mis fast-brenking curve, and they pand ed upon him with rotate vigor

On the attack the Yangs have been even more disappointing to their adherents. In the three games the Grants have delivered thirty-one safe hits to nineteen for the Haggins band

Babe and Groh Squabble

BARE RUTH enlivered the third game by going out to play tit-for-tat with Heinic Grob. In the urst tuste Heinic direct the second, spikes high and foremost, and he was accessed of attempting to gash, Ward's arms. apparently had been awaiting an opportunity to make Grob remize that high dives were not considered good form by the American Lenguers.

The chance for the lesson came in the forest inning of this third game, when Babe was on first, having been let by a patched ball, and Bab Mouse! poked one at Frisch which Frankis heated. The half rolled into right field and the Bambino tut on a terrific burst of speed and thought it would care

Babe approached third at too speed to find that Grob was holding the ball ready to tag him. New Heine was standing directly in Babe's prewhich was unnecessary. Anylow, Ruth thought it was the right and privilege to reach that bug, and he crashed into Grob at top speed. Wow The short of the collision could be feet in the stands. Heinic netunile was lifted manthe air and deposited behind third base. He picked himself up a core dista and engry athlete. Groh one reads for fight and it required all the isomethy of Umpire Hildebrand to restrain him,—though we noticed that Herrie's notice. for battle became more intense when Bahe had turned his back and was walking toward right field The amusing feature of it all, however, came at the end of this inclus, when Ruth, in going to the Yank digout, passed Heinia at third Italia stopped long enough to give a public Hinstration of just how Henrie and done his spikes-tirst dive at Ward. That is how the multiplie knew that Babe was playing tit-for-tat, though it did not stop lond booting early time Babe appeared at hat, and equally noisy demonstrations of regard on the part of the big boy's friends.

THE umpiring in the third game did not result in any antagonisty demonstrations. Things will be all right so long as Mr. Hilde. brand does not have an opportunity to postpone another game.

TNCIDENTALLY, we feel duty bound to recall that here wrenth which as had slipped to Judge Landis as a result of his courageous march across the field after Hildebrand called the second game. # PUTTING IS CHIEF FACTOR ON LINKS

Hagen's Work on Greens Big Reason for Lead Against Sarazen

STYMIE IS IN EVIDENCE

TWIR years the value of putting has T been harped on by professionals and critics alike. What does it profit a erities alike. What does it profit a man to get on the green in one or two savage clouts and then take three putts?

The answer is easy. None at all.

Yesterday the question cropped up again in the biggest match that has ever been played in the United States—the seventy-two-hole till hetween Walter Hagen and thene Saragen for the channels abin of the world and a purse of States.

It was Walter's uncanny accuracy on the greens yesterday that enabled him to take the lead over Sarazen in their informal battle for the championship of the world. Hagen has always been recognized as one of the greatest butters in the game, and though Sara-zen himself is no slouch on the greens. he falled occasionally, and that spelled the lead for the British open champion. Patting also was the principal rea-son for the victory of Jesse Sweetser and John Anderson over Max Marston and W. C. Fewmes in the Lesley Cup matches Anderson was on a putting spree, sinking numerous six-footers and once dropping in one from tairty feet

The styme, which has cropped up frequently in remai so frequently in recent touthaments, cropped up twice in the Hugen-Sarazen match, but Walter negotiated both of them the was laid Mass Rolen Meshau by Mrs. Caleb Fox in the Berthelian Cup tantobes at Huntingden Valley, and

Scott's Comeback

Roper's Idea

By THE OBSERVER

Morrisette's Art

WONDER how Garry Hermann and Pat Moran feel today after digesting the box score won for the Glants by Deacon Scott? You know, early in spring Garry raved in his own inimitable style because Scott had been wished on the Cincinnati Club by the Braves. Garry would have none of him and tried to turn him back on George Washington Grant and Boston, whence he came. But Grant considered the deal closed and wouldn't take Scott back. Garry took on appeal to Judge Landis, but the commissioner kept his hands off the Hermann wasn't going to be stuck with a cripple like Scott on his payrof and he turned him loose, unconditionally. Scott worked hard to get his sore arm back in condition. He took hot baths and allowed the hot sun to bake his weary whip. Then slowly and patiently he drilled. Finally he knew the old soup bone was in shape. Did he go back to Hermann to prove his former boss was wrong? He did not. He sought John McGraw and whispered the words of his regained hope into the ears of the Little Napoleon. McGraw harkened and heeded. He gave him a trial. He made good. Final pitching records for the season show that Scott won eight games and lost two for the Giants this year during the pennant campaign.

Would Hermann have paid Scott's salary during his nursing in exchange for eight victories? You can wager the pay envelope he would have. Scott might have meant the flag to the Reds. Scott has been kicked all over the place in the major leagues and by his own tenacity and self-confidence he carried himself to the fame of a shutout pitcher in a World Series. Well done, Deacon, old top!

ARON WARD must have taken a lot of personal satisfaction out of A seeing Elmer Smith fan when he gave up his bat to the Yank pinch-hitter yesterday.

Hospitality of Bill Roper DILL ROPER has the right idea. At his suggestion Princeton will stage a Ddinner tonight in honor of the Virginia football team. All the Southern players and the coaching staff have been invited.

Such hospitality is certain to cement relations between the two institutions. The Tigers may be tough football players, but they plan to make themselves In speaking about the dinner recently, Roper stated that he hoped Princeton would be financially able to dine every visiting football team. And he wants the players of the two teams to mingle in a friendly spirit. "Enemies on the field and friends off the gridiren," is his slogan. And why not? Football is a tough sport. There's many a hard knock given and taken and many a heated word exchanged, but the fact remains that football is a

Getting Away With It IT IS funny how some fellows get away with acts that, were they committed by some one else, would bring stiff punishment.

Since he had been the hig Pooh-Bab of Baseball, Judge Landis has placed enough ball players on the blacklist to stock up a couple of pennant winners. If a player jumped his contract or appeared against ineligible players he was promptly set out of professional baseball for a period of five years. The names of Jim Vaughn, Claude Hendrix, Scott Perry, Dick Kerr, Walter

Kinney and scores of others are only a few on that imposing list. They incurred the displeasure of the commissioner-and off went their heads. Yet, consider the case of Bill Morrisette. Airy, fairy William has shown his wares several times in the big leagues. but never with particular success. He is one of those flowers who bloom in the

This season he started with Minneapolis, was shifted to St. Joseph, in the Western League, and then passed on to Moline.
