

PARADE TO MARK COLUMBUS DAY

More Than Fifty Societies Will March to Monument in Fairmount Park

K. OF C. RECEPTION TONIGHT

A parade with a demonstration at Columbus Monument in Fairmount Park, in which more than fifty societies will take part, and the annual reception of the Knights of Columbus will be the principal celebrations today marking the observance of Columbus Day.

The parade which will be staged by members of more than fifty societies of American citizens of Italian origin will move from Eleventh and Fitzwater streets.

It will be a civic and industrial parade, concluding with exercises at the Columbus monument on Belmont drive, when Mayor Moore, Italian Consul General Luigi Sillitti, John M. Queroli, chairman, and others will speak.

The fifth division of the parade will be made up of floats representing various industries of Italians.

War Veterans in Line
World War veterans of the American and Italian Armies, under the command of Captain Henry Lanzetta, will march at the head of the line.

Anthony Nussa is chief marshal, with John Ramagli, marshal of the first division; Peter Donato, marshal of the second division; John Russo, marshal of the third division, and Henry D'Orazio, marshal of the fourth division.

The parade will march south on Eleventh to Federal, to Broad, around east side of City Hall, where the Mayor and the Italian Consul and a committee consisting of Emanuel V. H. Nardi, Thomas A. Del Vecchio and Joseph P. Bartilucci will review the parade from a stand on the north side of the building, thence out the Parkway to Fairmount Park, through the Park to Girard avenue, to Paradise avenue.

to Belmont avenue, to Columbus monument.
This column will place wreaths on the statue of McKinley, at City Hall, and on the monuments of Washington and Lincoln, Verdi and Columbus in the Park.

The elaborate reception of the Knights of Columbus, the most notable Catholic event of the autumn, will be held in the Academy of Music, using the main floor and the Foyer for general dancing and for special exhibition dancing.

The patriotic feature will be a tableau recalling the founding of America.

There will be delegations from each of the councils in and near Philadelphia and a number of supreme officers are expected to attend. There will be a competition between the various councils for making the largest donation. The proceeds will go toward the building fund for the new headquarters, 1324 North Broad street.

Dancing Exhibitions
An exhibition in dancing will be given by Miss Alice Langdon and Charles J. Voil. The grand march will be led by Robert E. Bowes, chairman of the Philadelphia Council, and Miss Marcelle V. Conway, of 4150 North Broad street. Music will be furnished by a twenty-five-piece orchestra, a twenty-five-piece band and a ten-piece orchestra.

GRANDMA GETS TIP ON WAY TO BE AS CHIC AS A FLAPPER

Philadelphia Fashion Show Also Gives Sartorial Advice to Men as Well as Beautiful Debutantes

The Philadelphia Fashion Show opened today in the Metropolitan Opera House and will continue until Saturday.

The show represents what Philadelphia has to offer in the way of creations of its fashionable modistes. The ready-to-wear features are emphasized, few dressmakers being accepted as exhibitors.

It was demonstrated at the last show that not only were Philadelphia women and those from outside sections widely interested in the creations modistes have to offer, but the men were not far behind in their interest in things sartorial.

Therefore it was planned to give more men his innings and show the discriminating male wearer just how much his city can do for him in the important matter of dress. In addition the management of the show has taken a tip from Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, wife of the late Mayor, and considers the tastes and desires of the older woman who wishes to dress with appropriate smartness.

A pantomime, "The Debutante in Dreamland," that gives a personal touch to the show, will be presented each afternoon and evening. It shows the various costumes that would figure in a girl's wedding plans, with a wedding scene as a finale.

BIG ELEPHANT RECAPTURED: VICTIM OF FRAYED NERVES

Swam River and Penetrated Alligator-Infested Swamp

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 12.—(By A. P.)—The circus elephant which for forty-eight hours has been celebrating in the vicinity of Wilmington by wrecking everything in sight was chained again today to a stake at a quiet spot near Cedar Point while her wearied keepers kept her supplied with extra rations of peanuts and other delicacies to "calm her frayed nerves."

The big animal escaped from a circus here Tuesday morning after becoming frightened by the barking of dogs. She went through fences, flower beds, a Negro cabin and a dye factory, among other things, and turned over several automobiles.

In addition she swam Cape Fear River and penetrated the alligator-infested Brunswick swamp without apparent damage to herself. She was recaptured late yesterday and her keepers said she would remain at Cedar Point until her nervous condition improved.

Notice of suit for $5000 damage caused to its plant by the elephant has been filed by the Eureka Dye Works here, and various residents want their lawns, fences and automobiles paid for.

CHILD HYGIENE MOVEMENT HAS HARDING'S APPROVAL

Work Should Never Lack Support, President Writes to Convention

Washington, Oct. 12.—(By A. P.)—The love for children was eulogized as "the tenderest sentiment of civilization," in a letter from President Harding here of the annual meeting of the American Child Hygiene Association.

"I have been much interested," said President Harding's letter, "to know of the twelve years' successful work of the American Child Hygiene Association. Regard for the importance of child care is almost as general as that personal love for children which is the tenderest sentiment of civilization. "In serving twelve years as a coordinating agency for hundreds of active organizations that work for the child and in stimulating nationally the further growth of such effort, the association has rendered great service. "Your work is one which, in our country, cannot lack for financial support, unselfish personal aid or high leadership. Accept my congratulations on your past accomplishments and my best wishes for the future."
