

GOOD SLOGAN FOR ANY WEEK. The poster campaign is part of the program being staged by New York in its Safety Week doings

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN AND WILLIAM G. McADOO snapped while in conversation at an outdoor breakfast given by two Los Angeles bankers

H. M. S. MARLBOROUGH photographed while going at full steam to Constantinople to re-enforce the British fleet now stationed there.

COMFORTING SMYRNA'S ORPHANS. Miss Sarah Corning, of New York, Near East Relief nurse and Armenian orphans rescued from the great fire

RESCUING SEWING MACHINE. Greek priest in Smyrna's fire saves a precious household article. Mr. H. C. Jacquith, Near East Relief director, snapped picture

MORE BUILDINGS FOR GERMAN-TOWN Y. M. C. A. H. E. Baton and Harry Gill, Jr., turn first ground

WHEN THE SUN WAS SHINING BRIGHT ON BROAD STREET. Two fair Philadelphians, wearing gowns of the latest fall fashion

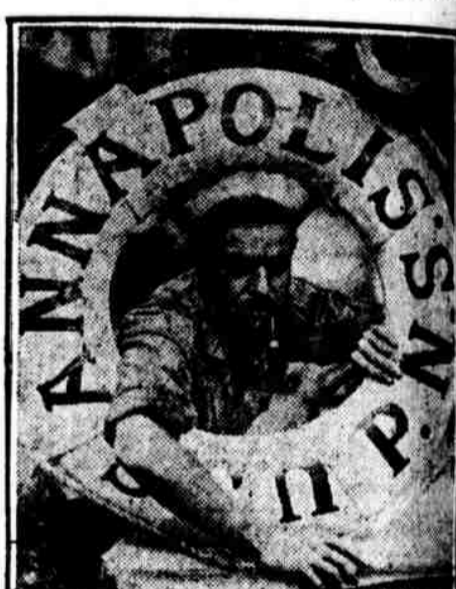

TWO YOUNG LADIES OF DETROIT, who are returning from a three months' trip through Europe. Left to right, Misses Alice L. Loveland and Mary J. Curtiss

BACK HOME. Miss Mary Rutledge Slattery, of Chestnut Hill, returned from Spring Lake, N. J.

DR. J. SOLIS-COHEN, on Broad street, on his way to the Union League

RESTING. After long cruise the school-ship Annapolis is tied up here as new recruits are sought. We show you chief cadet engineer T. S. Aveson

WASHINGTON DEBUTANTE. Miss Virginia Edwards, recently added to the list of those who will make their bow to society this season

MET IN WEST BY A PHILADELPHIA "AUTO" TOURIST. Colonel Ray E. Gardner, who served in Civil and World War, lives at Livingston, Montana

LEADER OF A SPEEDY FOOTBALL ELEVEN. We show you Captain Schance, of the Penn Charter team

PENN STATE CAMPAIGN MASCOTS. The Nittany "Lion" and the goat are very often seen as the students battle to swell the $2,000,000 campaign fund

RETURNS FROM GERMANY. Miss Virginia Rea, of New York, was wearing a turban with Chinese trimmings

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

HOME OF THE LATE CHANDLER PRICE, as it looked on the north-west corner of Thirty-eighth and Chestnut streets, thirty years ago. An apartment house now covers the site. Linden T. Harris is the contributor

VISITING PHILADELPHIA. Mila Jeanne Modave, a Belgian cellist, who was decorated by King Albert

MRS. R. E. HEPBURN

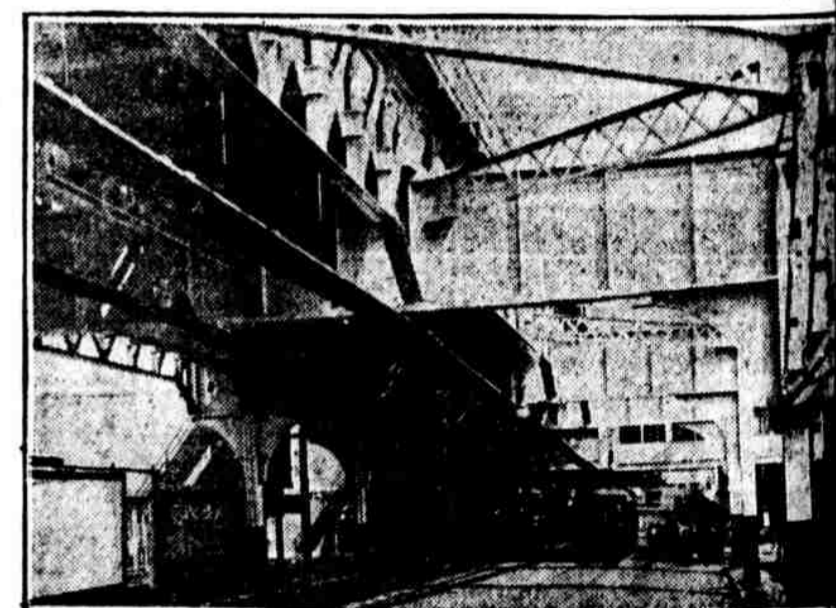

MISS IDA M. WEIGER

Aiding the Knights of Columbus in preparing for their annual reception to be held at the Academy of Music on Thursday evening

PALS. Miss Cora Lathrop, of Birmingham, and Mike, met at Hot Springs, Virginia

THE GREAT WHITE WAY. Frankford avenue is very bright in the section north of Pratt street, where the standards and beams of the Frankford "L" have been painted white

FATHER AND SON PLAY GOLF. M. D. Long and his boy, John G. Long, of Bala, were found as they waited their turn to tee off

LIEUTENANT L. J. MAITLAND and his smile of confidence. All ready for the famous Pulitzer Trophy Meet, which starts in Detroit, on Saturday. The best pilots of the U. S. Navy and Army will be in the American teams

FRENCH REPRESENTATIVE. Capt. Georges Thenault

PILOTS BOUSSETRET (left) AND D'OR in French group

"O GIRL" is going over the fence at Piping Rock. L. L., with Miss Eleanor Langley, of New York