By JOSEPH T. LABRUM THERE is something new every day in the rehabilitation process that is going on with the University of Pennsylvania football team. Yesterday was Tuesday and one of the few second days of the work-a-day week that scrimmage drill has been put off the schedule at Franklin Field. Not only was the rugged work dropped for the day but only the lightest kind of drills was engaged in by the squad, "They are working us right this rear" said one player. "We are not battered hard all week in scrimmage drills and feel that when we enter a game we are in excellent shape for the fight of our lives. Too much work is as bad as too little, but I think this year we have that happy medium that
